Prosperity Again Smiles

There is no question but that the elevation of Judge Taft to the presidency is fraught with good for the entire country. It is certainly in line with the old democratic slogan of "The greatest good to the greatest number." The result has already established confidence in every part of the Union. The wheels of commerce, of industry, which were suddenly stopped last fall, for some unaccountable and unexplained reason since the election are already on the stir. Factories of every kind are starting up. The railroads are rushing orders for new rails and equipment, and the very air seems electric with the good times to come the next four years.

The student marvels at this abrupt change from sappy and listlessness into all conquering and over powering activity. He, living in his dreams, cannot or will not see that this is an age of sordid materialism. That these are days of rampant commercialism. Business questions alone actuate the most of men. One may feel that there is something wrong with conditions that admit of the growth, mushroom-like of the colossal fortunes of the age, which naturally beget arrogance and selfishness, and which rails at any curtailment or restraint of their special or acquired privileges. The spirit of self seeking gain is a condition which in the minds of most men is wrong, and dangerous and leads to no one knows whither. But, without thought or care for the morrow, or for those who may come hereafter, one joins the mad throng in pursuit of gain, even though he be far to the rear, and eagerly scrambling for the crumbs, if the whole or part of a loaf is denied him.

Men thus actuated desire no change. They do not wish for any thing that smacks of restriction of their "business." To the victors belong the spoils, and to the weak, or the honest, necessarily under such conditions there shall come hot little. And even that little may be denied them, if the one occupying a larger sphere in business life feels that he is not getting all he deserves, not needs, and as means of coercion, tells labor to begone!

That was why Bryan was so deeply buried beneath such an avalanche of votes. Men might believe in him personally; might believe that his theories were right and for the general good; but, as the change. Business would be distracted. Capital would take steps to make itself safe, by withdrawing within steel clad doors, and hunger, gaunt and fierce, would stalk through the land as it was in the time of Cleveland!

Mr. Taft Stands Pat. The republican party, of course, has seen many things become great under its administration of the affairs of the country. Under its protecting care have grown, and thrived, the great railroad and business interests that not so long ago believed they were bigger than the government itself or of the people, until they received a wide awakening by the presidential wedding of the big stick.

The policy inaugurated by Mr. Roosevelt in putting a curb on the predatory barons, was the one plank upon which Mr. Taft firmly stood, and since he has been elected he has taken pains to state that the Roosevelt policies would be carried out to the very end. No one doubts that this will be done by Mr. Taft.

In view of that statement, constant, and reiterated during the campaign, and since, now explains why that human spider, oily John, came out with a strong endorsement of Mr. Taft, only five days before election. He knew that public sentiment was against himself and his kind, and he hoped that way to defeat Mr. Taft not that he loved Bryan, but he feared him less. He knew what he had to expect from Mr. Taft, and he did not know as Mr. Bryan would make any attempt to curb his rapacity, and for that reason endeavored to make it appear that he was for Mr. Taft thinking the people would turn to Mr. Bryan.

Fortunately, the trick was seen through by the voters, and Mr. Taft was elected by the greatest popular vote ever given man before in the history of the world!

In view of this low attempt of Rockefeller to defeat Taft, it is likely that the big stick will assume the dimensions of the tail of the Behemoth, told of in sacred history, which "waved like unto a cedar tree" and oily John may yet get behind the bars, where better men than he and less designing have gone before him!

Putting a Lid on Klamath

Something has dropped over in Klamath, as was intimated to the Examiner some few days ago, and the crusade against the bums and gamblers may cause a heira of that sort to Lakeview. But they will find plenty of stone to break, and soft sides of planks to sleep on here so they better not like this way.

A neat the crusade the Klamath Morning express has this to say: This old town seems to be on the verge of an upheaval along moral lines. Following the sweeping arrests on gambling charges recently and the discharge of the entire police force last night it is stated on good authority that today will see one of the greatest roundings up of undesirable characters and bangers on ever pulled off in Klamath Falls. All rounders and those who gain an existence other than from honest toil will be given scant time to get out of the borders of this city or they will be "bagged" and put to work on the streets.

The butchery of hunters by others hunters goes merrily on. The latest is at Roseburg, where a man was taken for a bear and killed. When a law, like that in Minnesota and Wisconsin, is enacted making such cases murder, and providing adequate penalties, such killings will stop, and not before.

Hollow Horn Bear, chief of all the Sioux, is the first living man to have his portrait on the national currency. He made a great speech in Congress in 1889, and as he is a good looking specimen of his race his picture was engraved on both $5 and $20 bills.

The Prineville Journal says Crook county has the finest Court House in Oregon. Well, now you will have to show us. We are of the opinion that the finest building of its class in Oregon is located right here in Lakeview.

Pleasant, sure, easy, safe little liver pills, are DeWitt's Little Early Riders. They are easy to take, and act gently. We sell and recommend them, Daly & Hall.

Killed Him Dead--Two Hours. A row of some sort occurred in the Indian camp Sunday night in which a Pitt River Indian hit old "Indian John" on the back of the head and "killed me dead--two hours," so John said. At any rate he did not run his sawmill for several days. He is around town now with a bandaged head. He says: "Me all right now."

Mind Your Business! If you don't nobody will. It is your business to keep out of all the trouble you can and you can and will be out of liver and bowel trouble if you take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They keep biliousness, malaria and jaundice out of your system. 25c. at A. L. Thornton's Drug Store.

Easy Money in Hogs. Alturas Plaindealer: Felix Allen arrived in town Tuesday evening with a drove of hogs which had been sold to Tom Frawley. The animals were raised on the "range" in Stone Coal, and fattened on oas, the most nutritious root known. After being grain fed for a few weeks they are equal to the best corn fed pork. The opas resembles a peanut but is much sweeter and in the early days before the coming of the white man constituted the principal food of the noble red man.

$100 Reward. $100 The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O. Sold by all druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Smiles and Squalls. By "THE VERDANT ONE". The "Salome" dance has struck Klamath Falls and the people who have seen it say, it isn't so naughty after all. It is evident that the term "naughty" all depends on one's point of view. Klamath ladies may think it nice, but the Portland ladies! Oh my! They criticised the dancer so severely that she hardly had a shred of reputation, or anything else on her person. For Chapped Skin. Chapped skin whether on the hands or face may be cured in one night by applying Chamberlain's Salve. It is also unequalled for sore nipples, burns and scalds. For sale by Daly and Hall. Ptomaine Poisoning. Alturas Plaindealer: Geo. Hilton had a close call this week as a result of ptomaine poisoning. He attributes his illness to eating canned goods. He is all right now, but looks a little worse for his illness. Too great care cannot be exercised in the consumption of canned goods of any kind. After opening the can the contents should at once be emptied into a glass or earthenware vessel. Otherwise it is dangerous. How to Cure a Cold. Be as careful as you can you will occasionally take cold, and when you do, get a medicine of known reliability, one that has an established reputation and that is certain to effect a quick cure. Such medicine is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has gained a world wide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment, and can always be depended upon. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. During the many years in which it has been in general use we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Daly and Hall.
