PAISLEY AND SUMMER LAKE

Thomas E. Marsden who has been clerking in Virgil Conn's store will leave the first of February to resume residence on his homestead in the Fort Rock country.

Harry A. Utley deputy game warden of Valley Falls, has been over the rim looking for hunters who it is reported have been illegally catching beaver on the Sycan.

Miss Meminger is getting ready to put up a house on her Sandy Hollow homestead. She purchased the Waldo Taylor house at the Beuedel mill it is being removed to her claim by the Woodward boys.

Frank Descombes reached water in his Sand Hollow homestead at about 115 feet. The well boring machine cuts a diameter of 44 inches.

Edward Ronison will sink the next well with it. Mr. Nelson who put his well down by hand found water at a depth of 110 feet.

The Moss telephone is now connected with the Summer Lake line by a switch at Dr. Williams' White Hill ranch.

The money order department of the Paisley postoffice after being closed for ten days on account of the flood is again open for business.

Al Farrow says he thinks the flood at Paisley will prove a blessing in disguise. In the future when people build they will make provisions for a like emergency.

J. F. Landon and William Moore are due to arrive shortly with a car load of household goods from Central City, Nebraska. The former has fled on a homestead near the Johnson school house and the latter has taken up one in Sand Hollow. Mr. Moore will be accompanied by his two sisters, both school teachers. Charles Moore and Mrs. J. A. Richards now on the ground are another brother and sister. Many more Nebraska people will be headed for Oregon this spring.

George Cooley suggests that Paisley should lay a pipe to the spring at the fir trees three miles south of town and get a pure water supply for domestic use.

Postmaster Conn was a Lakeview visitor the past week.

The dance given by the ladies last Friday night in Paisley did not bring out much of a crowd and all went home at ten o'clock. Too much food.

The weather this winter has been quite frosty. The thaw last week was one of the warmest in any January. Sunday the thermometer at Woodward's was up to 56 and Dry creek was booming.

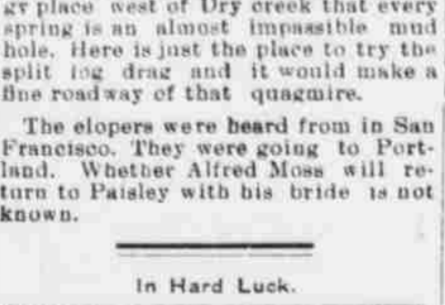

The people in Paisley are back into their houses after the flood. The river is back in its channel but raining mostly on top of the ice or through crevices. The site is yet covered with about two feet of ice. Roadways through and over the ice are being broken and travel across the bridge is maintained. It is thought all further danger of another jam this year is past. People are taking precaution to boil their water to avoid an epidemic of typhoid and most people get their drinking water from the river above town. The river channel is still filled with ice to the top of the bridge piers. The jam reached to the ford above the town.

Now that the spring thaws have commenced Paisley will have miserable roads for a month or two. It is an annual event to have the dirt fill washed out of Dry creek and the road is rendered almost impassible. For forty years every spring this creek is filled with dirt. The thing to do is to put in a culvert. It would be cheaper and besides makes a better road.

Has it ever occurred to any one in Lake county to try the split log drag on the roads? Five miles from Paisley on the Silver Lake road is a boggy place west of Dry creek that every spring is an almost impassible mud hole. Here is just the place to try the split log drag and it would make a fine roadway of that quagmire.

The elopers were heard from in San Francisco. They were going to Portland. Whether Alfred Moss will return to Paisley with his bride is not known.

Dear Madam—After seeing your picture in this week's Harper's Weekly we are compelled to inform you that no more contributions from your pen are even in disorder here. We regret to take this course, but under the circumstances no other course is open to us. In heartfelt sympathy we beg to remain,

This was bad enough, but even Mr. Lampton had his flag in his own characteristic way. He was moved to poetry:

Oh, Nancy Wilson Woodrow, Hear me as I declare, If you look like that picture, I didn't take you there!

Fashion. A great number of our wants are simply special wants of the imagination. We want them simply because we think that we want them. To them belongs all which pertains to fashion so far as it is distinguished neither by beauty nor by convenience nor by anything from things of the same kind, except merely that it is fashion.—John Gottlieb Platte.

Well Informed. The new minister in a Georgia church was delivering his first sermon. The dark janitor was a critical listener from a back corner of the church. The minister's sermon was eloquent, and his prayers seemed to cover the whole category of human wants.

An Unflattering Photograph. At the famous Mark Twain dinner a few years ago nearly every literary celebrity of the country was present. After the dinner the guests were assembled and photographed in groups. Mrs. Wilson Woodrow, the novelist, who had gone to the dinner under the escort of W. J. Lampton, was in one of these groups. If other photographers had been unjust to her this one outdid them. And when the photograph was printed, as they all were, Mrs. Woodrow was the recipient of dozens of letters, typical of which came the following from Life:

Dear Madam—After seeing your picture in this week's Harper's Weekly we are compelled to inform you that no more contributions from your pen are even in disorder here. We regret to take this course, but under the circumstances no other course is open to us. In heartfelt sympathy we beg to remain, INSURGENT VOTERS "Insurgency is a phase of Republicanism."—Minneapolis Journal. Just so. And it is a phase that will not be lost sight of when people come to elect representatives next fall. Take notice and see if this is not a straight tip.—Staples Headlight.

