LAKEVIEW, OREGON, JANUARY 16 1908

The New Postal Law.

Congress has made a new postal law, which went into effect on January 1, 1908. The new law makes it impossible for newspaper publishers to extend credit to subscribers. The provisions are such that no publisher can extend credit and maintain the second-class rating as to entry of his publication at the postoffice, and any other rating is absolutely prohibitive.

The section of the new law most effecting subscriptions to weekly newspapers reads as follows:

"A reasonable time will be allowed publishers to secure renewals of subscriptions, but unless subscriptions are expressly renewed after the term for which they are paid, within the following periods: Dailies within three months, Semi-Weeklies within nine months, Weeklies within twelve months, they shall not be counted in the legitimate list of subscribers and copies mailed on account thereof shall not be accepted for mailing at the second-class postage rate of one cent per pound, but may be mailed at the transient second-class postage rate, of one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof, prepaid by stamps affixed."

It can be plainly seen that this law is intended to, and does shut out of the mails all papers addressed to parties not paid in advance, only by putting a stamp on each paper, which would incur an enormous expense, as well as a great deal of work.

The Examiner has always extended credit to subscribers, where they desired it, and we regret very much that we cannot do so still. It is true, subscribers are allowed twelve months in which to renew their subscriptions, but to comply with the letter of the new law, subscribers are expected to pay for their paper in advance, and when one goes to "whipping the devil around the bush," as the saying goes, he brings upon himself a close scrutiny by the postal inspectors of his method of conducting his business.

So our plan will be, to keep well within the bounds of the law, and we shall expect our subscribers to help us out in our efforts to do so.

We have very few subscribers on our list at the present time who are in arrears, and we hope those few will be as willing to come to our assistance as we have ever been to accommodate them by extending credit.

We feel that the law is an imposition upon our private business, and we did all in our power to prevent its passage, but to no avail. Last year an organization of publishers of weekly newspapers was formed, which we joined and voted to defeat the proposed law, but the large daily newspapers who invariably collect subscriptions in advance, were pitted against us in this work, and won out over our protests. Their motive was, no doubt, to "freeze out" a lot of the smaller weeklies; but the Lake County Examiner will be doing business at the old stand, just the same.

This is a federal law, and affects every newspaper in the United States. We are given until April first, this year, to collect all arrearsages. We believe we have stated the situation plainly, and that none can be offended at being asked to satisfy arrearsages, so that we may look the postal inspector squarely in the face and lay our subscription book open to him.

The Idaho Federation of Labor cases are at an end at last. The jury in the Pettibone trial, after 14 hours' deliberation brought in a verdict of acquittal. Mayer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, who was to have been tried on a charge in connection with the Steinenburg murder, was released and the cases will all be dropped except that against Orchard and Adams for the murder of Governor Steinenburg.
