CITY AND COUNTY BRIEFS

Thirty-One Years Old

The Examiner this week marks the 31st year of its existence. It is now a little over a year and a half since the paper came under the present management. During that time there has been a steady growth in the business of the office. To meet the growth we have added $2,000 worth of new material and machinery and are contemplating still further improvement, if the growth of the town and county warrants it, something practically assured, because of the coming of the railroad, and consequent great and rapid increase in population. Our actual square circulation is now greater than any other paper on the Pacific Coast, outside the larger cities. This is the statement of the paper supply houses, and they are in a position to know. The proprietor thanks subscribers and advertisers for their generous patronage and will endeavor to merit a continuance of the same the coming year.

The churches this week are holding a week of prayer.

The dance at Snider Opera House New Year's eve was well attended and those present announce a most enjoyable time.

Game Warden Eccleston is out to the Upper Chewaucaun after some fellows who have been killing beaver.

The Klamath Herald says there are still over 1,000 beef cattle in Merrill county which will be red up to March. Hay is plentiful at $6 a ton on the big beef feeding grounds around Merrill.

County Court is in session this week.

A move is being made to establish a meat packing house at Alturas. Now when the meat trust get busy in these parts.

The Alturas papers say they have no objection to draining Goose Lake that it would have been done years ago had it not been for the interference of the Lake county kickers. In event of such an attempt it is probable the "kickers" would kick again.

Cash flax $209 in Minneapolis! Such price for flax is unprecedented, when there is a big profit in it at $100 a bushel. Get busy and get that Cheap Canada land.

The Silver Lake Lender says County Clerk Payne, went up there during the holidays, to get a shampoo.

The January Success has a powerful article on "The End of Cannonism", that should be read by everybody.

If you want to borrow trouble go to a money lender.

"The" Macquerade at the Skating Rink New Year's eve was in the nature of a society event. The attendance was large. Many handsome costumes were worn. We did not learn to whom the prizes were awarded.

Indications are that the Short Courses for farmers and teachers which will commence at the Oregon Agricultural College January 4th, will be very well attended. The railroads have conceded a fare of one and one-third to those attending this course.

The penny-wise pound-foolish ideas of some men as to business matters in this day and age when the value of printers ink is the recognized intermediary between the buyer and seller is passing strange. In this town there are five stocks of goods, and not one word about them in the papers. Such men wonder how rivals who do advertise get on in the world.

The holidays have prevented the usual influx of outside people this week.

Prof. J. F. Burgess, who wounded his hand, in November received this week, from the Woodman Accident Association, a draft in full settlement of the claim. This is an eligible association, paying all just claims, and protecting its members by rejecting unjust claims.

James Graves has gone out on the desert near Plushah on a hunting trip.

Things have been so quiet in a local way the past week, that a run away empty hay hauling rig thought everybody out on the street. As a mental stimulator it was almost as good as a fire. The last of the team it was going "kick its spilt" down Slish Street with the barless and hapless driver hanging on for dear life.

Raises Fine Mules

The Merrill Record is bragging about the big 1200 pound 2 year old mules belonging to N. S. Merrill. Lake county can show some good young mules, and those of the West Side, belonging to L. A. Carricker and also those of Robt. Nelson are particularly fine specimens, and would command big prices in any market.

Bad Weather Everywhere

The cold weather throughout the east and south is responsible for daily railroad wrecks in which many have been killed and injured. It was at first reported that the entire load of one tourist car headed for California had been killed and buried near Kansas City. It has since been learned that only three were killed but a great many were seriously injured, some of whom will die. It is not safe to travel during such weather.

Last week a gentleman called at our office and desired to see a paper published at a certain town. He wished to make some collections and was after some attorney's address. He found just one lawyer's name in the paper and gave him the business. Now there are five attorneys in the place, and out of that number four were foolish and one was wise; he kept his name before the public. —Fair River Tidings.

The new Armory at the Oregon Agricultural College is nearing completion. It is the largest building of its kind the West. It is 130 yards long and 60 yards wide. A regulation sized football field can be laid out under its roof. It will be a great boon to all kinds of athletics.

"What makes you so happy," said a man to a lady friend last Sunday as she was coming from church. The man expected to hear her say she had just heard such a helpful sermon it had lightened her soul and must have been shining through her countenance. But this is what she said: "There are so many women there with smaller knots of hair than mine that I came away feeling quite happy."

National Corn Exposition

At the National Corn Exposition at Omaha, E. E. Faville of Des Moines paid $355 for ten ears of prize corn, grown by J. R. Overstreet of Franklin, Ind., and known as the Champion Sweepstakes ear. They had already won $1000 in prizes. H. E. Kruger of Beaver Dam, Wis. paid $104 for a peck of the best wheat the world has ever seen," according to the judges.

CIVIC PROGRESS.

Difficult to Find Willing Workers Who Are Efficient.

In one phase of civic progress at least we find much difficulty in obtaining willing workers who are efficient. It would seem that in working toward the beautifying of a city or town we must begin the work at least a generation before good results are obtained. Improvements or reform in many phases of civic regeneration would now be much easier of accomplishment had the previous generation been drilled in the fundamental principles of civic betterment.

Success in building the city or town beautiful hinges largely on taste. What we need to do to insure future success is to teach the school children taste, for by generating it in the child it soon reaches the home and soon pervades the whole community, city, town or country. With the proper amount of taste created we need not fear results. Adults are fully as impressionable along this line as the children, for we have many examples in southern California of whole communities showing an improved taste in civic beautifying due alone to the residence there and active work of a single person. While we are very proud of our school system, some of our leading educators fail to properly appreciate its necessities. Our children are at present being put through a cramming process of the three R's that allows no time for contemplation of anything beyond and is utterly destructive of the natural development of the best in a child's makeup. If culture and taste cannot be imparted to the child in connection with the stuffing process we should have less of what is superficially called "education"—not education at all, but simply an excess of schooling. The hope of the city and town beautiful lies in the proper training of the rising generation. —Los Angeles Times

Our Small Birth Rate

The annual report of the State Board of Health is at hand. It contains much valuable statistical information. During the year 1970 deaths were reported, of whom, 2334 were males and 2036 females. Lake county reported the birth of only 24 boys and 15 girls, which is not a very flattering showing and is a case of where "many a laddie will have none," at least so far as concerns the local supply.
