Poetry and the Modern Play.

—P. ROY MATTHEW, Poet and Dramatist.

THE CHIEF APPEALS OF THE MODERN PLAYS THAT HAVE MARKED A NEW ELEMENT OF SUCCESS IN THE THEATER HAVE BEEN POETIC. WE SEEM TO HAVE ENTERED UPON A NEW DECADE IN THE AMERICAN THEATER—A NEW PRINCIPLE IN PLAYS.

AIRPORT GAO.
The most wonderful thing today is the instant and wide appreciation these new forces of poetry in modern plays have received from the American people. It has not been a merely vagrant interest among the elect and cultured, but a UNIVERSAL AWAKENING to the poetry of modern life. It is the most hopeful and inspiring prospect for the modern dramatist, because it opens up an infinite field of subjects that had by customs and prejudices of the theater been more or less improbable. Thanks to the pioneers who have marked a new direction in dramatic literature, the poetic drama has achieved a NEW IMPETUS, acquired a NEW SHARE in the poetry of daily life.

Nothing that the poet dramatist cares to depict can be forbidden ground, because the poetry of any subject in a play will illuminate some unknown or half-suspected facts in human nature to the general idealization of humanity.

NO THEME IS TOO BIG FOR THE THEATER.

You can put the wildest conceivable scene in a tiny box—a nut, if you like—but the perspectives of the middle distances or even the modern poetic drama has to consider in its scenes now so much as the central idea, THE GERM UNSEEN IN THE PLAY, as it is hidden and compacted in the heart of all humanity.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Watson treated the ladies of the Eastern Star Lodge to a dinner and their husbands to a social banquet, on the 22nd inst. Mrs. W. H. Shirk and Mrs. Warner Soeder assisted in receiving.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with flags, bunting and pictures. Card games followed and all pronounced it a very enjoyable evening.

Those present were Messrs and Mrs. George, Gowen, W. Shirk, Bernard, Shirk, Dowton, Mr. Gilman Miller, Stone, Thornton, Mrs. Dell Cobb, Misses Soeder and Jones.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by a number of invited friends who met at the home of Kelton Gunther last Friday evening in honor of his birthday. The evening was spent in playing progressive whist after which the guests seated themselves to most delicious luncheon. Fine prizes were won by Miss Hazel Moore who received a beautiful cup and saucer and by Mr. Lynn Cronemiller, who was presented with a purse. Consolation prizes were awarded to Miss Louise Storckmann and Mr. Walt Dutton. Kelton received many hearty andметtiful souvenirs of the occasion. Following here the names of those who were present: Misses Hazel Stokes, Agie Barnes, Melle Gibbons, Elmer Stockmann, Mac Green, and Misses Murray, Upard, James Jones, Kelton Gunther, Guy Cronemiller, Carl Limback, Lynn Cronemiller, Walt Dutton.

Personal Mention

L. C. Parker has been laboring in the Lord's vineyard at New Pine Creek the past two weeks. He will occupy the pulpit of the M. E. Church here again Sunday.

T. J. Powell has been confined to his room at Hotel Lakeview several days the past week with an attack of La grippe.

Miss Louise Storckmann has accepted a position as clerk in the Anstrom Bros. store.

L. A. Carricker was in from the West Side Saturday in spite of the snow storm that prevailed all that day. It was not cold, however, being about 28 above zero.

A. W. Anthony, of Portland, was at Hotel Lakeview Monday.

The Klamath Falls Herald of the 17th inst says: J. D. Bolton and wife of Lakeview were registered at the Lakeview Hotel.

A. Barnes, of Plush, was a county seat visitor Wednesday.

H. O. Fleming of Willow Ranch was in town last week.

P. M. Harvey, of Adin, Calif., was in town Saturday.

J. P. Kelsey, S. Gaylord and George Cunn are in town this week.

L. P. Klippel and David Graf, of Summer Lake were in town Monday.

O. Bennett, of Decatur, Ill., arrived in town Sunday with a view to permanent location. He is very favorably impressed with the town and country.

Geo. Beckman, of Lindsborg, Kansas is in town this week looking over the country for a lot of his townsmen who are interested in the Oregon Valley Land Co.'s lands. He is well-pleased with the Goose Lake Valley, and considers that every contract-holder will be more than pleased with his holdings.

T. E. Bernard was around the other day favoring his friends with a handsome and novel calendar.

Hans Jepsen, of Deer River, Minn., brother of Nels, of the Pacific Land Co., is a recent arrival. He has located a homestead in the Warner Valley. He is much pleased with the outlook for that region.

V. L. Snelling and wife returned Sunday from their visit in Portland and other points in the Willamette Valley.

Miss Veda Bonhom, returned Sunday from Silver Lake, where she had been visiting her parents. She recently passed an examination for civil service, and is now a full fledged stenographer in the National Forestry Office in Lakeview.

J. C. Oliver blew in with Saturday's storm from the West Side.

Victor Maxwell is expected home this week.

The ball given the 22nd, in the Opera House, was well attended and all had a jolly good time.

James Frenzel and G. Gobenstein, of Omaha, Nebraska, are recent arrivals in town.

"DRYS" WIN IN MODOC COUNTY

At the election held last week in Modoc County, California, just over the line south of Lakeview, all of the persons voting went "dry" by a three fourths vote.

Alturas, being an incorporated city did not vote, but petitions have been circulated this week asking for signers with the intent of presenting to the Town Board, asking an election to be held in Alturas on the "wet" and "dry" proposition.

This puts New Pine Creek, straddling of the State line, in a "dry" condition in both states, and after July 1st it will not be possible for a Lake county man to step over the line and get an eye opener in California.