Thirty bankers are now serving time for "high finance" in the penitentiaries of the land. But the "higher ups" are still busily robbing the people without let or hindrance, and the cry goes up "you must not hurt the poor!" The house or sneak thief has as good a right to make such claim as has Rockefeller, J. Pierp, or any other of the chiefs of the predatory barons!

A Tonopah young man bought a Woman's Home Companion to wrap up and send his girl out in the country, and a Police Gazette for himself. A day or so later he sat down to read his Gazette, when lo! he had sent it to his girl instead of the Companion. Since then he has written 19 letters explaining matters, but no answer is returned. It must be 23 for him. Wonder if the absent minded chap can be our old friend Charley Blumenthal?

A Japanese financier has been investigating the trusts of this country and is "going right back home to organize an electric light trust, as that seems to be the best source of quick riches," as he naively puts it. The little yellow devil is right, too!

A maiden lady in Chicago has been found who can talk 54 varieties of language. It is a blessed good thing for some man that she is still single!

Lem, Lee, who resides at Loden Point, in Harney County, killed 90 rattlesnakes the past season. He killed 70 in four days. That man must be getting ready for prohibition, which will remove snake bite antidote from "our midst."

Silverton is going to capture the wholesale trade of Southern Oregon, in opposition to Portland. Well, when the time is right, there are two or three concerns in Lakeview with their present $100,000 stocks will be doing a stunt in the wholesaling way for Southern Oregon, that will make the wholesaling business of both Portland and Silverton look exceedingly small!

A FRIENDLY TIP Meats are shipped over many miles of land and water and are sold cheaper in England than in the United States. Keep on voting for trust congressmen and you will be lucky if you are able to buy meat at all.—Baxter (Iowa) New Era. True! and American flour is sold cheaper in China than it is at home. Ask your congressman why?

A Mormon Colony The Cedarville Record says: We are informed that a couple of gentlemen from Salt Lake were in here last week looking over land in the southern portion of the valley, with the view of purchasing. We understand that they were desirous of procuring a large body of land, on which would be located a Mormon colony, and in the event a purchase was made, they would establish a town of their own; putting in stores, etc. But what they have concluded to do is not stated.

Wistaria on Hats.

Being the prettiest of the artificial blossoms is wistaria. In its delicate lavender and white tints it is particularly lovely and springlike. Its graceful, slender clusters of bloom with glossy green leaves lend themselves admirably for trimming the new hats.

One wide brimmed hat of the wistaria straw had a flat bow front and back of wide velvet ribbon in lavender and masses of wistaria blossoms and foliage heaped on the wide brim.

A valued Spokane subscriber in reviewing the Examiner writes: I appreciate the paper very much and find it most interesting in its "insized trail" through a new and better Lakeview and county. Here's hoping that ere the close of 1910 Lakeview may see the iron horse grazing on the rich pickings within its corporate limits!

A Big Hog.

An example of the big money in hog raising was given at Portland during the past week when a single porker, weighing 680 pounds, brought $6 20. This is the highest price that a single hog ever brought at the stockyards there. The hog was raised by Henry Larkin of Celina, Wash. Hogs reached $3 20 during the week.

Mining News

E. H. Loftus, the discoverer of the "Lost Cabin" mines long sought for, but now known as the camp of Goldberg in Lake County writes as follows of the mines and prospects out there, in the midst of the desert and the very last place one would look for a gold mine. No wonder the old cabin was lost so long! He says:

Our camp is looking fine every body at work on their own possessions since the new year. Some important strikes have been made. From the way things are shaping up we are bound to have a booming camp this year and Lake County can boast of one of the biggest mines in the West, in the near future, as we have gold in abundance, on top and underneath and everywhere. The people of Lake County will wake up to it, after it is too late to get in on the ground floor. With best wishes and A Happy New Year.

The new U. S. mining law which forbids relocation of claims by the same parties for a period of three years has put a quietus on the claim box, who locates ground and has heretofore kept everybody off by relocation each succeeding year with no attempt to develop the property. The law now provides if the required assessment work is not performed that you must give some one else a show. It is a good law, and one that will be appreciated by all who really intend developing their mining property, and in the end will work hardest up to no one.

Victor Maxwell, who has been in Gold Butte some weeks doing assessment work on his mining claims returned Saturday night.

He says that on Jan. 1st many who have failed to keep up their work lost their claims, which are now in new hands who are busy with their development work. He also says the showing of all property is exceptionally fine, and he believes that the camp will soon come into the limelight.

Meet me at Swenson's Restaurant.

M. A. Miller, of Lebanon, now state senator from Lion County, will be a candidate before the democratic primaries next summer for Governor of Oregon. He is the first democrat to give any intimation of desiring to run for that office.

O. V. L. CO. LANDS

The Southern Oregon Realty Company is still in the business of furnishing reports to all those who drew tracts in the Sept. opening. They have a licensed surveyor who has been here 30 years, to make the examinations and reports. All reports are sworn to before a notary public and countersigned by the Company.

The Company has on file the name and address of every purchaser of tracts and also a report of all improvements on any tract, so is in a position to negotiate leases and exchanges. The Company agrees to refund twice the amount charged for a report to any one finding subsequently that the report is not absolutely correct. It would be the height of folly for any one to pay for a report unless based upon a personal examination. There are over 14,000 tracts in all and the man owning one of them may have a desert waste or an inaccessible granite castle. Every progressive man wants to know and will know. A word to the wise is sufficient.
