What the American People Want to Know.

By ERMAN J. RIDGWAY, Publisher of Everybody's Magazine.

THE biography of unrest is the history of PROGRESS—yesterday an idea, today a custom, tomorrow move on.

A hundred years ago the unrest was political.

THE UNREST OF SOCIETY TODAY IS CAUSED BY THE INEQUALITIES AND EVILS THAT GROW OUT OF THE CONCENTRATION OF WEALTH. THE RESTLESS MEMBERS OF SOCIETY SAY, "WE WANT TO KNOW HOW A FEW MEN MAKE SUCH HUGE FORTUNES WHILE THE VAST MAJORITY OF US ARE STRUGGLING TO KEEP SOUL AND BODY TOGETHER."

We want to know why the Wall Street game is not played ON THE LEVEL, so that a man can invest his savings with some assurance that he will at least get back the principal.

We want to know what right the few have to borrow our savings to build railroads, take our grants of public land along the tracks and then, instead of letting us share in their prosperity by reducing passenger and freight rates, POUR WATER INTO THE CAPITAL AND COMPEL US TO PAY INTEREST ON DOUBLE OR QUADRUPLE THE ORIGINAL CAPITALIZATION. Not only that, but we want to know why they make SPECIAL RATES TO SIDE PARTNERS, enabling them to kill off competitors, with the result that many of the actual necessities of life are put almost beyond our reach. Not only that, but why in some instances where monopoly exists THE QUALITY OF FOOD AND SUPPLIES IS INFERIOR TO WHAT IT WAS BEFORE MONOPOLY, leaving us the choice of taking the inferior article or going without—not only that, but why when we pay so high a toll for travel we must risk our lives in tinder box coaches running on imitation steel rails.

We want to know why our subways and trolleys and gas plants should make some men millionaires and at the same time give the multitude such execrable service.

We want to know why the enormous reserves in the insurance companies should be available to this group or that group of financiers for gambling purposes.

WHY ARE LITTLE CHILDREN WORKING IN OUR MILLS WHEN THEY OUGHT TO BE IN SCHOOL? WHY MUST WOMEN TOIL IN OUR FACTORIES WHEN THEY OUGHT TO BE REARING A HEALTHY RACE?

Why are there sweatshops and slums?

What or who is responsible for so many strikes and lockouts and boycotts?

Why should one hundred thousand families scrimp and slave in order that ONE family may have a paradise of parks and palaces, more money than is good for it, more than it can possibly spend?

THESE ARE SOME OF THE QUESTIONS THE RESTLESS PART OF SOCIETY IS ASKING. THIS IS THE SOCIAL UNREST OF OUR TIME.

"Now, Freddie, you come straight home from school today!"

DRESS HINTS.

Hints For the Piazza Hat—Lace Sailors
Newest Things in Millinery.

The hat to wear with the all white costume is a hat trimmed with a touch of color. One of the most striking of what at the seashore and in the country are called piazza chapeaux is a black chip with a wide brim turned up at one side and drooping in the back. The top is trimmed with great bunches of white sweet peas with a few pink ones in the center of the bunch.

The lace sailor hats are lovely this season, and trimmed with lemon and corn color they are more than charming; indeed, there is quite a furor for them. The nicer ones are made of velvet and lace trimmed with feathers, plumes and masses of spring flowers. One lovely thin white straw sailor is decorated with the most feathery of sigrets, while delicate feathery trimmings float off the back of the hat. The colors are all in cream and corn color, yellow and gold. A combination of two colors in linens and lawns, as also of two different materials, is as fashionable now as it was in the winter with velvet and chiffon, cloth and crepe de chine.

The smartest trimming in the fall will be moire silk. It is not cheap, but, like everything else that is good, costs quite a bit of money. However, two yards of good moire cut in narrow bias bands will go a long way toward trimming a suit.

Here is a one piece suit for a small girl made of soft finished white linen with banding of embroidery. In the illustration the older girl wears a frock made high at the neck, with short, full sleeves. The younger tot shows the same model made with a chemise and double sleeves.

Cretonne Trimming an Unusually Effective Fad of the Moment.

Cretonne trimming is growing apace and is being turned to some account in the cause of wash dresses, gartlands very light and delicate of design being applied either side an entre-deux of lace worked up with silk to give the effect of a heavy raised embroidery. Cretonne is invaluable in meeting the demand for narrow inner vests or folds over which the fichu or kimono bodice is laid, while on the fashionable gilet a cretonne application immediately makes for a pleasing effect, pique frequently forming the basis of the groundwork.

A new cover cover of finest French linen neatly embroidered with French hand work has the front decorated with an immense butterfly bow, which serves as a shirt waist extender. The bow is made elaborate with lace and ribbons and extends across the entire front.

Soft silk fichus in contrasting color to the gown are worn folded low over the shoulders with the ends tucked into the girdle. Wide scarfs of tulle or chiffon are draped in the same way.

A woman was seen recently who had found a way of getting around the difficulty of offending the Audubon society and at the same time gratifying her fancy for wearing something suggesting a long trailing plume. The plume drew the attention of several women who were dining in the same restaurant. One suggested that it was made of silk, others said straw, and one hazarded the guess that it surely was glass. As a matter of fact, frayed out silk, disposed in a unique fashion, was the means employed for this novel end.

Dainty frocks of white are much worn by the little girls and are always charming. Here is one that shows an attractive collar made of all over embroidery. The skirt is box plaited at the back, and there are unbroken lines at the front, while the ornamental collar is entirely separate.
