DRIVERS NOT DAREDEVILS.

Louis Strang Talks of the Dangers of Automobiling. Drivers of auto racing cars get a lot more credit for being daredevils than they deserve.

"As a matter of fact, a driver takes very little chance for an accident which may put his car out of a race and himself in a hospital, if nothing worse.

"Human instinct, which guided the cyclist, asserts itself to the same or a greater degree with the chauffeur. A wonderfully good pair of eyes have helped in my success as a driver.

"Judgment of speed and the marvelous accuracy in estimating the comparative width of the opening and relative width of the car he is driving will enable the driver to pass through safely when the wheels may graze.

Britt to Fight Summers.

Jimmy Britt of San Francisco, who is to fight Johnny Summers, weighing 134 pounds, the champion of England, at Wonderland, in London, in November for ten rounds at catchweights.

Stagg Talks on Professionals.

"I will not insult my football candidates by asking them if they are professionals," said Coach Stagg of the University of Chicago on hearing of the rumor that has been circulated in regard to the alleged professionalism of two of his players.

The rumor started that two of Stagg's best football men were suspected of professionalism and that in the course of the football year would be protested. It hinted that Wisconsin, which school protested Quigley last spring, would take action against the maroons.

St. Louis Pitchers Must Make Good.

Manager McAleer's three exquisites who are going to make good for him next year in the pitcher's box will have to get a running start on the season if they desire not to make genial James out a well—a poor judge of baseball kin. James thought that Bailey, Graham and Criss would make the best trio of young pitchers in the American league next season.

Harvard Has Plenty of Coaches.

Harvard has a good supply of football coaches, distributed as follows: Charles Daly, who is to develop a quarterback; Kernap and Hurley, back field; Knowlton and Kersberg, line-men; Greene, center; Head Coach Haughton, ends and general team work; Cameron Forbes, vice governor of the Philippines, who as head coach in 1898 turned out a winning team.

Pauxties is Eligible.

Pauxties, end for the Pennsylvania team last year, has been declared eligible by the Penn faculty athletic committee to play again. He was never declared ineligible to represent the red and blue, but his case had hung fire so long that it was feared there was no hope of securing his services.

Mountford May Play Halfback.

Mountford, the army quarterback of last season, is likely to play halfback this year. The coaches were not satisfied with his work against the navy, although his ability to play good football is indisputable.

Capron a Professional.

George Capron, the famous drop kicker and captain elect of the Minnesota football team, has been barred by the Minnesota faculty and will never play on a Gopher eleven.

Mount Pleasant at Dickinson.

Famous Frank Mount Pleasant, formerly a Carlisle Indian football player, is playing quarterback on Dickinson college eleven.
