CITY AND COUNTY BRIEFS

Engineer Philbrick, who has been looking over matters in the Warner Valley left on Monday's stage to make a report to his superiors, which will probably mean much for the future of that big valley from an agricultural standpoint.

In spite of the stormy weather here and elsewhere, strangers continue to arrive daily to this Land of Promise.

One of the pictures at the Arcadia Theatre Sunday evening was a big locomotive labelled: "Not Yet, but soon." It taught the people all right.

J. J. Reilly, and his son Frank, returned Friday from an inspection of the Goldberg mines and left Saturday morning for Reno. They report everything in a very satisfactory condition at the mine.

H. Wendt and Geo. Stickle, have rented the Malloy building at New Pine Creek. They will add 20 feet to its length and will put in a stage for show purpose. The building will then be 30x95 feet. When completed they will give a free ball. A Masked Ball will be given New Year's Night. A hall has been needed at New Pine Creek, and these gentlemen should be appreciated for their enterprise.

Word received, written the 6th inst., from Summer Lake, indicated that Mr. James Foster is very low and does not seem to improve.

The Examiner thanks outside readers from different parts who have so kindly sent us clippings from eastern papers relative to the railroad prospects for Lakeview and vicinity.

Andrew Morris, who has been running a dairy at Camas Prairie this season has moved back to his ranch at Adel for the winter.

The new people at Fort Rock are all right. They have organized a literary society.

The rainfall at Silver Lake for November was 32.8 inches the greatest fall ever recorded for that month.

The city of Klamath Falls has bonded itself for $40,000.00 for sewer construction.

Manager Sullivan, of the Southern Stage Co. was up Sunday from Alturas. He says he will put on an extra twice a week to bring up the express and freight which became congested during the rainy spell.

The Silver Lake Leader believes that when the census is taken next year will show a population of over 3,000 in Lake county north of Paisley.

Our rainy spell was succeeded Saturday by a snowy spell. About an inch or so of snow fell but with the south wind blowing it reminded one of Dakota weather. The mercury only got down to 4 above.

Martin Sanders, the sheep man in town. He reports the sheep doing well and says this snow fall will make grand pasturage for the next season.

The Silver Lake Leader says: "Cope West says Sam Wardwell has the worst case of automobilization he ever diagnosed." The disease is raging here, too, among those who haven't got 'em. The other fellows are not saying a heap.

L. C. Beckwith, Sept. of the Goldberg Butte mine was in town Saturday. He is a mining man of years of experience and is very enthusiastic over the prospects. Until the railroad gets nearer only exploratory work is being done, but the development shows that there will be a big tonnage when it can be economically handled.

A. Dykeman, one of the fruit growers at New Pine Creek, was in town Monday. He reports that owing to inability to secure help that the cold spell last week caught him with a big lot of his apples unpicked. The coming of the railroads will remedy the present scarcity of help, so that those with producing orchards will then be in shape to reap big incomes.

Spokane is buried beneath snow, and reports a coldest weather for years. At Tonopah Saturday the weather turned very cold with a strong wind. The mercury went below zero for the first time in its history. The coldest reported heretofore was 14 above. It is feared many prospectors known to be out on the desert will suffer, as such weather, there was wholly unexpected.

Some of our business men realize the value of printers ink. Others do not, and as result, wonder how their rivals, who fill their liberal space with new and snappy ads, do so much business.

The bad roads are giving us concern about getting our print paper up from Alturas. We have several tons there but it is task to get it to Lakeview.

SCARCITY OF FUEL

Wood for fuel is a scarce article in Lakeview, and with the good price and big demand for it, there seems to be no excuse for such shortage. Those who neglected to get their supply in the summer are in hard lines. The man with capital and "git up and git" who will go into the wood business on a scale equal to the demand can make a fortune here. There is plenty of timber but the thing seems to be to get it ready for the market. A small portable mill to follow in the wake of logging operations and use up the waste tops, would be a sure money maker. This is a tip. Somebody get busy.

In order to make a business success, take plenty of space in your local paper, change your ad every issue and keep everlastingly at it. If you do that nothing can stop the dollars from rolling into your till.

CHEAP PHOTOGRAPHS

We do not make cheap photographs, so we will not lower our prices. But we will give one tinted photograph with each dozen cabinet before Jan. 10. We have a new line of mounts and folders and more expected next week. Call and see our samples. Lakeview Photo Studio, STICKNEY & GETTY

Gresham is to have a municipal water system and some sewers. Gresham is one of the best situated towns in the state, and has been held back by empty lot owners who were unwilling to have any public improvements undertaken. It is about time that Lakeview doffed its swaddling clothes, and began to consider needed municipal improvements.

IT WAS TOO BIG T JOB

An outside subscriber complains because the Examiner did not publish a list of O. V. L. Co. lands, with owners names, and descriptions as to sections, towns, ranges and lots. This paper intended to do that stunt; but when we found that it would require four or five papers the present size of The Examiner to provide such information we gave it up, as our press and type-setting facilities were not equal to the job.
