

HOW IT FEELS TO FLY AROUND

What the Sensations Are in Cleaving the Air in an Aeroplane

How it feels to ride in a flying machine is told in the following Los Angeles dispatch:

"All who have the good fortune to ride in an aeroplane," said one of them the other day, "unite in their description of their first sensation. There is no jerk in the starting; though the machine may leap forward with a powerful swoop. Then comes with some a bristling sense of nausea, a feeling as if the ground were dropping away from beneath."

"A slight thrust of the lever lifts the flying machine's head, the ground drops away still faster. Then, as the aeroplane soars still higher, its occupant's eyes adjust themselves to the proper focus and the earth below seems to be ripping past at a railway speed."

"By this time you have forgotten the clack of the noisy motor, the flap and whirl of the noisy propellers, the grinding of the chain and sprocket gear that drives them. All vibration has practically ceased and you float along with a sense of springy ease and buoyancy such as you can gain from no other means of locomotion. That you are flying fast you know only from the roar of the wind in your ears and a slight difficulty you have in filling your lungs with air—the same sensation one gets in racing against the wind in an automobile on a good highway."

"Then comes the first turn. The machine rises to take it, taking its own angle sideways, just as an automobile leans on the banked curve of an automobile track. You have no sense of leaning sideways, though—no feeling that you must tilt yourself as you do when an automobile turns a corner, for you sit upright, the aeroplane slanting of its own volition to the necessary angle and slanting you with it."

"A glass of water set on the floor of the flyer could be carried around curve after curve and still not lose a drop."

Rehart's Views

Glendale, Calif., Jan. 21st, 1910. Lakeview Examiner.

"The great aviation event of Los Angeles is closed, with success financially, and to the entire satisfaction of all who had the pleasure of witnessing the same."

Having witnessed five days of the meeting personally, naturally I have made some conclusions concerning the same, that will be interesting to your readers, which did not appear in the press dispatches. Regarding the ability of man to fly successfully that is a settled fact beyond controversy. The aeroplane has come to stay for pleasure, war and the carrying of passengers, if nothing more. To witness the aeroplane start from the ground with one, two and three and sailing with the ease and grace of a bird to any desired height, and with the propellers stopped, descend to the ground without a jar to its occupants, is an event never to be forgotten.

The two basic principles of flying with the aeroplanes is a large enough plane to rise upon the air with a strong motor to drive the plane at a certain speed, say 30 miles per hour, with other contrivances to steer and guide the machine to its destination. With the basic principles of flying discovered all that will be required now, is larger planes and greater power, and we are lost in speculation, as to the growth and usefulness of the flying machine.

From that I have seen, my opinion is, that the Bi plane will be the machine of service, on account of being more compact, giving more strength in proportion to the size of plane, than any other made, and I might add more safe. However there is little doubt, but in a short time many different types of machines will be in use and flying machines will be just as common, cheap and popular as the automobile is today.

Stock in Good Shape

W. O. Seaman, of Plush, was in town Tuesday. He reports that stock is doing very well so far, but that the water has covered the meadows, making it impossible to reach the hay-stacks. This condition may result in hardship to the stock interests later on, but up to the present there has been no loss of either sheep or cattle.

HORSES INCREASE DESPITE THE AUTO

The Price is Higher and More of Them than a Year Ago

WASHINGTON, January 26.—In spite of the greatly increased use of the automobile it has been unable to depress either in number or value the American horse. The price of the horse according to a statement yesterday from the Board of the Department of Agriculture, rose from an average of $97.64 a head in 1908 to $108.19 a head in 1909. In numbers the horses of the United States increased from 20,640,000 to 21,040,000, and the value from $1,947,052,000 to $2,276,363,000.

Compared with January 1, 1909, the following changes are indicated on January 1, 1910:

Horses have increased 40,000; Mules 70,000; Milk cows, 81,000; other cattle decreased 2,100,000; sheep increased 1,132; Swine decreased 6,365,000.

The total value of all animals enumerated on January 1, 1910, was $5,138,486,000 as compared with $4,525,259,000 January 1, 1909, an increase of $613,227,000 or 31.6 per cent.

Nevada is All Right

Nevada is surely coming into its own, in an agricultural way. All over "The Sage-Brush State," come reports of fine fruit and grain growing. The Tonopah Sun, as an illustration recently quoted G. C. Ross, Supt. of Schools, who had just made a trip through Nye, Clark and Lincoln counties, who said: "If you have never been over that country," said Mr. Ross, "you have no idea of what there is in Nye county, nor in Lincoln and Clark. You ought to see the fruit at Pahrump. There are only two ranches there, but the fruit is wonderful."

Smiles and Squalls

BY "THE VERDANTONE"

Here is a 'terrible warning to wives who make their husbands get up in the morning to build trees. A Myrtle Point man dropped dead while so engaged. Was he married? Well, er no. He was a widower.

The fat widow's chances of marrying again are usually slim.

A Minnesota postmaster, whose wife was away wrote another man a letter, and her husband opened and read it. The other chap complained to the postal department, and the postmaster lost his job. That surely is hard lines. So it seems that you must not trifle with the mail even though some other male trifles with your female!

