Personal Mention

Bernard C. Sitz has gone to Sacramento on a business trip. Roy G. Betler has returned to Lakeview after a stay in California, and likes it here best. W. A. Messingill and wife are having the time of their life on a hunting trip in the Mexican border. C. C. Harris and wife are down from Summer Lake to attend the funeral of the late S. T. Colvin. Mrs. W. J. Edmonson, and son are recent arrivals from North Carolina who have come to stay. The lady is very much pleased with Lakeview and surrounding country. Klamath Herald, 30th alt: Miss Anna Applegate, daughter of Capt. O. C. Applegate, left Tuesday morning for Oakland and Fruitvale. C. C. Loftus was down from his Crane Lake ranch to spend New Years with his family. The Klamath Herald of the 31st alt has this mention of a brother of the late Mrs. Dan Malloy and whose sister and mother are now residents of Lakeview: Curtis Hedrick and tribe arrived last evening from Chico, where they were married on Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. Hedrick will make their home in this city. Leo Bell has gone to the Willamette valley to visit his family who are spending the winter there. Fritz Williams is in town from Drows Valley. S. J. Dutton, the popular Boniface of Davis Creek was up last Friday. C. E. Pollard of New Pine Creek, was a Lakeview visitor Saturday. Harvey Colvin arrived last evening from Berkeley to attend the funeral of his father, S. T. Colvin. H. G. Durand, of Portland was a hotel Lakeview guest Saturday. Postmaster Fleming and G. H. Aldridge were in town Saturday. P. Hubert, of Oakland California and W. F. Woods, of Beaumont, California are at Hotel Lakeview. Miss Louise Bosworth returned last Friday to her school at Summer Lake. Warner B. Snider returned Friday from his trip to California points. He says that the weather has been very bad there, and that ice froze in Los Angeles. Timely use of smudgers helped at least a portion of the orange crop, however. Warner thinks that Good Old Goose Lake Valley possesses advantages that over-top California aside from the question of climate, and that state has not much the advantage in that respect. Miss Gertrude Vernon spent the holidays with her parents, on their ranch near New Pine Creek. Leo Emerson, formerly of Lakeview, was recently married in Portland.
