social prestige were invited. For its novel features and scenes of entertainment, the like of which was never given before in this town. Lakeview flour, none better, is now selling in our stores for $1.50 per cwt.

This valley since Monday has been in a drizzle of rain and snow. The latter goes off about as fast as it comes. There is still quite a lot of apples on the trees. The mercury only got down to 25 above zero. Mr. Arthur Florence, President of the Lakeview Mercantile Co., gave the force a banquet at the Colorado House Sunday evening.

Our in-state exchanges are reaching us, every one of which has a boost for the Margaret Hess and her splendid company. Deputy Sheriff Arthur went into County Clerk's office last week and wanted a license. Mr. Payne handed him out a marriage license, and Mr. Arthur never discovered the mistake until a game warden pulled him and wanted to see his license.

A new townsite has been laid out at Trail Crossing, by the Williamson in the interest of the Oregon Trunk, which is to be called Hillman. The Portland Journal says it is "The theological juncture" of the proposed branch road from Prineville.

A Kansas philosopher rises to make this pungent truth: No hired man or woman should be afraid to earn more than they get. By earning more we eventually get more. D. M. Shaffer has opened a short order restaurant in connection with his bakery.

The family of H. Gould of the Herald staff arrived from New Pine Creek this week, and are located in the McCall residence for the winter. To get what you want, make others want what you've got. Advertise out select the medium that circulates where you want to sell the goods.

All education should tend toward work, not away from it. Unless a boy can do the better work after he is educated, it is time and money thrown away. W. C. Palmer. No "White Rhinoceros."

Spooking of cowboys and the other fauna of Africa, let us say for the moment of the American writers, teachers and preachers who wish to pretend to a knowledge of African animal life that there are no yaks, alligators, kangaroos, turkeys, leopards or tigers in Africa outside of a circus or a zoological garden.