It is easy for a woman to fool a man who thinks he can't be fooled.

Tonopah is seeing Halley's Comet. We know something of the broad down there. And you are liable to see your great grand mother's ghost not to mention things with tails other than Halley's Comet!

Stockbuyers Busy

The Bieber Gazette of the 27th has these stock items:

Johnnie Sullivan, cattle buyer for the Oakland Meat Co., A. M. McInnis and C. J. Gooch, Jr., sheep men of Red Bluff, and Joe Tait, mutton buyer were registered at the Valley Hotel Saturday evening. Messrs McInnis and Gooch were here looking after the 1300 head of mutton being fed at the Gooch ranch near Lookout.

J. C. Dodson, an Oakland cattle buyer, purchased 250 head of beef in this vicinity last week. The parties selling were A. Babcock, 175 head; Geo. W. Loomis, 40 head and A. Greig 35 head. The price received was very satisfactory, and cleans up the cattle in this part of the valley.

Good and Cheap Land

It is reported that $16,000 was paid for 160 acres of raw uncultured land at Hood river. What is the use of paying such prices up there when better land ready for planting which will produce better apples or other fruit can be got at Lakeview for from $10 to $50 an acre?

"Here!" exclaimed the railway official, "What do you mean by throwing those trunks about like that?" The porter gasped in astonishment and several passengers pinched themselves to make sure it was real. Then the official spoke again: "Don't you see that you're making big dents in this concrete platform?"

A NEEDED INVENTION

A self acting sofa, large enough for two, has been invented. If properly wound up it will begin to ring a warning bell just before 10 o'clock. At one minute past ten, it splits apart, and while one half carries the daughter upstairs the other half kicks the young man out the door. They will come high, nevertheless, several presents in this town feel that one of these sofas will be a household necessity in the near future.

CATTLEMEN ARE MAKING BIG ROAR

Register a Vigorous Kick Over Raise in Local Freight Rates

Sacramento Bee, 28 ult: A protest against the existing freight rates on cattle in Sacramento valley, was one of the fruits of the annual meeting of the California Livestock Breeders' Association in San Francisco. R. D. McFarland, of Folsom, who was one of the prominent advocates of these matters, returned with an account of it yesterday.

The Southern Pacific company, he says was condemned by resolution for its indifference to the protest of the livestock men when rates were raised a year ago. Data was submitted showing that the carload rate on cattle from Cazelle, Siskiyou County, to San Francisco had been increased from $60 to $75 a car. Shipments between those points amounted in the meantime to 20,000 head, at about 1,000 cars, making $15,000 the railroad drained from the stockmen shipping from one station alone. A committee was appointed to seek a return to the old rate by the Southern Pacific.

Warner Valley to Boom

Cedarville Record, 16.—Warner valley is promised a big rush. There is a large lot of valuable land in that valley. Much of it however, has been in litigation for years. With the coming of homeseekers will be a decrease in the stock industry, as now conducted, and a corresponding increase in agricultural products, which for a time will serve as a sort of handicap, but will result in prosperity later on.

Mining News

The Examiner is informed as to a new strike in the Goldberg camps. It appears that while T. A. Crump, superintendent and part owner of the Windy Hollow Mining Co. was working on property of the company last week he discovered a new ore shute in a quartz ledge. The showing promises well and shows the property to be a good holding. The new strike is very encouraging to the camp of Goldberg.

The latest booming camp in Nevada is Jarbridge, on the state line east of here. It is located north of Elko. Reports of fabulous ore are being circulated, as was the case of Manhattan and Rawhide that did not pan.

HILL SAYS BACK TO THE FARM

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—"Back to the soil."

This is the solution of the problem of higher cost of living according to James J. Hill, philosopher and master railroad builder.

"The problem is not local," said Mr. Hill, who was back in New York today after his visit to Washington and the White House early this week. "Obviously the world has reached an economic crisis. We are not producing foodstuffs enough. We must on a large the farming area of the earth; we must adapt ourselves to conditions. "Agriculturally speaking, the world is not over populated. The problem is to relieve the congestion in the cities and scatter the unproductive population to the farms. When we get them there, we must teach them new methods of farming. Our present methods are so loose and slipshod that we do not get half the food out of our tillable land.

"There is no quick relief to the present crisis. The necessities of life will not be cheapened by the consumer until we add a million or so persons to our agricultural population. Until the movement from the city back to the country starts, President Taft and Congress can do little toward lowering the cost of living."

O. V. L. CO. LANDS

The Southern Oregon Realty Company is still in the business of furnishing reports to all those who draw tracts in the Sept. opening.

They have a licensed surveyor or who has been here 30 years, to make the examinations and reports. All reports are sworn to before a notary public and countersigned by the Company.

The Company has on file the name and address of every purchaser of tracts and also a report of all improvements on any tract, so is in a position to negotiate leases and exchanges. The Company agrees to refund twice the amount charged for a report to any one finding subsequently that the report is not absolutely correct. It would be the height of folly for any one to pay for a report unless based upon a personal examination.

There are over 14,000 tracts in all and the man owning one of them may have a desert waste or an inaccessible granite castle. Every progressive man wants to know and will know. "A word to the wise is sufficient."
