CITY AND COUNTY BRIEFS

The fall term of court under Judge No-and began Monday.

Klamath gamblers have been raided, too. That town is a sure good imitator.

The stormy period has opened in the east, snow at Duluth, Des Moines, Minneapolis, Kansas City and Wheeling, West Virginia. Lakeview is basking in sunshine and reveling in a big fruit harvest these days. Go back? Well, we guess, all!

The gardener who will put in celery and asparagus for this market can make a fortune in short order.

Report has it that the Burlington is coming too. Good enough!

A. J. Scott, formerly of Paisley, but now a resident of Coloussa, was in town a few days last week. He is a long time resident of Lake county, who left because of declining years, with the view of spending the rest of his life in the sunshine of California.

See Auten's display of Tiffany glassware.

Our beautiful fall weather has brought out our young people in force to the Tennis Court.

The skating rink is now open, much to the delight of the young people. And it might also be stated that some of the older ones enjoy the gay and festive rollers.

Judge No-and and wife, of Klamath Falls, arrived Monday. The Judge came over in his new Schacht high wheeled auto. He made the trip in 10 hours, which is about as good time as the big machines make, and he did not hurry. He is very highly pleased with the machine, and believes that class will come into higher favor when better known.

Elder S. H. Riley, who drew the "Horae Ranch," buildings and fine orchard on the lake shore on the West Side, left for his Texas rice ranch Tuesday, to superintend the harvest, which will yield more than 80 bushels. He has inserted an ad in this issue of The Examiner, regarding these rice lands which those interested will benefit by investigating.

The wife of President Hansen, of the Hall Construction Co., who has been here for a couple of weeks returned to her Los Angeles home Monday. She was accompanied by her husband as far as Reno, who drove by team to look over contemplated broad-gauging of the N. C. O. Railway.

Farmer Smith, our willom barber, but now a rancher, of New Pine Creek, was in town Saturday selling a load of ponies.

The quarantine was raised Monday. No new cases have appeared.

H. Graber sold his New Pine Creek ranch to C. W. Withley, one of the O. V. L. trustees and left yesterday, with his family, for Los Angeles, with a view of locating permanently in Southern California. It is none of our business but we believe he will travel some distance before finding so good a place as the one he sold.

Asprending of rails Tuesday night derailed the N. C. O. passenger cars just outside of Reno. No one was hurt, but all had to complete their journey a-foot.

The Klamath Herald of the 11th says, Mr. Roy Butler, who until recently had a restaurant in Lakeview, has taken charge of the Central Cafe and will open a tamale and chili parlor there Wednesday. He is at present renovating and changing the restaurant.

The Holman acts, for Judge Daly is now at Athras, and will soon be delivered.

V. L. Sneling has ordered an auto, of the high wheeled, solid tire type.

W. W. Brown, of Erie, Harney County, is in town in attendance at court. Mr. Brown is one of the largest horse growers in the West. His horses have gone into the cavalry service in many armies, including great numbers for that branch of the service in the United States. It has been found that Oregon horses possess superior wind and bottom and for that reason they are in great demand everywhere.

Post master Meyer, of Valley Falls, was in town over Sunday.

Postmaster Miller has varnished the stain on the post office fittings and has given the office a very modern appearance.

Everybody is getting an auto of some type, and even the editor is consumed with a raging fever for a small wagon. If the fever gets much worse he may take his 32 automatic Remington and go collecting! So see him first if you know you are the least mite in arrears!

An Indian brought in a big load of Salmon trout Friday from Sprague river. They were snarped up in a hurry. It is said that the Indians are able to catch them there only a few days in the fall. The fish were large and of a splendid quality.

Since our late rainy spell our section has been favored with the most beautiful of fall weather.

Farmers need Lake County Land.

C. M. Sain, an ex-newspaper man of force and ability, was in town Friday in the interest of the Portland Journal, of which he is a staff correspondent. A specimen of his handwriting can be seen in the article taken from the Salem Statesman about the irrigation scheme in the Che-waucan valley in which Portland people are pursuing dilatory tactics. Mr. Sain is at present residing at the Woodward Hot Springs, near Paisley, and is a well informed man as to matters herabouts.

GOOD MORNING NEIGHBOR! I hope you have prospered this summer. I have had the experience of 25 years raising vegetables and fruit. IRRIGATION FOR NEVADA VALLEY

A. E. Murphy and Associates engaged in a Commendable Work

CENTRAL OREGON ONE WHEAT FIELD

At Least 2,500,000 Acres Available for Wheat Production.

