The Illinois Central

maintains unexcelled service from the West to the East and South. Making close connections with trains of all transcontinental lines, passengers are given their choice of routes to Chicago, Louisville, Memphis and New Orleans, and through these points to the far east.

Prospective travelers desiring information as to the lowest rates and best routes are invited to correspond with the following representatives.

B. H. Trumbull, Commercial Agent, 142 Third St., Portland, Ore.

J. C. Lindsey, Trav. Passenger Agent 142 Third St., Portland, Ore.

Paul B. Thompson Passenger Agent Colman Building Seattle Wash.

Popular and Picturesque.

The only thing necessary to make the Denver and Rio Grande the most popular, as it has ever been known the most pleasant and most picturesque way to cross the continent, has come about. This is the establishment of through sleeping car service.

In connection with the O. R. & N. a through Pullman Standard Sleeper is now run from Portland to Denver, leaving Portland at 8.15 p. m., arriving at Salt Lake at 8.40 a. m., the second morning, leaving Salt Lake at 3.50 p. m. and arriving at Denver at 4.20 p. m. the following day. This schedule gives passengers seven hours stop-over in Salt Lake, affording an opportunity to visit the Mormon Capital as well as a day light ride through the grandest scenery in the world.

For reservation in this car and for illustrated booklets picturing the scenery contiguous to the Denver & Rio Grande, proving it to be the "Scenic Line of the World," write to W. C. McBride, General Agent, 124 Third street, Portland.

If You are Not Particular

don't travel over the Illinois Central, as any old road will do you and we don't want your patronage; but if you are particular and want the best and mean to have it, ask the ticket agent to route you via the ILLINOIS CENTRAL, the road that runs through solid vestibule trains between St. Paul, Omaha, Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis, and New Orleans.

No additional charge is made for a seat in our reclining chair cars which are fitted with lavatories and smoking rooms, and have a porter in attendance.

Rates via the ILLINOIS CENTRAL are the lowest and we will be glad to quote them in connection with any transcontinental line.

TIMBER LAND NOTICE.

United States Land Office, Lakeview, Oregon, November 22, 1906.

Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled, "An act for the Sale of Timber Lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada and Washington Territory," as extended to all the Public Land states by act of August 4, 1892, Kate C. Ogles, of Klamath Falls, county of Klamath, state of Oregon, has filed in this office her sworn statement No. 3362, for the purchase of the NW 1/4 SW 1/4 and SW 1/4 NW 1/4 Sec. 35, T. 34 S., R. 17 E., W. M., and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish her claim to said land before County Judge of Klamath county, at his official place of business at Klamath Falls, Oregon, on Monday, the 4th day of February, 1907.

She names as witnesses: J. R. Horning, Robert Casey, Chas. H. Dusenberry, A. O. Horning all of Klamath Falls, Oregon. Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 4th day of February, 1907.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.

2 BRICK COURT.
Temple Chambers in which Oliver Goldsmith Amused Himself.
Few buildings link the London of the present day with so many of the literary characters of the London of the past as does the house at 2 Brick court, Middle Temple. The dominant memory which clings around it is that perpetuated by a handsome tablet on its front elevation bearing the words:
In these chambers died Oliver Goldsmith On the 4th of April, 1774.

and a medallion of the poet. Goldsmith's, however, was seldom a lonely figure, and he gathered around him at Brick court all the wit of the metropolis of his day. In 1765, on the strength of the success of "The Good Natured Man" and the fact that he was making some £500 a year, "Goldie" expended £400 on chambers "up two pair right" and fitted them with showy carpets, gilt mirrors and furniture extravagantly upholstered in blue velvet. Thus equipped, he embarked on a course of expenditure in which fine clothes for himself, grand dinners to literary coterie and pretty trifles for 'venal beauties all bore costly parts. Johnson, Dr. Arne, Percy Reynolds, Francis and Bickerstaff were among the frequent visitors at 2 Brick court, but their arrival was not the cause of so much concern to Goldsmith's coteries as that of some other of the poet's guests. It was the little supper parties to Goldsmith's young friends of both sexes that drew from the studious Blackstone, hard at work on his famous "Commentaries" in the rooms below "Goldie's," bitter protests against the racket of his "reveling neighbor."
Both "The Traveler" and "The Vicar of Wakefield" were published soon after Goldsmith moved into Brick court, but the income they brought him was insufficient to withstand the drain made on his resources by his extravagance his generosity and his taste for gambling. Owing £2,000, unable to obtain further advances from his bookseller and seeing no way out of his embarrassments, Goldsmith broke down in spirits and health. He had to leave those windows from which he used to watch the rooks in the grove, which once stood where now is Elm-court, and, as he wrote, "often amused myself with observing their plan of policy." Goldsmith returned thither, nevertheless, to die, and though he was carried to his last resting place through rows of weeping women the benches of the Temple appear to have valued him so little that the very place of his burial became forgotten. For that neglect the tablet came as tardy but welcome reparation.—London Tribune.

Amy Robarts.
On a Sunday in September, 1569, Lady Robert Dudley, better known under her maiden name of Amy Robarts, being in good health, sent to a fair all the people of Comhor Hall, near Oxford, where she was residing, except one friend. On their return she was lying dead at the foot of the stairs. Dudley courted inquiry. The inquest found that she died by accident, and she was splendidly buried in St. Mary's, Oxford. The Spanish ambassador wrote that Elizabeth had told him a few days before that Amy was likely to die soon, but he may well have had a motive for a false statement. It is Sir Walter Scott's greatest crime that he misdates Amy Robarts' death by some fifteen years.—Pall Mall Gazette.

The Regular Custom.
In a London street a girl of twelve and a boy of ten were playing a family drama of "mother and father," and Bobby was being instructed in his role. "Now, Bob," said the girl, "you just walk up ter ter corner an' wait there till we tells yer ter come. We're a-goin' ter git dinner ready, an' what we calls yer, yer ter come 'ome and chuck the fings about." "Ho!" said Bobby. "Come 'ome drunk, do I? And why for?" "Why for, stoopid?" retorted the girl, with a glance of mingled scorn and pity. "Ain't it Saturday?"

Generosity.
Never be sorry for any generous thing that you ever did, even if it was betrayed. Never be sorry that you were magnanimous if the man was mean afterward. Never be sorry that you gave. It was right for you to give even if you were imposed upon. You cannot afford to keep on the safe side by being mean.

The School.
In a Chicago school a class was studying irregular plurals of nouns when it was asked by the teacher to give the plural of "child." Then it was that little Edgar, who knew how it was at home, promptly answered "Twins."
