A MOMENTOUS QUESTION. The republican party in its platform promised tariff reform. President Taft has insisted that such promised revision be made promptly and faithfully both in letter and spirit.

But it begins to look as though a republican congress intended no such thing, if the Payne bill is to become a law. And if it becomes a law there will probably be a day of reckoning in the future for the party.

Chaup Clark, the democratic leader, probably takes a strong partizan view in his criticism of the bill, wherein he insists that the Payne bill as a revenue measure depends too much upon taxing the necessities, and too little in taxing the luxuries.

Congressman Clark insists that many of these duties should be changed to a revenue basis, and in many particulars the rank and file of the country will agree he is right.

Obviously, there is a nation wide demand for a revision of the tariff that will reduce the cost of living, and any tinkering that will not compel the trusts and interests favored by tariffs of the past and now in force to make concessions to the many and not for the benefit of the few, will not be quietly accepted by the people as a party expediency, and will result in such clamor that the republican party will be shaken from its pedestal of high ideals.

Equal taxation should be the basis of all legislation and anything that falls short of that end will not be tolerated longer than the people can find means to remedy such evil.

A national recall would make congressmen a little more careful in their legislative acts. As it is now there is no effective remedy for gross acts on the part of congress, except to refuse the delinquent re-election, and too frequently, some new issue arises that overshadows the cause of complaint and the culprit gets back to congress to repeat his offense, it may be, in some other way.

AN EXPENSIVE "KITTY"

Everybody's Magazine is laboring hard in the cause of justice, and is doing yeoman service against every form of graft. Just now it is fighting the speculative game whereby lambs are systematically plucked of millions every year.

There are a score of Wall street brokerage houses that make from $150,000 to $300,000 annually in years not marked by lessened speculation due to financial and industrial depressions. There are hundreds of other houses that are disappointed with returns which fall below such figures as $125,000, $100,000, and $75,000.

The approximate annual cost of the speculative game to those who patronize brokers and commission men in the United States is thus indicated in this recapitulation: Operating Expenses of Speculative Firms $100,000,000 Profits to such Firms from Commissions Paid by Customers 40,000,000

Paid by Customers to Bank on Interest Account 40,000,000 Cost of the Game $180,000,000 Let there be no misapprehension concerning the nature of that total of $180,000,000. It does not imply that this is the gross amount of loss sustained by those who speculate in Wall Street and elsewhere. It has nothing to do with that. This $180,000,000 is a fairly accurate statement of the size of "the kitty." It is the subsidy contributed by the public for the privilege of gambling in stocks and bonds.

WORKING GIRLS MAKE BEST WIVES. Miss Mary Woolley, college president of Boston, is authority for the statement that "it is the factory and shop and office workers and not the college bred girl who makes the ideal wife."

Miss Woolley bases her statement on the alleged fact that, through their activity and earnestness, girl bread winners develop a spirit of sincerity and the proper appreciation of a home, which are largely unknown among the unwed girls who have no occasion to develop a longing for a home of their own.

She declares the woman who works is much more anxious to be married than her stay-at-home sisters and that, while formerly she was convinced that the opposite was the rule, today after conducting a series of investigations among employed women, she is certain beyond a shadow of doubt that the independent girl who goes to her shop or office every day is more sincere in her love of a home than the college girl, who lacks the experience of and contact with the real conditions of life.

The Oregonian is not altogether right in some things, but in its war against the robber tariff, which enriches the few to the detriment of the many, it is fighting the fight of the common people.

For instance in a recent issue it spoke right to the point when it said: Mr. Payne said women could get along without some kind of gloves, or fewer of them, or could manage to keep their hands warm, though they could not cover their pride. Passing by the sneer, women will be heavily taxed in keeping their hands warm.

The Mt. Sterling (Ill.), Republican contains this surprising statement:—A year ago when the saloons were voted out of this city, a few people, (and probably only a few) were a little frightened (and probably only a little) by the prophecies of the dire calamities which would fall upon the city in the event the saloons were put out of business.

A step toward the ultimate annexation of Cuba is embodied in a resolution introduced in the house by Representative Helm of Kentucky. It provides that whenever a majority of the voters of the island shall vote in favor of annexation to the United States the territory of the island shall be annexed on such terms and conditions as the proper authorities of both countries may agree upon.

THE CRYSTAL CUP OF LIFE. The poet calls life "crystal chalice." Which is a fine figure.