The Cedarville Record reports that A. E. Murphy, who is interested in the Mesero Lake Irrigating scheme, left there this week for his big ranch near Burns, Oregon, and expects to return here in a month or so.

All the preliminaries have been arranged and as much as possible of the big reservoir will be completed this fall. This will necessitate the putting to work of a large force of men in the near future, and everything will be hurried along as fast as possible.

The construction of this big reservoir, and the irrigation of the land means a new era of prosperity for Long Valley. Up to this year there were only three or four houses on all that vast amount of territory lying open for settlement. Now, there are, we understand, ten or twelve new houses going up, and a large acreage of land has been filed on by intending settlers. When the irrigation system is completed land secured by the Irrigation Company will be sold in small lots, each lot with a water right, and in a few years from now many comfortable homes and profitable farms will dot the lands heretofore given over to stock, the coyote and the rabbit, and in time Surprise Valley may have a rival for beauty and productiveness in the the big valley east of here.

A good road from there will be at once constructed to connect with the Western Pacific at Granite Point, and by this time next year a big change will be seen in the land that has heretofore seemed practically worthless for anything outside of stock raising.

That Central Oregon will, within a few years, double the cereal crop of the whole Pacific Northwest is the belief of Theodore B. Wilcox, president of the Portland Flouring Mills. When opened up by the railroads now building, an immense acreage will be thrown open to wheat raising.

"In Central Oregon," said Mr. Wilcox, "there are millions and millions of acres of land which, unless I am greatly mistaken in the nature of the soil, will be excellent for grain growing without irrigation.

Out of this vast territory there must be at least 2,500,000 acres available for wheat. This is as large an acreage as there is now in wheat in Oregon and Washington. All that is needed to open up this great territory is a railroad and as there are two lines now entering that section, it is only a matter of a short time before the country will develop. Nor will the increase yield reduce prices. With such a condition of affairs as now exists, there is no danger of loss on prices through the exploitation of wheat fields in Central Oregon."

DIED
Nathaniel Thrush, a new comer, died Wednesday morning, of strangulated hernia. He and his son had only arrived from North Yakima, Washington, Sunday, having driven over land. He was 25 years of age, and leaves children in various parts of the country. He will be buried today.

Hamon, the little eight year old son of Creed McKendree died Friday of incipient tuberculosis. He had been ailing from childhood. He had recently recovered from an attack of diphtheria, but his heart action was weak and failed to carry him over the crisis. The funeral was held Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

Ray Howard secured a Remondivorce some time ago and then married a chorus girl. His divorced wife appeared in Court and alleging fraud had the decree annulled. Ray Howard now is a fugamite.

FOREST REGULATIONS, EFFECTING STOCK MEN ON THE FREMONT FOREST.
Lakeview, Oregon, Oct. 8, 1909. New regulations have been promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture to the effect that all new owners of sheep and cattle desiring grazing privileges on the Fremont National Forest during the season of 1910 must notify the Supervisor at Lakeview of their intention to file an application for range on or before January 1, 1910.

This action is necessary owing to the increased demand for range on this Forest making it essential that the Supervisor be in a position to make proper arrangements for the ensuing season.

Owing to the overstocked condition of the range it is probable that a reduction will be made on all bands of sheep containing more than 2500 head, but in case of such action the stockmen will be definitely notified at a later date.

Supervisor Ingram has many words of praise for the Forest users this year and states that with their continued cooperation and good will the resources of this forest will be put to their best use at a much earlier date.

CHICAGO MEN TO ORGANIZE
W. J. Patterson of Grand Opera House, Chicago, one of the contract holders of the Oregon Valley Land Company is actively engaged in trying to get all the Chicago contract holders together in order to get acquainted and to form themselves into groups according to their respective locations from the result of the drawing.

The plan adopted to get them together will be to meet in the form of a banquet at some of the large restaurants in Chicago where a room may be had separate and have speeches from the contract holders at the drawing. It is expected many will be going on their land in the early spring and will be able to represent the others who are to come later. In this way development may begin on many tracts this winter and next spring even though the owners are not able to reach their land for another year.

The plan is commendable and the Chicago subscribers will do well to send their names at once to Mr. Patterson.

NOTICE
In compliance with the state laws all persons who have not furnished a schedule of their property, real and personal are respectfully requested to call at my office in the County Court House at Lakeview, Oregon, before October 15th for the purpose of assessing. ANDREW J. FOSTER, Assessor.
