A Complete Record

We have made an entire transcript of all Records in Lake County, which, in any way, affect Real Property in the county. We have a complete Record of every Mortgage and transfer ever made in Lake County, and every Deed given.

ERRORS FOUND.

In transcribing the records we have found numerous mortgages recorded in the Deed record and not indexed; and many deeds are recorded in the Mortgage record and other books. Hundreds of mortgages and deeds are not indexed at all, and are most difficult to trace up from the records.

We have notations of all these Errors:

Others cannot find them. We have spent hundreds of dollars hunting for these errors, and we can guarantee our work.

A MECHANICAL FEAT.

Sawing a Stone House in Two With a Steel Cord.

They have just performed an extraordinary feat of mechanical engineering in an extraordinary way in Paris. It became necessary to isolate the electric plant in the Rue St. Roch from the houses that adjoin it because of the incessant tremor which its vast dynamo sent through these houses. The foundations and the facade were continuous masonry, but the side walls were separate. So only the heavy piers of the foundations and the stones of the facade had to be considered. Tearing down was impossible, at least so far as the basement was concerned. So Mr. Friese, the company's architect, conceived the idea of sawing the buildings apart.

Every one is familiar with the cord that is used for cutting butter and soap, but most people will be astonished when told that there is also a cord for cutting stone. This is used in sawing blocks of marble. It is an endless spiral cord of steel wire, drawing with it wet sand, the friction of which cuts rock. This is just what was used for sawing the electric plant away from the adjacent buildings.

An elaborate framework was erected upon the sidewalk, with pulleys and counterbalancing weights and traveling motor. A well was dug to receive the water and sand and a pipe to convey it. A horizontal hole was bored at the top of each pier of the foundation, and the steel cord was threaded through these so as to work upon all at once. The motor which operated the cord descended with it as fast as it cut the masonry. About every twenty hours the cord was worn out, and a new one had to be substituted. It cut between three and four inches an hour. When the masonry had been cut all the way down a second cut was made two inches from the first, thus leaving a layer of stone which it was easy to break away, and so the walls were separated from their neighbors by a clean space of two inches. In a similar way the facade was cut away. There was no interruption of work or damage to the buildings.—New York World.

The Kilt in China.

According to all accounts, the arrival of the Cameron highlanders in Peking to replace the Middlesex regiment as legation guards created something of a sensation among the inhabitants. The kilt is a source of great wonderment. The China Times asserts that the natives are hard at work trying to assimilate the Scotch language. They are reported as already making favorable progress. Instead of their favorite expression, "Me no savvy," they now employ "I dinna ken," and they greet the foreigner with "Guid mornin'" with an excellent Auchtermuchty accent. It is added that some Chinese compradores, who are men of inquisitive turn of mind, want to know "what for new soldier man cathee clothes allee same missis?" which recalls the story of the Russian Crimean veteran who declared that the best fighters in the British army were the women!

Luck of First Baby in Town.

It must be a nice thing to be the first baby in a new town and start life with a fistful of stocks and bonds. That was the good fortune of Wagner William Norton, who was born Aug. 31 in Mildred, a "cement" town in Allen county, Kan. Mildred Wagner, after whom the town was named, gave the baby a gold spoon, and J. W. Wagner of Kansas City, after whom the baby was named, gave the child a solid silver cup. And the manager of the cement plant at Mildred was so gratified at the increase of population in the little town that he gave the infant a share of preferred stock in the company.

The residents of the town are now predicting an unusual augmentation of settlers, but it is not unlikely that the next baby will be lucky if it gets a rubber doll.—Kansas City Star.

Millions of Acres Remain.

Though it has given away whole empires to settlers and railroads and has been robbed of millions of acres by land "grafters," the United States government still holds 754,895,296 acres of public lands. This would give every man, woman and child in the country nearly ten acres apiece. However, nearly half of this land is in Alaska—368,021,509 acres of it—and probably will not be of great value for years to come. But enough of it remains in the western states to accommodate millions of settlers. The constant pressure of overpopulation is certain to force continuous immigration to this country until all our surplus land is taken up.—Baltimore Sun.

Gotham and the Hub—A Contrast.

Says the Boston Traveler: "New York fleeces her dwellers by ordinance, her visitors by agreement, her transients by sand bags; Boston sells them copper stocks and revolutionary souvenirs. The New Yorker who has escaped the alderman, the lobster palace and the sandbagger gives his money to a bank receiver, and that prudent person brings it to Boston to escape the burglar. New York is a financial center; Boston is a financial refuge. People camp on the cliffs of New York; they have homes in Boston. Gotham is clubbed by policemen; the Hub is policed by clubmen. New York is a way station on the road to hades; Boston is the gateway to paradise."
