Saloons Must Reform.
A remarkable editorial in Bonfort's Wine and Spirit circular (New York) warns the saloon that it must reform or go, for the people are becoming disgusted with its evils in politics. The recent prohibition victory in Knoxville, Kentucky, is thought to be due to a revulsion of feeling against the saloon rule of city politics, rather than to the conversion of the voters to total abstinence; and it is the conviction of this weekly organ of the liquor trade that if the saloon business throughout the country does not mend its ways, it "will be prohibited in all places save the business or tenderloin precincts of our large cities." So serious is the situation, indeed, that last June the National Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association issued an appeal for the purification of the saloon, and a few weeks ago the Kentucky Distillers Association appointed a commission of five to consider the advisability of calling a National convention to frame a license law that can be presented to the state legislature instead of the "radical and impracticable legislation" now being urged, and often successfully, by the anti-saloon league. The following paragraphs are quoted from the Wine and Spirit Circular:

"With more than one-half of the geographical limits of this great country under laws prohibiting alcoholic beverages; with Tennessee passing through its legislature a bill that almost amounts to a state prohibition of the manufacture and sale of wines and spirits to a vote of the people; with Texas providing that express companies transporting wines and spirits shall take out a $5,000 license; with the Illinois legislature considering a county unit local option measure and Indiana a $1,000 license for the few saloons the Remonstrance law will leave in the state; with almost a dry state and facing probably a legislative session that will submit a prohibitory amendment; and with an organization opposing us and sworn to our destruction that seems to lack nothing in the way of money or brains, enthusiasm, or persisting, untiring work—what, may we ask, is the wine and spirit trade doing to arrest the current of events or to alter in any way the radical conclusions which are being forced upon the people in every state, county and precinct?"

"If there is one thing that seems settled beyond question it is that the retail liquor trade of this country must either mend its ways materially or be prohibited in all places save the business or tenderloin precincts of our large cities."
"If the Anti-saloon League can maintain its present organization it looks as if it will certainly destroy the legalized saloon in all of the Southern states, excepting, perhaps, in Missouri, and it is certainly making strong headway in Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and other Western and Northern states." "Far from sneering at the Anti saloon League, the Wine and Spirit Circular pays its respects thus: "The Anti saloon League is not a mob of long haired fanatics, as some of the writers and speakers connected with our business have declared, but it is a strongly central organization, officered by men of unusual ability, financed by capitalists with very long purses, subscribed by hundreds of thousands of men, women and children who are solicited by their various interests, advised by well-paid attorneys of great ability, it is working with definite ideas to guide it in every state, in every county, in every city and in every precinct."

"If the Anti-saloon League is defeated at any point it immediately prepares for another attack along new lines, and when it succeeds it at once begins work for more telling victory. "Precinct local option, with the Anti-saloon League, is but the forerunner of county local option, and this again is merely intended as a step, a stepping-stone to state prohibition. There is no question that this organization has well prepared plans for controlling the legislative branch of the government at Washington, and of passing a national prohibitory law at some time in the future, but before it undertakes so gigantic an enterprise it is working to cripple the trade in every possible way, and while we sleep—it is succeeding in the most substantial manner."

Evidence has been produced to the grand jury investigating the graft cases in San Francisco to show that each police official had his price for letting the dives operate in violation of the law. The prices ranged from $5 a week for policemen to $100 a week for the chief, the captains receiving $50. In nearly all cases the officials called at the house of ill-fame to collect their own share of the graft, not being willing to trust others of the graft gang to collect for them.

The labor organizations that had such a staunch friend in President Roosevelt, are learning that the "big stick" hangs over their heads when they step beyond the limits of toleration and seek sympathy for murderers and debauchers of legislatures in the interest of labor organizations. President Roosevelt has proven himself equally severe on labor and capitalists when they get out of the bounds of reason and justice.

Judge Loving of Virginia, the other day sought Theodore Eastes, a prominent young man of his city who had, the night before, taken the judge's daughter out for a ride and brought her home in a drugged and unconscious condition, and turned a double-barreled shot gun loose on the young man, killing him instantly. Judge Loving surrendered himself to the authorities and was released on bail.

Some people have little confidence in trial juries. The verdict of the Hermann jury will add to the list, and when Schmitz and Roof are cleared by a jury the number will be further increased.

It is stated that L. D. Hicks, who gained wide notoriety some months ago by being rescued from a cave-in mine after being entombed for fifteen days, is going insane at Reno.

Hermann told them all the time that he was not guilty.

Timber Land Deals.
The Examiner is prepared to handle timber lands in large or small bodies; the trouble has always been timber land owners have been scattered over the country and those who lived close enough together to list their lands in a sufficiently large body to make the sale one of importance to timber land purchasers, their lands have invariably been in such localities as would prohibit consolidation. We have arranged with a firm to take these isolated tracts, and by so doing, we are able to secure enough land in one body to make it an object to purchasers to investigate, and thus the lands will bring the highest market price. Parties owning but 160 or 80 acres will not be told by their intending purchasers that their tracts are too small to bother with. The company we are dealing with is absolutely responsible and has plenty of capital. Write The Lake County Examiner for full particulars.
If you have a piece of timber land to sell write The Lake County Examiner. We can place your land where it will bring the highest price.
