Marlin

Repeating Shotgun

This new 6-shot model is the simplest, surest, and fastest 12-gauge repeater made. It has the solid top, side ejection and double extractors--special Marlin features of comfort and convenience. The closed-in breech keeps the action clean and the shells dry--keeps out rain, snow, dirt, leaves, twigs and sand.

The new take-down construction allows you to take gun apart in ten seconds for cleaning or packing, yet the joint is always as firm and rigid as in a solid frame, non-take-down gun. The fat forearm fits your hand, and helps quick operation.

The full checked guns are guaranteed close shooting, hard-hitting guns, and are unequalled for ducks, geese, foxes and all long-range work.

A circular giving large illustration with full description of this handsome new gun, sent free on request or with complete 12-page catalog for 3 stamps.

UP TO DATE BROOD COOPS.

No, your hen isn't an umbrella. What a sight to see a poor mother hen trying to protect her babies from a fearful storm, while a big man who by driving a few nails could make her a water tight coop sits in his house in the dry!

Now, your hen is neither a mackintosh to turn water, nor is she a Missouri mule to be hitched by a leg to the back fence, where she and her family are expected to grow up with the country.

No chain gang tactics in the hen-coop.

When you see a red headed girl, look for a white horse; when you see a red headed hen, look for a white egg, but when you see a poor mother hen hitched to an old, leaky barrel, look for a lazy, heartless human.

The poet has sung of the old oaken bucket
That hung in grandpa's well,
But why didn't he sing of the old oaken "bar"?

Where the clucking 'hen had to dwell?
To chain pretty Biddy, who ought to be free,
Is a re-peat-able thing.

And the fellow who does that trick today should stretch a hempen string.
Broody Biddy isn't a tailor's goose.
Weak and worn from three weeks' setting, she will do her best to raise her chicks, but she must be cared for.

A NO. 1 COOP.

and good lodging, feeding and sanitary precautions are necessary for Biddy and the babies.

Our A No. 1 coop is a dandy. Make it watertight and roomy, and on rainy days your little ruffle fluffies may be confined comfortably and thus escape chills and the gapes, while the awning dropped at night excludes dampness and the odoriferous Mr. Skunk.

Perhaps this is the style you want. It is well protected, and the top of the inner box may be left open so when the hen is out for exercise the dirt may just be dumped and the box be cleared of lice and be dried in the sun.

A board floor, on the surface, insures dryness, and a roomy, comfortable sanitary coop coupled with good breeding and good feeding will raise you birds that will give you a name to be conjured with in poultrydom.

DON'TS.

Don't put all your nest eggs in one basket. Advertise first at home and let the editor sample your spring chicken. The farther away from home you get the less orders your ad. will net.

Don't make "honesty the best policy" your motto, for lots of rascals use that when convenient. "Honesty the only policy" is the magic wand that brings clear conscience and success grand.

Don't worry the editor every time a high priced setting of eggs is a failure. He is not a "trustee of providence," nor does he keep his fingers on all the keys of the universe. Spurious advertisements occasionally slip into papers, religious and secular, for editors are not acquainted with all the rascals of the rogues' gallery any more than you are.

Don't advertise more quality and quantity than you have to sell. That is what ruined Mr. Ne'er-do-well.

FERTILIZER FROM ROOSTS.

Scientific Tests to Ascertain Value of Poultry Droppings.

The average farmer does not appreciate as he should the value of the fertilizer made by poultry. This may be mainly due to the fact that many times it is not properly stored, so that much of its chemical constituent material is lost.

Professor Morse of the New Hamp shire experiment station, after referring to the loss of fertilizer value and answering the question how best to retain it, says the best materials for this purpose are gypsum or land plaster, acid phosphate and kainit, a cheap potash salt. Each of these chemicals has the power to form new compounds with the ammonia as fast as it is set free from the original combination. Wood ashes and slaked lime should never be used, because they cannot combine with ammonia, while they do force it out of its compounds and take its place. Plaster is apt to produce a dry, lumpy mixture when used in large enough quantities to arrest the ammonia, while kainit and acid phosphate produce the opposite effect of a moist, sticky mass.

Bulletin 98 of the Maine experiment station says that, using their results as a basis of calculation, the weekly droppings of a flock of twenty-five hens when scraped from the roosting platform should be mixed with about eight pounds of kainit or acid phosphate and a half peck of sawdust. If one desires a balanced fertilizer for corn and other hood crops a mixture of equal parts of kainit and acid phosphate could be used instead of either alone. The same authority tells us that "good dry meadow muck or peat would be equally as good as sawdust, if not better, to use as an absorbent."

Fresh poultry manure at the present values of fertilizers would be worth 90 cents per hundred pounds. Figures from different experiment stations would give the product of twenty-five hens for the winter season of six months as 375 pounds for the roost droppings only.

Poultry manure is especially adapted as a top dressing for grass because of its high content of nitrogen in the form of ammonia compounds, which are nearly as quick in their effect as nitrate of soda. A ton of the manure preserved with sawdust and chemicals would be sufficient for an acre when compared with a chemical formula for top dressing.

On the same basis of comparison 100 fowls running at large on an acre should in a summer season of six months have added to its fertility the equivalent of at least 200 pounds of sulphate of ammonia, 100 pounds of high grade acid phosphate and sixty pounds of kainit.

Device For a Barrel Sling.

How to make a barrel sling is simple enough when you know how. The cut represents a handy rig for cleaning out a well or for slinging a paint bucket from the roof of a building. If it is necessary to set the bucket or barrel down, wind the rope with wire or string in order to prevent loosening and slacking. As long as the bucket hangs the rope will remain tight and firm. The device is very simple, easy to construct and is quite inexpensive.

Best Varieties of Potatoes.

Of 111 varieties of potatoes tested at the Ontario Agricultural college the following varieties are among the best when yield, size, freedom from rot and quality are considered: Late--Empire State, Dempsey Seedling, Rural New Yorker No. 2, Medium--Rose of the North, Burpee's Extra Early, Early--Early Fortune, Early Harvest, Extra Early Eureka and Early Dawn. The results of planting potato sets of different sizes at different distances were in favor of two ounce sets planted the closest together. Planting one set per hill has given the best average results for eight years.

Feed For Egg Yield.

There is nothing that will increase the egg yield like fresh cut green bone. It should, however, be fed judiciously, as it is highly nutritious, and a little goes a good way, but as a supplement to the regular daily grain ration is sure of bringing good results. It should be fed in about the proportion of one to one and a half ounces per head three times a week. It is advisable to begin on even a smaller amount than one ounce to each fowl on the start and gradually increase to the maximum amount.
