His Excellent ... Judgment.

(Original.)

From my boyhood I marked out for myself a political career. Some boys in their hero worship run to general military or naval heroes. My heroes were always statesmen. I did not aspire to be a statesman myself, but did aspire to be politically prominent. Before I was old enough to vote I was running the politics of the ward in which I lived. Every one said, "wait until he will some day be a great political manager."

WE use the best cuts, the best type, the best presses, the best ink, the best paper and the best workmen, in the production of our printing. THAT'S WHY

Our Printing Gets Business

MONEY paid out for good printing—the kind that brings results—is just as much and just as good an investment as that put into goods on your shelves, or the material and machinery in your plant. While that money paid out for the ordinary kind, is money wasted, thrown away, just as it would be if spent in a midnight debauch. And the result is largely the same, a sore head accompanied by a gone feeling, when you come to,

IF YOU WANT RESULTS— TRY SOME OF OUR QUALITY

Eat What

You want of the food you need Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it. Also you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak. You must eat in order to live and maintain strength. You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly. But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly. When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach. The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food. Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today, and purchase a dollar bottle, and if you can honestly say, that you did not receive any benefits from it, after using the entire bottle, the druggist will refund your money to you without question or delay. We will pay the druggist the price of the bottle purchased by you. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. We could not afford to make such an offer, unless we positively knew what Kodol will do for you. It would bankrupt us. The dollar bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is made at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

Fred Bennett, Commissioner of the General Land Office, Approved September 23, 1908, Frank K. Pierce, First Assistant Secretary of the Interior, 022N17

But if there were elements in me to advance me there seemed to be no time to pull me back. I didn't seem to forge steadily onward. I would push a peg and fall back two pegs. Let a campaign was on I would give to the leaders of my party and give them my views as to how the campaign should be managed. They always listened to me exceedingly and seemed to be impressed. Sometimes they took my advice and sometimes they didn't. But while I was always prominent in a general way, somehow I was not selected to fill any prominent position.

One day my friend Crook said to me: "There is one thing of supreme importance that is a blank in your mind. You don't recall a that no great success can be made in this world except by hanging on to some one else's coat-tail. If I should give you a glass to enable you to see it in that light, you would behold a line of men each hanging on to the skirt of the man ahead of him, like the tail of a kite reaching clear up into the sky. These are the successes. Those who are drifting about below figuring by themselves never get anywhere. Now, I know Phunnuman, who is our candidate for governor. He is an original and a genius, never does anything like anybody else. I have influence with him for in one small respect he is a hanger on to my coat-tail. He told me the other day he was looking for a secretary for the coming campaign work. If you like I'll get the position for you."

"Shake, old man," I said. "You've hit the nail on the head."

The next day my friend informed me that he had told the candidate for governor all about me, frankly including my ill success. Phunnuman had thought a moment, then said in his quick way: "Send him to me. I can make use of him."

I was engaged by the candidate at a salary of $200 a month as assistant secretary. He had a secretary who did all the work, I occupying a much higher position. I became a sort of political confidential adviser. Whenever anything of importance would come up he would take me into his private room, tell me all about it and ask my opinion as to the best course to pursue. The right way always came to me at once, it seemed, by intuition, and I never had to deliberate. Phunnuman was a very secretive man and never said, "You are right" or "You are wrong." He made no comment whatever; but, since he continued to consult me, I concluded he found my advice valuable.

Of course my position was a very pleasant one. A box of cigars was always at my disposal, and a decanter with glasses was kept in a closet for me. Phunnuman almost always took me out to lunch with him, for it was then that he could best confide all the various problems that came up before him. There's no sphere which requires such constant exercise of judgment as politics. Not a day but a number of questions came up, and many of them had to be settled at once. There's where my faculty for recognizing the pith of a question came in.

Well, Phunnuman was elected by the biggest majority any candidate had received for sixteen years. When it was all over I supposed he would take all the credit to himself, but he didn't. I was at his house the night of the election, where a telegraph apparatus had been set up, and as soon as sufficient returns had come in to insure his election he grabbed me by the hand, exclaiming joyfully: "It's all due to you, my boy. If it hadn't been for your advice I'd have been defeated in every county."

Now, that's what I call honor where honor is due. The governor retained me in my position, for you must know that the position brings more problems than a campaign to get it. He doubled my salary, and there wasn't a man in the state that had a better position than I. Besides, I had lots of opportunities to make money through information I possessed, and I made it every time, though in this no judgment was required. I simply bought when I got the tip.

When Phunnuman was sent to the United States senate he took me with him. He didn't have much use for my advice there, for he was obliged to do as the party leader directed, so I asked him to make me a secretary in reality as well as in name. This he declined to do, and, having secured a competency, I left him.

Phunnuman died in the senate. After his death Crook, who had got me my position with him, showed me a letter of thanks the governor had sent him the day after his election to that office. In it he said:

"There is a right and a wrong decision on most questions. I judged from what you told me of his failures that your friend always decided wrong, so I took no step in the campaign without consulting him and doing the opposite from what he advised me to do. It is lucky I held to the rule, for I often agreed with him."

All current topics made plain in each issue by special editorial matter written from inception down to date. The only paper published especially for people who do not read daily newspapers and yet thirst for plain facts.
