

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

The children cannot possibly have good health unless the bowels are in proper condition. Correct any constipation by giving small laxative doses of Ayer's Pills. All vegetable, sugar-coated.

The grapes compare favorably with any brought into this country from either California or the Willamette valley. The time is not far distant when Lake county will be raising all the fruits of a temperate climate, only a trial is necessary to raise them now.

Mr. Joel McCullough, the representative of the Pine Ridge Stock Farm, of Salem, Iowa, with headquarters in Lakeview, informed us a few days ago that he had telegraphed J. S. Herrin, of Ashland, Oregon, to ship to the Stock Farm, in Iowa, a certain pure bred Rambouillet ram that he saw while on a recent visit to Ashland. He said the ram would cost them $75 by the time they got him home. But they want the best, at any cost.

Death of Mrs. J. S. Morrow.

Last week The Examiner promised its readers a more complete history of Mrs. J. L. Morrow's life than was possible to obtain at that time.

Sibbrina Aheart was born of Mr. and Mrs. Aheart, in Cedar county, Tennessee, on June 21, 1835. She went to Missouri with her parents while a child, removed to California with members of her family in the year 1850, and located in Sonoma county, her parents having died in Missouri. She became acquainted with Mr. J. L. Morrow in Sonoma county, and was married to him there July 6, 1858. They went immediately to Mendocino county, where they lived for one year, when they removed to Nevada county, where they lived until 1865, when they again moved, this time coming to Oregon, settling in Douglas county. They lived there till 1881, when they moved to Bidwell, Modoc county California. In 1885 Mr. Morrow moved with his family to Warner valley, where they have since resided.

Mrs. Morrow was the mother of six children, three boys and three girls, as follows: J. W., J. A., Jesse B., Nancy J., Sarah E., and Mary E., three of whom, J. W., Jesse and Sarah are dead. Joseph A. Morrow lives at Klamath Falls, Mrs. Nancy J. Bennett and Mrs. Mary E. Cooper live in Warner valley, the latter two were present at their mother's death. Two brothers, Spencer and James Aheart, live in California, and one sister, Mrs. Hannah Puckett, lives in Douglas county, Oregon.

Mrs. Morrow died of heart trouble in Warner valley on Sunday morning at 6 o'clock, October 20, 1907, at the ripe old age of 72 years, 3 months and 29 days. She was buried at Ft. Bidwell on Monday, at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Morrow was a devout Christian, having been a member of the Southern Methodist Church for over forty years. She died at 6 o'clock a. m.: with the awakening life of a new day, she went to sleep like a tired child. With the eye of faith one could see at the dawn of this memorable October day, an invisible hand wave a signal, and a voice in softest accent on the morning breeze, announce that the gates were open and that God's angels were waiting to escort her in.

After a long, busy and useful life she died as she had lived—honored, trusted and loved. She reared her own monument while she lived in the hearts of all who knew her. Her life was completed if work done and well done constitutes completion. Her Christian life was beautiful from its beginning to its close, and through all the vicissitudes and sorrows that she met in the way, her faith in God never wavered. But she has left us an today the autumn leaves fall upon another grave that hides from our sight all that is mortal of a true and noble woman.

Mr. Joseph L. Morrow, husband of the deceased, is all broken up in spirits. So long had he proudly walked beside his wife, who always shared his sorrows, that when the time comes for him to tread alone, the task is a hollow and dreary one. He says there is nothing more for him in this world. The home which he has so valiantly fought for for twenty years, is empty to him. His stooped and withered body trembles as he stands beside the empty chair and through tear-dimmed eyes imagines he sees her, his life partner, as she once appeared.

Mr. Morrow, too, is nearing life's sunset. He was 73 years old last July. He crossed the plains with ox team in 1854, landing in Nevada county, California, after a long and dangerous journey. He followed mining till in 1865, when he moved to Douglas county, Oregon, and to Bidwell in 1881, and to Warner four years later.

Card of Thanks.

J. L. Morrow and daughters and their families wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to their many dear friends of Warner Valley and Bidwell for their sympathy and aid during the illness, death and burial of their beloved wife and mother. Such kindness cannot be repaid by words. Nothing that love could supply was wanting. May the bread they so generously cast upon the waters return to them after many days and He who "tempers the winds to the shorn lamb" protect them from all harm and long shield them from the sorrow, sickness and death incident to humanity, and when they come, as come they must, one and all, to answer the roll call may they be sustained and comforted by friends as noble, generous and devoted.

We also extend our many thanks to those kind friends at Willow Ranch, Pine Creek and Lakeview, who manifested their deep sympathy by kind actions and soothing words, as we came from Bidwell to Lakeview via these places to avoid the familiar scenes of our recent sorrow. To one and all we again say, "Thank you, Dear Friends."

Mrs. A. N. Bennett,
Mrs. W. H. Cooper.

The Secret of a Beautiful Face lies in keeping the skin protected as well as cleansed. Just washing is not enough—that only leaves the delicate surface more exposed to the irritation of dust and germs; to merciless attacks of sun and weather. After washing, apply ROBERTINE and experience its delightful refreshment. You will admire the line-less softness it imparts to face, neck and arms. It not only stimulates a radiant glow, but protects the skin from becoming coarse. Prevents burning, tan and freckles.
