THE SEA ELEPHANT.

Specimen on View at Museum in Tring Park, England.

One of the curiosities in the great private museum of natural history maintained by the Hon. Lionel Walter Rothschild in Tring Park, England, is a sea elephant, or elephant seal. Its scientific name is seal Macrorhinus elephantinus or proboscideus. It is the largest of the family of seals known as otaries, and its snout is prolonged into a proboscis suggestive of an elephant's trunk. This variety of seal grows to a length of fourteen feet.

ELLMORE'S FUEL SAVER.

Altoona Cobbler and His Scheme For Cutting Coal Bills.

John Ellmore of Altoona, Pa., who has excited so much attention by his alleged discovery of a fuel saver, is a cobbler. He claims that by sprinkling the powder he has invented on ashes and then mixing the compound with coal the expense of fuel can be reduced from 65 to 75 per cent—in other words, that a quarter of a ton of coal mixed with three-quarters of a ton of ashes treated according to his plan will give off as much heat as a ton of pure coal, anthracite or bituminous. Ellmore is not very well educated and does not possess a thorough knowledge of chemistry. He is fifty-seven years old, and with a family to support and house rent of $15 a month to pay every penny that he could make at the cobbler's bench was used up. He has invented a device to keep rails from spreading, a pocket fire escape and a new method of compressing air, which he thinks will prove of great value in the automobile business, but hitherto he has not been able to get any benefit from his inventions from lack of money to put them on the market. His father, a lumber dealer, bequeathed him in crude form the secret of the process of treating ashes.

RUTH WELLMAN.

Her Desire to See Her Father Start on His Polar Voyage.

When Walter Wellman sets sail in his airship in July to discover the north pole, his eldest daughter, Ruth, may witness his start. She is a well known figure in the social set at Washington and is greatly interested in her father's plans, having the utmost faith in their ultimate success. She is planning to go to the north pole with him.

ning to start for Spitzbergen in a short time, so as to be present when the voyage in the airship is begun. Mr. Wellman got ready to leave Spitzbergen on his polar quest last autumn, but the conditions at that time did not favor making the start, and the expedition was postponed to this season.

THE ARRIVAL OF RUFUS

I'm Rufus Green from Squashville town
I was yesterday that I come down
The boys all holler, "Who's that jay
That jest fell off er load o' hay?"
I've surely had an orful toot;
I hid my money in my boot,
I saw the slight; they was immense,
I must hev squandered eighty cents.

I met a man named Mister Slick,
Who tried tew sell me a gold brick,
I told 'im it might help out some,
But I hed four of them at hum.
He sed, "Now, when did yew arrive?"
Jest give me two tens for a five."
Sed I, "Go on, yew dorned old cheat!"
An' he jest scooted down the street.

I went in tew a theater show
Tew see them gals dance on their toes.
Now one of them she winked at me—
I felt as bitterish as cud be.
"Twas lucky Betsy wasn't there,
Or she'd 'a' got right in my hair,
Fer she's as jellus as er cat
When gals make eyes at me like that.

The sidewalk they was crowded so
Right in the road I thot I'd go.
A city constabill, so rude,
Sed, "Yew'll git killed, yew contry dude!
Git off the car track, twenty-three!"
Sed I, "Git out! Yew can't scare me!"
I told him he was not perlitte,
I'll bet thet hurt him some, all right.

An otymobel tooted loud,
An' chased me right in tew the crowd;
But I jest dodged it, quick'ern scat,
I never hed a fright like that.
If I'd a got a broken limb,
By gosh, I'd hev the law on him!
Yer gasolene carts may be fine,
But I'd prefer a hoss fer mine.

If I shud come tew town ag'in,
I guess I'll fetch my Betsy in,
For she an' I er goin' ter splice,
Say, gosh, all hemlock, but she's nice!
Yer city life is more then spry,
Tew swift for me, I'll say goodby.
By gosh, I'd hev the law on him!
When I git hum tew tell the folks.

The Apt Pupil.

The philanthropical Fifth avenue lady was visiting a lower east side Sunday school. To test the aptness of a particularly indigent cluster of pupils she took the class in hand to question them.

"Children, which is the greatest of all virtues?"
Not one answered.
"Think a little. What is it I am doing when I give up time and pleasure to come down among you for your moral good?"
A grimy fist went up.
"Well, what am I doing, little boy?"
"Buttin' in."—New York Life.

The Crusty Bachelor.

"You appear to be admiring my teeth," said the romantic maiden.
"Ah! Indeed I am admiring them," replied the crusty bachelor. "Such white ivory is superb. I was just thinking."
"And what were you thinking of?"
"I was thinking what fine billiard balls those teeth would make if they were only as large as an elephant's teeth."
And then the romantic maiden said the crusty bachelor was the meanest man she had ever met.—Chicago News.

Living Up to His Name.

A teacher in a mission school in Boston had among her pupils a colored boy named Ralph Waldo Emerson Longfellow. As he was absent one Sunday, she asked the class if any one knew the reason for his absence.
"I reckon I do," said one small, serious looking boy.
"What is the reason, Johnnie?"
"I guess he's home writing poetry," responded the boy, with a delighted chuckle.—Youth's Companion.

Tempted to Go on Stage.

Bacc.—Did you ever have any desire to go on the stage?
Egbert—Oh, yes. Only last week I did. Oh, the actor was vile! But I concentered myself with shying an egg at him!—Yonkers Statesman.

At Cross Purposes.

"Old Pengborn is working himself to skin and bones trying to keep that boy of his in college."
"And what's the boy doing?"
"Doing his best to be expelled."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Every Time He Told It.

Aseum—What do you think? The guide says that ten years ago he caught a twelve pound brook trout. I didn't think they grew so large.
Teller—Well, you see, that one has been gradually growing all these ten years.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

He Did.

First Bohemian—Do you believe in the power of a song?
Second Bohemian—Rather. I have changed my lodgings twice this week on account of it.—Fliegende Blätter.

IF YOU WANT CASH

FOR YOUR REAL ESTATE OR BUSINESS I CAN GET IT

No Matter What Your Property is Worth, or in What Town, City, State or Territory it is Located

If I did not have the ability and facilities to sell your property, I certainly could not afford to pay for this advertisement. This "ad" (like all my other "ads") is practically sure to place on my list a number of new properties, and I am just as sure to sell these properties and make enough money in commissions to pay for the cost of these "ads," and make a good profit besides. That is why I have so large a real estate business today.

Why not put your property among the number that will be sold as a result of these "ads?"

I will not only sell it—some time—but will be able to sell it quickly. I am a specialist in quick sales. I have the most complete and up to date equipment. I have branch offices throughout the country and a field force of men to find buyers. I do not handle all lines usually carried by the ordinary real estate agents. I MUST SELL, real estate—and lots of it—or go out of business. I can assure you I am not going out of business. On the contrary, I expect to find at the close of the year, that property I want to list YOURS and SELL it. It doesn't matter whether you have a farm, a home without any land, or a business; it doesn't matter what it is worth, or where it is located. If you will fill out the blank letter of inquiry below and mail it to me today, I will tell you how and why I can quickly convert the property into cash, and will give you my complete plan and terms for handling it. The information I will give you will be of great value to you, even if you should not sell. You had better write today before you forget it. If you want to buy any kind of a Farm, House, or Business, in any part of the country, tell me your requirements. I will guarantee to fill them promptly and satisfactorily.

FREE OF CHARGE
