Higher Ideals in Politics and Business Methods are Now Demanded by the People!

The South Dakota "insurgent" republicans favor among other meritorious measures that presidential post-masters be elected by party adherents who are resident patrons of the office. That is a good idea and should become a part of the law of the land. It would prevent rewarding some corrupt politicians, as is too often the case under present conditions.

There is no question but that men of higher ideals, and of greater probity, are demanded by the people of their servants in public life from president down to constable.

The people are sick and tired of the graft and spoliation that has come about by a too strict adherence to party, right or wrong, and mostly wrong. They begin to realize, in increasing numbers that the graft and rottenness of our public men and by their bribers the so-called "Captains of Industry", has been brought about by the long continuance in power of any one party. They feel that in order to cleanse the Augean stables, if reform will not or can not be forced within the party, that the party must suffer.

This feeling is the cause of the rise of insurgency now so marked in every party of the Union.

In recognition of this condition of the public men, some real statesmen who are not mere time-serving politicians, rise above the sordid politics of their fellows and point the way for better things.

Among the first and foremost to raise his voice against such corruption, political or commercial, is Governor Hughes, of New York.

In an address on Washington's Birthday before the students of the University of Pennsylvania, he said in part:

"The problem of America is to secure honest and faithful performance of public obligation. Important questions constantly claim our attention and it is easy in the zeal of political controversy and the debates of policy largely to lose sight of the simple requirements of fidelity in administration. But we cannot afford to forget that, whatever the merit of legislative proposals, the final tests must ever be found in the character and purpose of public servants.

"We have been sickened with the corruption that rots public enterprise and with the spectacle of legislative halls and administrative offices turned into market places, where the exercise of governmental power is made the subject of barter and sale.

"We have a representative government; but how shall we improve the quality of representation save by instructing the young men of the country with the spirit of Washington and thus assuring constant and cordial response to the imperatives of honor? How, save by developing that sense of obligation and that invincible loyalty to trust which made Washington not simply a military hero and a popular and trusted leader in a critical period of history, but beyond that the incarnation of public virtues and the type forever, in this nation and all others, of the true public servant—the ideal representative of the people?

"The artifices of political manipulators were to him contemptible. Alike in defeat and in victory, whether as military general or as a chief magistrate, nothing could seduce or daunt or affright him or shake that adherence to the principles of fair dealing and honorable execution of duty which made him the embodiment of the cause of Liberty.

"It will always be the glory of this nation that at its beginning it was demonstrated in the character of Washington that the ideals of representative government are not unattainable. That for which Washington must be most admired is that in which he can be most easily followed.

"It is not given to other men to exhibit his military genius, his power of command or the majesty of his personal dignity, but it is permitted to every public officer, great or small whether in narrow or wide range of official activity, in village board, in common council, in legislative body, or in administrative or executive place, to illustrate that conception of public duty and that unflinching fealty of the public interest which was the dominant characteristic of Washington's life.

"The most significant feature of our present life is not the widespread existence of evil, but the organized efforts to check it; not the regrettable display of avarice, but the determination to protect the public interest against over-reaching cupidity; not the waste of lives in luxurious idleness, but the magnitude of fruitful endeavor; not the prevalence of vice and misery, but the extension of reformatory agencies and the organization in philanthropy; not civic indifference, how ever lamentable may be its scope but the widening demands of public spirit and the more emphatic assertion of community rights; no political manipulation, but the indignation of the people at its abuses, no faithless legislators and administrative officials, but the resentment which they arouse and the narrowing range of their illicit activities.

"We shall not avoid mistakes, but in the main neither inflammatory and demagogical appeal nor the dishonest arguments of special privilege will control the final outcome.

The Extravagance of the Rich Makes Hard Times for the Poor

Under the title, "keep within your means" the Christian Science Monitor, of Boston, has this to say concerning some of the extravagances of the part of rich Americans, which contribute toward hard times and high prices.

A trade journal recently presented a list of things once known as luxuries or superfluities, and very sparingly used, on which the people of the United States now spend over $2,000,000,000 a year. Here are a few of them: European trips, $170,000,000; railroad pleasure trips and Pullman fares, $173,000,000; yachts, $28,000,000; automobiles, $110,000,000; talking machines, 160,000,000; imported machinery, $15,000,000; candy, $101,000,000. All necessary food, clothing and other supplies about which complaint of high cost is made are outside of the list, owing to the immense sum stated.

It is this wiften waste on the part of the favored few that makes existence so burdensome for the masses.

Old John D. has recently attempted to get a bill through Congress permitting him to give away his stolen fortune. We thought there was more devilry ahead in such action. And, sure enough, late papers assert that the Standard Oil is now making a desperate attempt to secure the retail drug trade of all the cities of the nation!

