HIS LUCK.

How a "Linguist" Came to Lose a Good Meal.

"Madam," began the man with the red nose to the farmer's wife, "you see before you a learned man in hard luck. In fact, I am one of the world's greatest linguists."

"Is it painful?" she sympathetically asked.

"You don't understand, madam. A linguist is one who can talk the languages. Now, I can converse with you in Latin. I can tell you the sad story of my life in Greek. I can go to the lecture platform and lecture in any language known to man."

"Dew tell!" she gasped.

"Yes, madam; all the languages are spoken fluently by me. Were you German I would talk German with you; were you French we would converse in the language of that country; were you Spanish you would think from my talk that I was a native of the land of the dons."

"I want tew know! Mebbe you'd jest as soon ask fur a piece of pie in Latin?"

"Certainly, madam—E pluribus unum semper idem de pumpkin."

"Want, the idea!" exclaimed the amazed farmer's wife. "An' how does the French language sound?"

"Beautiful, madam. When I say in French, 'Parie vous rouget noir on sausage?' I mean, 'Isn't it a lovely day?'"

"Good hands!"

"The same sentence in German would be, 'Ach, ludwaiser und der klempsteln is out!'"

"Want, want! How sun folks dew run tew smartness! Will ye take dinner with us?"

"Certainly, madam."

"It's real kind of ye to be so obligin'. My son will be hum from college any mornin', an' he writes that he knows all them languages. You an' him can talk 'em all over an' let pa an' me listen to ye. Would you like to step over to the wash house an' wash up fur dinner? It's all ready."

The great "linguist" heaved a heavy sigh, muttered something about fool sons being around when they were not wanted and started in the direction of the wash house.

But he did not return.—Bohemian.

Her Visit to the Dentist.

An Irish maid in the service of a Washington family recently sought permission of her mistress to take an afternoon off for the purpose of consulting a dentist.

Upon her return the mistress said: "Well, Rosalie, did you have the tooth filled?"

"I did, mum."

"And what did the dentist fill it with—gold or amalgam?"

"I don't know just what it was, mum, but from the way I feel I should think it was with thunder and lightning, mum."

Spare the Horses.

A cavalry sergeant at a western post had endured the stupidity of a recruit for many days. One day the "rookie" was thus greeted when he had violated the sergeant's orders:

"Say, don't ever come at the horses from behind without speakin' to 'em!" exclaimed the sergeant. "They'll be kickin' in that thick head of yours. Then the first thing you know there'll be a lot o' lame horses in the squadron."—Harper's Weekly.

Domestic Repartee.

"John," said Mrs. Binks, "I wish you'd give Jimmie a good hard spanking. I can't get him to take his bath, and he's about as dirty as he can be."

"Oh, I don't think dusting his jacket will clean him up!" returned John.

"I don't want you to dust his jacket," said Mrs. Binks. "I want you to soak him for fair."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Insured Against Intrusion.

"My insurance costs me $10 a week."

"That's pretty steep, isn't it?"

"Well, it's the price I have to pay for a porter husky enough to chase agents away."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Neighborly Comment.

Mrs. Caller—Mrs. Neurich is a peculiar woman.

Mrs. Uppson—Indeed!

Mrs. Caller—Yes. Why, I really believe she thinks more of her dog than she does of her little boy.

Mrs. Uppson—I don't doubt it. The dog has a famous pedigree.—Chicago News.

Paradoxical, but Plain.

"There is one thing which, while always a lively proceeding, is yet a dead issue."

"What is that?"

"Contesting a will."—Baltimore American.

Commercial Printing

WE use the best cuts, the best type, the best presses, the best ink, the best paper and the best workmen, in the production of our printing. THAT'S WHY

Our Printing Gets Business

MONEY paid out for good printing—the kind that brings results—is just as much and just as good an investment as that put into goods on your shelves, or the material and machinery in your plant. While that money paid out for the ordinary kind, is money wasted, thrown away, just as it would be if spent in a midnight debauch. And the result is largely the same, a sore head accompanied by a gone feeling, when you come to.

Home Trade Versus Roam Trade.

Home trade! Home trade! It's better far than roam trade. So keep your dollars in the town. Lend them, spend them, But never, never send them Around the world to wander up and down.

The celebrated American poet who penned those immortal lines might have added a prose footnote to the effect that roam trade will cease when home trade makes the same effort to get business as roam trade makes. In other words, when the home merchant advertises adequately in the home paper.

Did THAT ever occur to you?

America's Greatest Weekly

THE TOLEDO BLADE

TOLEDO, OHIO

The Best known Newspaper in the United States

CIRCULATION 200,000

Popular in Every State

In many respects the Toledo Blade is the most remarkable weekly newspaper published in the United States. It is the only newspaper especially edited for National circulation. It has had the largest circulation for more years than any newspaper printed in America. Furthermore, it is the cheapest newspaper in the world, as will be explained to any person who will write us for terms. The News of the World so arranged that busy people can more easily comprehend, than by reading cumbersome columns of dailies. All current topics made plain in each issue by special editorial matter written from inception down to date. The only paper published especially for people who do not read daily newspapers, and yet thirst for plain facts. That this kind of a newspaper is popular, is proven from the fact that the Weekly Blade now has over 200,000 yearly subscribers, and is circulated in all parts of the United States.
