

CITY AND COUNTY BRIEFS

The bungalow of Banker Cressler is nearing completion. It is located on a fine lot on Water street, and will be a handsome and well appointed home.

Every stage arriving both from Likely and Klamath, is loaded with passengers, and besides many are coming in private conveyances.

The Klamath Herald reports at least five new comers arriving daily in that town. We can see that, and go them four or five better.

Cabinet sewing machine. New, for sale at sacrifice. Enquire at this office.

Mrs. Beta Vernon brought in the first strawberries of the season grown for this market.

The delivery team of John Duckworth started out to have a big run-away early Monday morning. They scattered things along Main street but were finally stopped.

This advertiser believed in printer's ink: "Bull dog for sale; will eat anything; very fond of children."

Solid oak secretary for sale. Cheap. Enquire at this office.

One 6 horse and one 4 horse load of wool passed through town Sunday on their way to the railroad at Likely for shipment to Boston.

Three quarter spring, mattress and bedding, for sale, cheap. Enquire at this office.

The Examiner has heard nothing further about that wool scouring plant. Such industry, coupled with a woolen mill, would it seem to us, be a paying enterprise.

Some one understanding the steam laundry business will find a little gold mine by locating in Lakeview.

L. G. Linville who was hurt in an accident mentioned a couple of weeks ago, is about town again, but is using crutches.

Pocket Fishing rods at—J. B. Auten & Co. 27-4f

When you have a few spare moments to indulge in luxuries, you can find just what you want at "The Frost" Neat and attractive, and anything to be found at a First Class Soda Counter. 26 2.

S. H. Griegsby, of Woodland, California, arrived in town Tuesday via Klamath Falls, with a big auto. He is looking for horses, it is supposed for the United States government. If he can not find what he wants here he will be hard to suit.

H. C. Huff & Son, a made-to-order tailor for men, was in town Monday soliciting trade. Our local tailors should get busy and let the public know they are alive by advertising in The Examiner.

O. L. Williams, of Alpena, Texas representing the "Home Comfort" stove, has been interviewing our hardware dealers the past week.

Haying tools, Rope and Pulleys at J. B. Auten and Co. 27-4f

J. D. Venator and family left on a camping trip up to the Chewaucan valley for about ten days. Mr. Venator is just recovering from an attack of pneumonia and an outing of this character will do him much good.

New Assortment of Fish—Silk Fish lines at J. B. Auten & Co. 27-4f

Roy Butler and Geo. Reed returned Monday from a trip to the Chewaucan river with the finest lot of brook trout ever brought to town. All their friends were treated to a mess.

Frank Stanley has taken a contract to put up a large amount of hay for the "Z" company at Chewaucan.

Fourteen passengers arrived in town via the Klamath Falls route Monday morning. It is evident that some of the newcomers chronicled in the papers of that burg must have got away. But the boys there should not feel bad about this defection, as they still have Harriman "in their midst."

It is your own fault if you do not see that item of yourself in The Examiner. Send in or phone all the local news of interest.

The Klamath Falls Herald says the team of that town and a lot of rooters leave there Monday for Lakeview, and that they are sure to win first money, the $600 purse. The citizens of the town generously contributed a fund of $220 to help the boys pay expenses. The roster of the team is: Joe Bull, Jess and Holy Siensens, Charles and John Moore, Crews, Francis, Ruper, Swan and Harry Benson.

Hon. F. P. Cronmiller, receiver of the United States land office, and family, accompanied by C. O. Metzker and wife, went on a fishing trip the first of the week, and report a fine time in being disciples of old Isaac Walton. The party secured about 40 speckled beauties from Thomas creek.

E. F. Cheney, wife, and children went out fishing the other day and returned with 50 fine, large, brook trout.

Boat Oars at J. B. Auten Co. 274f Harry Roberts, of the "JJ" ranch near Plush, with some of his vaqueros, came over last week with a bunch of horses. He is taking them down to the railroad, having sold them to the U. S. government.

The High School nine are to take part in the competitive base ball games here next week. The boys are jubilant over this decision, as there had been a disposition not to allow them this privilege.

Judging from outside interest manifested in this section, the local real-estate men who do not avail themselves of the opportunity of engaging attention of land seekers, by advertising in the columns of The Examiner, are in very truth hiding their light under a half bushel measure. We can convince you that we are right in this matter if you will call and look over our subscription books.

Some land seekers passed down Main street Sunday on their way to the north. The fact that a horse, tied to the rear of the outfit, was searching from a barley sack as he trotted along, created much amusement for those who witnessed the incident.

Parasol Lost—At Ely's Restaurant Saturday evening. The finder will please leave same at The Examiner office and receive reward. It.

W. H. Tucker is erecting three cottages on Walter street for rent.

Buyer Smith reports some wool coming in, and sells for little better than 14 cents.

MARRIED—At the Methodist parsonage, Wednesday evening, June 23, O. F. Anderson and Mrs. Esther Clifton, both of Ely, Rev. A. J. Armstrong, officiating.

