KITCHEN FINANCE.

To Earn Money Without Leaving One's Home.
 Anna Stone Richardson in the Woman's Home Companion gives some helps that are of value to the housewife and especially to the girl who earns her own living.
 One woman writes to her:
 "How can I earn money without leaving home? Can a woman whose one talent is housekeeping turn it to practical account?"
 Her reply in part is:
 "The woman who can cook well, who knows how to prepare delicacies as well as wholesome food, who has something worth offering in the culinary line, is really better off today than the home girl who is an indifferent cook, but free to turn to office or store work when the family income drives her to wage earning."
 "In every city the country over you will find women who seldom leave their kitchens, yet make incomes that put a stenographer or bookkeeper to shame."
 "They bake cakes, bread and pies for private customers or exchanges for women's work or groceries. They specialize on salads or jellies or homemade candies. They provide college spreads in university towns. They cater to hostesses who cannot afford the professional caterer from the nearest city and whose servants are not to be trusted with dainties for luncheons, card parties, receptions, etc."

NOVEL DUSTPAN.

Can Be Readily Carried Without Danger of Dust Escaping.
 A novel device recently patented by a West Virginia woman is the unique dustpan shown in the illustration. It was designed with one object in view—to overcome the objection of the ordinary dustpan. In the latter no provision is made for preventing the dust and dirt from blowing off the pan after it has been gathered. In this improved dustpan it is impossible for the dust and dirt to drop on the floor. This dustpan when closed is in the form of a box, one of the sides of the box forming the front edge of the dustpan when the latter is opened. In the top of the box are slots, through which extend the rods of the handle. These rods are pivoted to the front edge of the box. After the dust and dirt have been brushed into the dustpan the box is lifted by the handle. As the latter is drawn up the front of the dustpan is drawn up, throwing all the dust into the box, the lid effectually sealing the front and preventing the accidental escape of the contents in any way.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

There is nothing to worry over when baby only wakes to eat and then goes off to sleep again. He is only acting like a healthy little animal.
 Some people wash the hair with tar soap after an egg shampoo, but the plain egg is cleansing and leaves the hair much softer than if soap is used with it.
 Should the use of grease on the face have a tendency to produce superfluous hair it may be checked by mixing spirits of camphor with the grease or by occasionally rubbing it over the skin.
 To relieve choking break an egg in a cup and give to the distressed one to swallow. The white of the egg seems to catch around the obstacle and remove it. If one egg does not answer the purpose, try another. The white is all that is necessary to use.
 No child should begin to dance until twelve years old, but much of the art can be learned before that, and through dancing a little girl acquires a grace, a poise and freedom of movement which stand her in good stead during the awkward age as well as for the rest of her life.
 The Business Girl.
 If you want to be a business girl, don't forget that all business is a bit brutal. Don't go into business to be helped or lifted gently over hard places. You will be paid to make rough places smooth for your employer. If you want help or sympathy, go to a home for the feeble-minded—if it will take you. You will never be engaged because you want the money, but because your employer needs your service, says Woman's Life.
 If you are not competent to do the work, don't ask your influential friends to secure an opening for you just because they would rather do this than lend you money at regular intervals.
 "But," you say, "I must start somewhere."
 True, but start at the bottom. Better start out in a small way and gradually rise than begin at something better when but half trained and ill equipped.

LUCK BRINGING JADE.

Made Up Into Fasciful Ornaments by Jewelers.
 Jade has come again particularly into favor for wedding and birthday gifts, more because of its reputation for luck bringing than on account of its beauty or intrinsic value.
 The idea of jade being endowed with the virtue of influencing good fortune to its wearer or possessor arose in China and was, of course, cultivated sedulously by the wily yellow man, whose land produces so many fine specimens.
 Indeed, so great is the reverence for jade in the Flowery Land that state property is made at once of any part of the country in which a specially fine piece is found. The most exquisite specimens of jade are said by experts to represent the hues and effects of sea foam. It is not such as these, however, which are now passing generally as lucky jade. Their eventual end is in the collections of wealthy connoisseurs.
 Chips of jade showing more or less of flaw are now being extensively made up by jewelers into fasciful ornaments. Quality, therefore, should not be expected in such pieces of jade. They are appreciated merely for their soft green color and their accredited luck carrying sentiment.
 Women have found out, moreover, that the particular green color of jade has the effect when in proximity of whitening the skin. They are pleased with the heavy jade bangles that slip over the hand and are tipped at the extremities with silver. Originally such were made for the ankles of Chinese women. Gold bangles of mat finish, with three or five pieces of jade set in across their tops, are also very much the rage at present.
 Jade beads are a reigning fad, recalling somewhat the barbaric beads which in ancient times were worn by the women of Carthage. According to the quality of jade beads, they can be found either worth many dollars or a very small sum. Indeed, the inexpensive ones have considerable effect of beauty, especially when worn over soft white dresses.

Russian Apples.—Pare and core the apples, fill with mince meat, put in a pan with enough water to keep from burning, a little butter and sugar and bake.
Fried Apples.—Wipe and core tart apples and cut into slices about one-fourth of an inch thick. Put into a frying pan with enough water to keep from burning. When partly cooked, add a tablespoonful of butter and sugar to taste. Apples may also be fried with onions, taking one medium sized onion to two apples.
Apple Salad.—Pare, quarter and core six tart apples. Cut the quarters in halves lengthwise and then slice. Wash and crisp the lettuce and arrange it in a salad bowl. Add the apple and sprinkle over it a finely chopped Spanish pepper and a cupful of chopped walnuts and almonds. Pour a French dressing over all and serve.
Apple Entrees.—One cupful of flour, one and one-half level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two level tablespoonfuls of sugar, two-thirds cupful of milk, one egg well beaten and two medium sized apples cut into small thin slices. Sift together the flour, baking powder and sugar, add gradually the milk, then the egg. Beat well and stir in the apples. Drop by spoonfuls into deep, hot fat. Drain on brown paper and serve with maple syrup or a sweet sauce.
Apple Souffle.—Five good sized tart apples, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one-half cupful of sugar, juice and grated rind of one lemon, three eggs and nutmeg. Pare and grate the apples, add the butter, sugar, lemon juice and rind, then the yolks of the eggs beaten stiff. Pour into buttered baking dish, grate a little nutmeg over the top and bake for thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Serve immediately with hard sauce.
Bedroom Don'ts.
 Don't cover your head with bed clothes. Covers should be light, but warm.
 Don't sleep in too cold a room. From 55 to 60 degrees F. is about the right temperature.
 Don't fill your bedroom with knick knacks and draperies. Have it as plain, clean and dust free as possible.
 Don't expose the pillows to the sun, as it draws the oil out of the feathers. The bed and bedding should be given a daily sun bath, but the pillows should be placed out of the sunlight but in a direct current of air.
 Don't lie in the same position all night. Turn from one side to the other.
 Don't doze all evening, but if you are tired give in to it and go to bed.
 Don't go to bed with a sensation of hunger. Take any light, simple food you wish and that agrees with you.
 Don't go to bed with cold feet. See to it that your feet are warm before you get into bed.

How Parker Showed Off.
 Parker was learning the alphabet. One day at luncheon his relatives impressed it on his mind that P stands for plates and for prunes and for pepper and for Parker. He was latter perfect, and the next day at luncheon was called on to show off. "What does P stand for?" asked his brother. "It stands for," looking carefully over the table—"it stands for dishes and for sauce and for salt and for me."—Progressive Age.