You can fill a chalice or cup to the brim, and then if you want an overflow you must thrust or drop something into it. The amount of the overflow will be determined by the size of that which you put into the cup.

He who made our earthly vessels of mortal life filled them even to the brim. Your earthly chalice holds within it life. Whether you shall have that life "more abundantly" depends upon what you put into the vessel.

For instance— If you put love into the chalice of your life, your life will overflow in loveliness. If you put hatred into it, it will overflow in hatred.

In other words, YOU CANNOT GET ANY MORE OUT OF YOUR LIFE THAN YOU PUT INTO IT. You may get less; you cannot get more.

On the contrary, it is a most gracious provision. It puts the powers of the universe into your humble hands. It commissions you as captain of your destiny.

THE MORE YOU PUT INTO THE CUP THE MORE IS LEFT TO PUT IN.

That is to say, the more love you put in the more love you have left, to say nothing of the overflow of loveliness. The more hate you put in the more hatred you have left, to say nothing of the hideous overflow of hate.

Because its operations are transparent to all. You can see the process every day in others—and in yourself. You can see men and women putting love or hatred or envy or revenge into their cups of life.

Why, "all you can hold in your dead, cold hand is what you have given away"—what you have steadily put into the chalice.

Why, "all you can hold in your dead, cold hand is what you have given away"—what you have steadily put into the chalice.

occupy the pulpit much longer than on Sunday afterward. The press and clergy go hand in hand with the white wash brush, rosy spectacles magnifying the little virtues and kindly throwing little deformities into oblivion. The pulpit, the pen and the gravestone are partners in saint making.

Cardinal Gibbons, of the Catholic Church, evidently is fully alive to the evils to which the American people are subjected when he raises his voice as follows: "No man can be a good citizen who sets at defiance the laws of the commonwealth. The man that breaks the laws of the state is violating at the same time some commandment of the decalogue."

Fourteen weeks to pick out a jury ignorant enough to try that man Calhoun in San Francisco! No wonder the Portland Journal man breaks out in this piece of blank verse: He never read no paper, and never heard no news; he knowed nobody much, and never had no views.

The new Nevada Banking Law gives security to depositors. There was need of such law, as too many Nevadans learned to their sorrow.

A Kansas farmer drowned himself from remorse because he had failed to make a return of all his property to the assessor. It is now up to John D. J. Pierp and some others, to do and do likewise. If they will only do so the history will give them a better place in its pages than will be the case if they persist in dodging their just taxes.

The Yreka Journal says it is our Christian duty for counties to build a home for aged, indigent women, and its sermon in advocating such a laudable purpose rings true. Too many of aged women are, through no fault of their own thrust upon the cold charities of the world.

Harriman says "that the issuance of railroad securities is none of the people's business." But, when the milk can handles the pump handle too busily the people make it their "business" to see that he stops it. And eventually the people will make it their "business" to squeeze the water out of railroad stocks, too.

Judge Pike, of Nevada, has stopped the divorce business in that state by deciding that no divorces will be granted, except to bona fide residents of that state and then only for statutory causes. The actor class, and the venal rich, are beginning to flod out that there is such a thing as decency, after all.

In spite of the great depression in business in 1908, the steel trust managed to pull out a profit of $91,847,710. If any better argument could be advanced for a lowering of tariff taxes, it has escaped notice. And, besides, Carnegie says the trust does not now need protection.

The Bankers of Pittsburg have sent an appeal to Secretary of state Knox asking him to take steps to stop the manipulation of wheat on the Chicago Board of trade. This appeal is sent following two failures in the last two days, which have been traced directly to the Patten deal.

Senator Chamberlain has introduced a bill before Congress to establish a Land Office at Vale. The move is a deserving one as the great distance from Burns to Vale, and the immense amount of land in each district would justify the making of a new district at Vale.

The Oregonian is moved to say: Harriman is exasperatingly slow, even though Oregon approaches nearer and nearer the time of going into railroad business itself.

There is mor catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment.

Our Motto: "Don't Let Us Alone!"

That National Prosperity Association wants everybody to quit "agitating." Its motto is "Let Us Alone." Well, that may be all right for the immense commercial concerns of the country—the manufacturers, etc.—but it is all wrong for the ordinary business house.

You don't want people to let you alone. You want them to come around and buy goods, don't you? But they will let you alone unless you "agitate." And the way to agitate is to ADVERTISE. Our columns are open, and the space price is just right.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it, Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia. Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it. Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only