James H. Young, of Alameda, California, was an arrival in town last week. He came for the purpose of securing a timber claim, but since he saw the country and learns first hand of its possibilities he has made up his mind to locate here and engage in business as soon as he can go back and straighten out his affairs there. Mr. Young appears to be a hustler and will make a good addition to the boosters of Lakeview.

The Library Association will serve ice cream, sherbert and cake in the New Library Building, on Thursday the 2nd, from 2 until 6 p. m., for the benefit of the Library.

The main streets of the town are adorned with hawking and evergreens for the Fourth.

No questions asked about Jug of Bait. Reward paid.

Roy G. Butler, George Batchelder, George Reed.

Business Change

To my patrons and friends, I have sold all my outfit, with my good will in the Photograph Business in Lakeview, to Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong. I will cease to operate the Gallery at 6 P. M. Saturday July 4. The new owners have engaged Mr. Cook a competent man to continue the work. I bespeak for my successor the same liberal patronage that I have received and feel sure that they will not disappoint those who may tender their patronage.

Thanking you for your favors, I am, Yours Truly, J. W. TOLLMAN.

To Our Friends, Having purchased the Tollman Gallery we solicit your patronage assuring you that we will do our best to please you. Our outfit is complete and the best that has ever been in Lakeview. We will do Portrait Work, Viewing, and Bromide Enlarging. Samples of our own work can be seen at the Post Office or at the Gallery. The Tent will be moved to the lot between the Methodist Church and Geo. Millers, and will be open for your service every day except Sundays, when it will be strictly closed. Our Mr. Cook is a competent operator. We ask a share of your work. A. J. and L. M. ARMSTRONG.

Death of Heart Disease

William Welch, an old resident of Paisley, engaged in sheep-herding, died Saturday morning of heart disease. He had been feeling ill all the previous night, and sent out his helper with sheep, in the morning.

When the latter returned he found Mr. Welch dead in his bed. He was a stout healthy looking man about 45 years of age. The remains were taken in charge by the Odd Fellows, of which order he was a member, and were buried Sunday at Paisley. His brother Thomas came to Lakeview for the coffin from the Lakeview Undertaking Parlor. Coroner Wallace found the facts as above set forth.

The Mong Company

Lakeview has six nights of delightful entertainment in store. Mr. and Mrs. William V. Mong and their new company open their engagement in the opera house tonight, presenting one of Mr. Mong's best plays, "Till Death do us Part". Which will be given with a larger company than before and with new, bright and striking scenery painted by Brother George Ayres, of the Herald. We are happy to greet Brother Ayres as an artist. His work upon the large canvases stand as striking proof that his genius in this line entitles him to rank at the top—with the best of them.

On Saturday night Mr. Mong will give one of his most famous characterizations, Jacob Valentine, in "The Dyspeptic". Mr. Mong claims that this is one of the very best parts he plays and says it will prove one of the highest hits of the engagement. On the same evening David Garick will be played and a vaudeville program will be given between the acts. With Mr. and Mrs. Mong so well and favorably known throughout our county we predict that our people will turn out in force to show their appreciation of real dramatic art.

The Lakeview orchestra will render a pleasing program each evening of the engagement.

On Wednesday evening July 8th when Mr. and Mrs. William V. Mong and their company give the last performance of their engagement here they will give, between acts, a program made up of our local talent, and offer a prize of $5.00 in gold to the best amateur appearing. Mr. Mong will act as judge and the prize will be awarded from the stage after the performance.

Recitations, songs, dances, declamations, poses, comedy or dramatic reading may be offered and Mr. Mong states that he will lend any aspirant every assistance possible.

NOTICE.—Customers must comply with the rules and regulations of the Lakeview Water Company, or the water will be shut off. S. V. REHART. 27-4f.

Raises Blooded Cattle

P. O. Bunting, of the Bunting Stock Farm, in Drews Valley, was in town Saturday, on business and gave The Examiner a call. Mr. Bunting has built up a nice business, and now has in his herd over 200 head of registered Hereford cattle. Mr. Bunting does not do much general farming, although he says he could do so if disposed that way. His ranch will produce grain and fruit without irrigation.

Cottages Needed For Rent

Some of the capital said to be lying idle here could be put to good advantage in the building of small cottages for rent and for sale to the new comers. There is a crying and urgent need for homes for the people. Not a day passes by without some one coming to the Examiner office enquiring for rooms or houses. Some public spirited man can relieve this need to his own pecuniary advantage.

Where is the Booster's Club?

We understood, before coming here, that there was an organization in town for the express purpose of advertising the advantages of the town and county. Such an organization would be a most important factor, if rightly conducted, in the upbuilding of this Great Inland Empire. The real estate men and property holders should combine and make Rome howl about Lakeview and Lake county.

Just Exactly Right

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for several years and had them just exactly right," says Mr. Felton, of Harrisville, N. Y. New Life Pills relieve without the least discomfort. Best remedy for constipation, biliousness and malaria. 25c. at Thornton's drug store.
