LAKEVIEW - OREGONNEW-COMERS ARE WELL PLEASED

Dr. Rensing, of Paintville, Ky., has arrived in Lakeview. He has been in the entire state, with a view to locating a place where he would like to live. He liked Coos Bay pretty well, but now that he is here, he has followed up by close analysis of the conditions here, and he is inclined to think that this is the place for him.

W. Anderson, wife and daughter arrived Thursday from Butte, Mont., and are delighted with the country. Mr. Anderson and his brother, with the latter having been for some weeks, have bought the Anderson place on the West side, and being experienced farmers, certainly make a success of the place. The Examiner is glad to see such people to Lake County.

Aden, wife and little daughter, of Wichita, Kansas, arrived in Lakeview Thursday and came to stay. Aden has several contracts in the Coos Valley Land Co.'s enterprise, but will put in his time between now and the drawing, Sept. 9th, in leading simple life by camping out and fishing, with the view of giving a rest from business cares. He will find plenty of game available for such a pastime in mountains where health can be had to the fullest extent.

THE MARVELOUS CALORIS BOTTLE, which gives such seemingly impossible results, is constructed on scientific principles for the purpose of keeping liquids, for a prolonged period, at the same temperature in which they are placed in the bottle.

It will keep contents hot thirty days and warm two and a half days; it will keep contents ice cold three and a half days and cold five days.

A. L. THORNTON,
Lakeview, - OregonLAKEVIEW PEOPLE
TAKE IN KLAMATH

Messrs. Shirk, Miller, Hankins, Ruehart and Clapp, left early Sunday morning for Klamath Falls, with their autos loaded with 32 people, besides the baseball team the party included Messrs. and Madames Shirk Miller and Snelling and Mr. C. U. Snider. The baseball team won by 11 to 4. Young Gore nearly died of heart failure on the way home and had to be left at Houlton for medical attention. Carroll was taken down with the measles on his return and had to be left at Drews valley. The rest of the boys were exposed to the disease, and had to be fumigated on their return home.

Hogs and Alfalfa

There is no question but that the farmer who has an alfalfa patch can make big money in Oregon in raising hogs. The price of $8.15 per cwt in the Portland market would be just like finding the money, and would be lots better than a license to steal. If you haven't an alfalfa patch, get one and a few pigs, and our word for it, you can soon ride to town in your own automobile.

The Journal of the 9th inst. says: "In the Portland market yesterday, 196 head of fat hogs brought the fancy figure of $8.15 per cwt. The sale is the more interesting because the best figure obtainable in the Chicago market the same day was $7.67. The high price is the sign of scarcity, and the scarcity is the oft told tale of Oregon's failure to feed herself. Moral: Raise hogs!"

Oregon Hustler Here

Addison Bennett, the well known and able editor of The Dallas Optimist, and representative of the Portland Journal, is in town and addressed the Board of Trade last evening on the question of the state constructing its own railroads in sections now neglected by railroad magnates. There is no one better posted on this matter than Mr. Bennett, and we shall give a report of his address in our next issue.

Speaking of the coal vein in Jackson County, the Central Point Herald says: "The coal is almost a solid formation. It is only a question of days. Heavy blocks weighing tons are found. The dip of the vein is gone, and the formation leads straight back under the hill. As a paying proposition, the coal mines are established. The product only awaits transportation and that is in sight."

We can fill your order for doors and windows. B. & M.

An observant farmer says that the rain we had Tuesday and Wednesday was just like going out and finding a big red automobile in his barn with his own signature engraved on the nameplate. We hope he will get a crop big enough this fall to get that auto—and if you have anything left get the editor one, too!

SCHOOL LAND ASSIGNMENTS

We have for sale 320 acres of land, in Klamath County, 30 miles west of Lakeview, the most part of which is mountain meadow land, with some timber on it. There is a creek running through this tract but is not used for irrigation, as this land does not require irrigation, there being abundant sub-irrigation to produce a good growth of grass. This is an excellent property for a dairyman, or a first class pasture land. Price per acre, $1250. cash, balance as per terms on school land. We also have another school land assignment for 320 acres, located in the Warner valley, and is bench land, but excellent pasture land. This tract is lower in elevation than Lakeview, but there is no water here for irrigation, and the same would have to be used either as pasture land or for dry land crops. The price of $4. per acre will justify you in buying this for a speculation. Half cash will handle the above property, the balance as per state terms. Further particulars regarding either of the above properties will be furnished upon application to,

Have you noticed the dry land wheat of Baker on the foothills? asks the Baker City Herald. "It will pay you to take a good look at that and begin figuring how you can possess a chunk of Baker county's dry dirt, for sooner or later it will be very valuable." And, be the same token, keep the eye of ye on the dry dirt at Lake County, bedad!

One of the things that has heretofore stood in the path toward the growth of Portland, and which has given her rival, Seattle, prestige, was the question of a deep water channel over the bar of the Columbia. That now is obviated, and the improvements are working toward a 40-foot channel. So soon as that is assured, nothing can stop her progress, unless it should be the town of Vancouver, Washington, that stands right on the Columbia and is the natural gateway of the Great Inland Empire.

We have a large assortment of door locks, door bells hinges etc. B. & M.
