HORSE BREEDING.

Districts Should Specialize in the Production of Horses. In one district of Richland county we have counted as many as forty-one pure bred Percheron mares owned by members of a breeding association, while the same district owns many high class grade mares of the same blood. Soon such a district will become famous for its draught horse stock of this particular breed, and that is the sort of reputation needed by each breeding district in the state. So long as each district produces a heterogeneous collection of horses of all manner of blood combination no success will be attained in attracting buyers ready to pay good prices for the class of horses they wish to find in sufficient numbers. There is no outside demand for the mongrels and mis-

Centers For Buyers. Jefferson county has become famous for her dairy cows. Around Lake Mills one may find finely bred Holsteins in considerable numbers, and in the Athens district of Marathon county the late lamented Hon. Fred Blotrock made Guernsey cattle numerous and profitable among the settlers. To such centers go the buyers ready and willing to purchase at remunerative prices even more animals than are ready for their needs. We should have hundreds of such centers celebrated for their horses of some distinct and valuable type. We want centers of this sort in which the buyer can find numbers of a given kind of horse, centers where heavy draft horses of one or other of the well known breeds may be found uniform in type and excellence of development, and other centers where the buyer may find ready to his hand hundreds of high class carriage horses.

Shortsighted Policy. But not every breed should be found striving one against the other in each district in the state. Such is too commonly the objectionable condition existing at the present time. There is nothing to be gained by such short sighted policy. "In unity there is strength." By uniting for the production of one standard, necessary profitable product in a given district, the breeders may confidently count upon success, and we sincerely trust that such a policy may soon direct the breeding operations of every horse producing district in Wisconsin.—Bulletin, Department of Agriculture, Wisconsin.

THE VETERINARY.

The occurrence in Virginia of sore mouth of cattle, an inflammation of the mucous membrane, has led Veterinarian Spencer of the state experiment station to outline in Southern Planter a course of treatment, as follows: Remove afflicted animals from such pastures as have produced it. Provide nutritive food, which must be sloppy or soft boiled roots, bran and ground oats and corn made into mash. Pure water in abundance is very important. Among medicinal agents there is a large group which give favorable results. Probably none can be selected which can modify the condition more than freely washing out the mouth two or three times daily with a warm 1 per cent solution of creoline, to be followed after each washing by the following mixture applied to the denuded surfaces with a swab of cotton tied on a small stick: Chlorate of potash, four ounces; lacture of iron, four ounces; glycerin, six ounces; water, one gallon. Fodder containing fungus is thought to be a fruitful cause of the disease.

Poor Digestion in the Horse.

A mare constantly loses flesh, is hungry all the time, teeth appear all right and no signs of worms are noticed. A veterinary surgeon who has seen many such cases, generally with either bad teeth or worms, advises as follows in Rural New Yorker: First have mouth examined by a competent veterinarian. Employ a man whom you know is up to date to fix her mouth and then have a druggist put up the following: Iron sulphate, four ounces; powdered gentian, six ounces; aux vomica, two ounces; powdered wormseed, four ounces; powdered ginger, two ounces; blood-root, four ounces. Have this all thoroughly mixed together and give the animal a heaping teaspoonful morning and night with her oats and bran, and at the end of two weeks give her one-half pint of raw linseed oil with one-half ounce of turpentine mixed in thoroughly with the oil.

Worms in Sheep.

The Louisiana experiment station has been treating stomach and tape worms in sheep and lambs with the following vermifuge: "Pulverized resin, one part; sublimed sulphur, two parts; air slaked lime, four parts; ammonium salt, sixteen parts. These materials were thoroughly mixed and placed in a small wooden box protected from the weather, and to which both ewes and lambs could have access at all times." As the sheep did not eat it well salt put in the feed was substituted. The salt did not prevent the worms from gathering in the stomach, but it seemed to promote a better gain.

Warts on Cow's Teats.

Remedies for warts on a cow's teats are various. Professor Donald McIntosh's idea, as given in American Agriculturist, is: Tie a strong thread tightly around the base of each wart and when it sloughs off apply a little terchloride of antimony to the parts once to destroy the roots of the wart. Then mix twenty grains tannic acid with one ounce each of glycerin and water; apply a little after each milking until the parts are healed. Use a milk tube to draw off the milk until cured.
