TIMBER LAND NOTICE
 United States Land Office, Lakeview, Oregon, August 20, 1906. Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada and Washington Territory," as extended to all the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1892, William T.
 Garrett, of Bly, county of Klamath,
 State of Oregon, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No.
 3167, for the purchase of the NW 1/4
 SE 1/4, N 1/2 SW 1/4, SW 1/4 SW 1/4, of Section 26, in Township No. 35 S., Range 17 E., W. M. and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before Register and Receiver at Lakeview, Oregon, on Thursday, the 8th day of November, 1906. He names as witnesses,
 S. C. Hamaker, Albert Walker, Walker
 Pollard and J. P. Parker all of Bly, Oregon. Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 1st day of November, 1906.

COMPOUND INTEREST

The trouble with most advertisers is that they expect immediate returns of large proportions. One prominent advertiser illustrates the principle of advertising in this way:

"The money expended for advertising is the same as if placed at interest. The profits from the advertising are virtually the interest on the investment."

"The sums spent for advertising are properly chargeable to capital account because the resulting good will is something that has value, which, if the advertising has been properly done, can usually be sold for the face value of the investment."

"The rate of interest is determined by the skill with which the investment is made."

"Just as the quickest way to increase invested wealth is by compounding the interest, just so the quickest way to realize results from advertising is to compound the returns."—Advertising Experience.

Advertisers get good returns on the amount invested in our columns. We reach the people.

WORK OXEN IN THE EAST

The New Hampshire experiment station has been keeping an account of the cost of feeding a horse that weighed 1,200 pounds for a year, he being kept at moderately hard work, and says that it costs $74.32. In round numbers, then, it costs $150 a year to feed a pair of such horses, and the cost of shoeing would be about $15 more, while repairs to harness, and keeping it cleaned and oiled would make another $10. Then the ordinary farmer will not make such a pair of horses last more than ten years, and many would use them up in half that time. Say that they cost $300, which is not a fancy price, and yet does not mean a cheap pair that cannot do a fair day's work. Can they do any more work on a farm than a yoke of good four-year-old oxen? Can they do any work that the oxen cannot, unless it be on moving machine or reaper? We know that the oxen can work best in swamps or among stumps. It costs less for the yoke and chains than for harness. They are more easily taken care of. When not at work they can feed in the pasture, and they require little grain feed, unless working very hard or being fattened, and if well cared for after three or four years at work they can be sold for beef for much more than they cost at three years old, while if the farmer raises them himself they seem to have cost him nothing.

More than one farmer who fails to make much more than a fair living at his business will find upon investigation that it costs him from $300 to $400 a year and some of them much more than that for a horse team to do the work that his father used to do with his oxen. His father raised his calves, trained them and worked them. Sometimes he sold one or two yokes of steers, sometimes a yoke of fat oxen. When he did so it seemed almost like finding so much money, and often he put it in the bank or let it out on mortgage.—American Cultivator.

Round Barn Disapproved.
 I have no experience with round barns, but those I have seen have in my judgment no advantage over the usual rectangular form and have many disadvantages. No expression so completely fits the case as the effort to fill a square hole with a round plug. The round barn had its inception in the thought that more space could be inclosed with the same outline in the circle than any other form. Of course that is true and would perhaps hold good if every inside form was built accordingly. But we construct every partition inside with a right angle, and so there comes waste. To illustrate, if cow stalls are made to fit the circle and are wide enough toward the center they are too wide on the outer or larger circumference, and vice versa, or if one wishes to drive around the outside the passage will have to be from one to two feet wider, depending upon the size of the barn, in order to make the turn. While a given area may be more cheaply sided up in the cylindrical form, the roof will cost more to build. In brief, I would not build a round barn, concludes a Rural New Yorker correspondent.

Special Shoeing.
 To shoe a driving filly that forges and interferes behind, the Breeder's Gazette, Chicago, advises as follows:
 Use shoes squared at the toe all around a about two inches. Allow the foot to project naturally, only rounding a little to prevent splitting. Use a very light shoe behind, not projecting behind the hoof at either branch, and a heavy shoe in front. If the mare is of medium size, make the hind shoe five ounces, front one twelve ounces, no calks, and do not drive in the mud. Later if mud driving is necessary use four low small calks to each shoe, as shown.

Beauty and Utility.
 The highest art in breeding animals is to combine beauty and utility. In most animals "beauty is vain" without utility; in some, utility alone is not sufficient; in all, the combination is the most valuable, affirms National Stockman. The 2:10 trotter with beauty is very valuable for a gentleman's driver after his turf usefulness is past; without it he is not worth half so much. The dairy cow which combines beauty and utility is sought after by breeders who realize the value of appearances as well as of performance. One of this kind brought $2,500 at a sale recently and with either quality absent could not have commanded a tenth of that sum. And the same principle holds good in other things. Beauty has a money value when combined with utility whether in an animal, a farm or a marketable product.

To Republicans.
 We are anxious to have every Republican in close touch, and working in harmony with the Republican National Congressional Committee in favor of the election of a Republican Congress.

The Congressional campaign must be based on the administrative and legislative record of the party, and, that being so, Theodore Roosevelt's personality must be a central figure and his achievements a central thought in the campaign.

We desire to maintain the work of this campaign with popular subscription of One Dollar each from Republicans. To each subscriber we will send the Republican National Campaign Text Book and all documents issued by the Committee.
 Help us achieve a great victory.

Notice to students and parents. Owing to the continued warm spell, I have decided to make Monday Sept. 10th the opening day of the Lakeview Business College instead of August 27th, as advertised some weeks ago. I have employed a competent instructor, and satisfaction is guaranteed. I would be glad to hear from any one who contemplates attending, and will furnish full information upon application. Until further notice, address:

A Square Deal
 Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests, and potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz., pure alcohol.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal Passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.
