Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

A KIP POLICEMAN.

Chief of Police Richmond of Council Bluffs, Ia., has a novel method for reforming unruly and mischievous boys without the aid of a juvenile court. In a word this is his recipe:

Make a policeman of the boy!

Richmond's "kid police force" is popular, and about every boy in town wants to join. Juvenile crime has almost disappeared, and "young men criminals" get no recruits from the ranks of the boys.

Nearly every normal boy wants to be a "cop."

On that desire Richmond has built his law and order force of youthful policemen.

The force includes street arabs, newsboys and bootblacks, besides boys from the best homes. It is changed for different occasions, so that every boy gets a chance to serve. There is no heavier disgrace than to be arrested while a member of the force.

To illustrate the chief's method—

Previous to the Fourth of July four years ago he forbade the shooting of fireworks before a certain hour. On the 3d a policeman brought in a dirty faced little fellow who had violated the order.

"Jimmie," said Richmond, who understands boys, "what do you say to helping me make the gang behave tomorrow? I want a good boy."

"Not me," replied Jimmie. "I ain't going to tell on my pals."

"No; I don't want you to do that, my son. I'll put you on the regular police force."

"And kin I have a star?"

"Yes; I'll give you a badge," said the chief.

"All right, I'm wild yet," answered Jimmie, who was then and there sworn in as a special policeman—an act which immediately made him a good citizen.

You see, Jimmie—and every boy—is at heart MANLY. His ideal of manliness may be no higher than that of wearing the badge of authority. But he lives up to his ideal. He is true to his sense of duty. In doing that he becomes more manly.

Give the boy a chance. Trust him. He will not disappoint you if you give him "a square deal." PUT RESPONSIBILITY ON HIS YOUNG SHOULDERS.

Trust him.

And you will make a man of him.

Press-Day Troubles

We find the following in the Alta-Ras News Era, which fits our case so well that we publish it without crediting it:

There is trouble in the print shop, no language can express, for Wednesday rolled around again, the day we go to press.

The compositors are bustling fast, each has a dirty proof, the make-up man is cursing in a way to raise the roof.

The devil pined the galley of self non-pariel, the forman's saying things to him, that makes the brick-tone smell.

The stenographer is jawing about the ink spot on her dress. Any gal-janed fool can tell we're trying to go to press.

Everything is all "balled-up", the forms are in a mess and how the old man's asking when we're going to press.

Through the room there rings aloud a piercing bell horn, wail the office dog is yelping, cease they've stepped upon his tail.

The pressman now is ready, but the 3-d old form, son't "fill", so he whistles out a "outcheban", and gives his old a shirt.

The forms are on the press at last, the press is running great—but we've got to take both off again, forget to change the date!

They're on again; we're running swift as slick, but a paper's on the roller now, and you bet its there to stick.

The whole bunch is mad as sin, and cursin' more or less, for hell breaks loose on Wednesday's when the paper goes to press.

N. C. O. Carshops

Remo Gazette, Feb 5—Manager Dunaway of the New-Call California Oregon railroad today granted the contract for the construction of the new shops and round house for the N-C-O to Clark & Shea. The contract for the depot and other buildings was let some time ago to Friedman & Hancock. All of the buildings will cost about $25,000.

Old Maid's Club.

The Old Maid's Club held last Friday evening at the smaller Opera House brought in a goodly house. It was a fun maker all right, and was a success financially and in every way.

The mirth provoking antics of the old maids warrant detailed personal mention, which is beyond our power to put in type.

All sorts of old maids were present. Some with cats, some with parrots, some with cork screw curls, and some, not the least in old fashioned Pentate tea.

The proceeds, which it is reported netted about $75, were donated to the M. E. Church.

The place where business men meet is at Swenson's Restaurant.
