CHECKING GREED The Examiner is an admirer of President Roosevelt. It loves him for the enemies he has made in his effort to right wrongs to which the people of this land have been subjected. In every endeavor he naturally has met bitter opposition from those entrenched under what is termed "vested rights,"—rights stolen without recourse from the people of this whole land, for the benefit and perpetuity of private individuals. In this way we have seen the natural oil deposits of the country go into the capacious maw of Rockefeller; transportation facilities, the iron deposits, the timber resources, the coal measures, the telephone, the electric lights, the water systems of municipalities, all public utilities that should be owned by and for the people, have all gone into private hands, and have become "vested interests,"—levers with which to extract from the people of this nation every possible cent of tribute, for the sole and only purpose of up building and perpetuating the most colossal private fortunes the world has ever known.

DEMAND FOR CHEAP AUTO A writer in a technical journal, whose views on the subject may be considered reasonably authoritative, says the time will come in a few years when touring automobiles may be bought for $100 and runabouts for $250, and he goes on to imagine the poor clerks and others who will then own their own automobiles and be able to dispense with the necessity of street car or railway transit. The Examiner man is waiting for the above blessed day to come. Some claim that with cheap automobiles will come the time when people will not care for them. In this they argue from the decline of the bicycle fad, showing that the rage for wheels was at its height when the price ranged from $100 to $150, and that the demand fell off with the arrival of the $15 to $25 wheels.

THE trouble is, however, that, great as was the natural resources of the land, the greater percentage of such things are now exhausted. The coal supply, and the timber for fuel supply, are about depleted. The coal is gone and cannot be replaced, and the same may also be said of the petroleum deposit. And any attempt toward reforestation must necessarily be limited in extent because of the encroachment upon lands formerly occupied by forest growth, of a dense and constantly increasing population, and also because of the length of time required to build up a forest growth. In view of these conditions far seeing "captains of industry" have already begun the process of securing all the water powers of the land, with the ultimate purpose of reaping tribute from the public at such time when the depletion of our coal oil and forest growth, will make such utilities valuable and profitable for purposes of evolving heat, light and power. It is stated, authoritatively, that it is now only a matter of ten years before all railroad lines will be operated by electrical power. Indeed, the transition has already begun both in the east and in the west.

EVERYBODY'S Magazine A STAR SERIAL BEGINS NOW There is an article in this number with a big job in it. DON'T MISS IT. You know some of the things EVERYBODY'S has done. THIS IS ANOTHER. There is a story by the "Pigs Is Pigs" man that is one long ache of laughter, and back of these special features a big, fine EVERYBODY'S MAGAZINE.

which will be endorsed by every man except those seeking further "vested rights," in the following manly and ringing words: Through lack of foresight we have formed the habit of granting without compensation, extremely valuable rights, amounting to monopolies, in navigable streams and on the public domain.

"NO RIGHTS INVOLVING WATER POWER SHOULD BE GRANTED TO ANY CORPORATION IN PERPETUATION, BUT ONLY FOR A LENGTH OF TIME SUFFICIENT TO ALLOW THEM TO CONDUCT THEIR BUSINESS PROFITABLY. A REASONABLE CHARGE, SHOULD, OF COURSE, BE MADE FOR VALUABLE RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES WHICH THEY OBTAIN FROM THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT." The values for which this charge is made will ultimately, through the natural growth and orderly development of our population and industry, reach enormous results. A fair share of the increase should be safeguarded for the benefit of the people from whose labor it springs. The proceeds thus secured, after the cost of administration and improvement has been met should naturally be devoted to the development of our interests and waterways.

"Accordingly, I have decided to sign no bills hereafter which do not provide specifically for the right to fix and make a charge and for a definite limitation in time of the rights conferred." "As we are met with conditions of industry seriously affecting the public welfare, we should not hesitate to adopt measures for the protection of the public merely because those measures are new. When the public welfare is involved, Congress should resolve any reasonable doubt as to its legislative power in favor of the people and against seekers of a special privilege."

In the years to come, when the effort that man has made toward curbing the rapacity and regulating the work of predatory wealth is better known, and the beneficial and far reaching effects for the common good is more thoroughly understood and appreciated, then will come to him the plaudit: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant!" May his kind increase!

and feels that his pen will be a potent force in the cause of the people as against the further encroachment of monopolistic interests. He knows the infamous doings of alleged statesmen in both houses of Congress, and will not be afraid to let the people know what he knows. More power to his pen!

It is stated that work of construction on the Harriman roads in Central Oregon will commence inside of two months. The different surveys are now being sized up so as to determine the best and cheapest route on which to begin operations.

Congress has taken steps to buy the lands containing the big trees in California. They never should have been sold. It is merely another case of giving away the people's birth right.

Smiles and Squalls

Now comes the personal physician of John D. who says his oily magedy will live to be 100 years old. Well, he will own us all, body soul and breeches, by that time! One of the Solons of Salem has introduced a bill prohibiting women from using hats plus more than 10 inches long. Who jabbed him? And what for? A Heppner man, who thought his wife was going to die, bought a coffin and candles for the wake. But the lady thought he was too anxious, and got up as lively as a cricket. He had to store the things in his barn. A St. Louis paper says that the plutocratic agriculturists of the west who have full granaries and plethora bank accounts, are wondering what the special commission will be able to do to make farm life more attractive, unless it be to advise the farmer to move into town.