Fendleton East Oregonian: Comparatively few people fled on land thrown opening to entry under the Umatilla project. But that is not surprising. There are many people who do not know a good thing when they see it. The average man would rather get in a stampede for a chance at a piece of worthless Indian land.

The Providence, R. I. Journal well and truly observes:

The truth is that the rising cost of living has become an economic and political portent of the gravest kind.

It sharpens the weapons of agitation against combinations of capital, and induces the temper of revolt among those classes who have heretofore been a conservative force in the community. If the party in power becomes too closely related in the public mind to these unpleasant conditions it may experience in the fall elections a downfall stunning in effect.

Des Moines, Iowa, is one of the most progressive cities in the Union. It is governed on the "commission" plan, which has resulted in purity in politics, and put the old gang of grafting parasites out of business. The city now, under the initiative, is about to vote on the proposition of taking over the street car system. The result will be watched with interest. In view of the scandals of private ownership in San Francisco, and the terrible spectacle now going on in Philadelphia, municipal ownership would indeed be a blessing for all our cities.

"Canada has no more need for a navy than a man in hades has for a buffalo overcoat," said C. A. McGrath, member of parliament for Medicine Hat, Alberta, in the commons in a speech on the naval bill. He regarded the proposition to build a Canadian navy was a veiled step toward the ultimate independence of Canada as a nation, separating from the motherland, against which he was opposed. Separation of Canada from the mother land be declared, meant absorption by the United States.

The Harney County News does not like the "horror-go-against" assembly" plan, nor the apportionment provided by the same which gives Portland the majority. It says: East Oregon republicans will not be well pleased with their representation in the state assembly. They might as well stay at home for all the influence they will have. The whole program is cut and in cold storage now.

The Oklahoma house of representatives has passed the Taylor election law, which prescribes the qualification for voting on constitutional amendment. A clause excluding from the amendment franchise those whose fathers or grandfathers were slaves will reduce the negro vote. The bill has already passed the senate and now goes to the governor.

It is now stated that Mr. Taft is determined to force the election as speaker Cannon and all he represents, upon the people. Mr. Taft undoubtedly is a pretty big man, physically speaking, but in every day parlance, if he attempts that task, "he is bitin off a dumb sight more'en a kin chaw!" It seems wisdom does not come to some men until they get knocked down and dragged out!

The Editor and Publisher of New York says editorials are read more than ever. To which the Sacramento Bee pertinently responds: They are if there be any thought or idea in them—and particularly so if the general public has a confidence in the honesty of purpose of the man behind the pen.

An article in the American Magazine for March says a famous Western newspaper editor of Republican faith recently said: "Emma Goldman, in her palmy days never made so many Anarchists as Joe Cannon."

A corporation in New York capitalized at $30,000,000, to control every thing pertaining to the manufacture of women's wearing apparel, is under consideration by the Associated Waist and Dress Manufacturers.

Congressman Kitchen of North Carolina, said "The Aldrich-Payne tariff is rightly named the All-rich-Pain law—a blessing to all the rich and a pain to all the poor!"

How to Get a Tight Ring Off.
 When a ring has become too tight for the finger, it will often happen among growing children, instead of using the old method of filling with a piece of common twine, insert one end under the ring toward the hand, the other end wind closely around the finger until over the joint, and proceed to wind with the end back of the ring, and if done correctly the tightest ring will come off easily.

How to Keep Food Hot.
 Instead of placing food in the oven to keep warm, place the dish or pan containing it over a pan of water and put it on the stove. The water will keep hot, and the steam from it will keep the food as hot as if it had just been removed from the stove. This is better than putting it in the oven, for the food keeps moist and does not dry it up as the heat of the oven does.

How to Renew a Black Skirt.
 Begin by brushing it, then sprinkle with strong coffee with which a little ammonia has been intermixed. Remove any spots with a sponge dipped in ammonia. Grease spots are best removed with salt dissolved in spirits of wine. Place a woolen cloth over the skirt and iron it. The woolen cloth must be damp.

CANADA FORTUNES MADE ALBERTA WHEAT LANDS

We will sell you a section of the famous Sunny Southern Alberta wheat land, that will produce 30 to 50 bushels per acre, for a first cash payment of $2,000 to $3,000 and Half the wheat crop on 200 acres yearly until the land is paid for.

You get all the crop on any land you cultivate above the 200 acres on which we only get Half.

You do not have to pay one cent in money after the first payment. Land at $15 to $25 per acre near railroads and elevators.

SPECIAL Chance for Capital

We have a solid block of seven sections, consisting of 4800 acres in SUNNY ALBERTA, that we will sell for $16 per acre, which is a special buy, on the terms of $6 per acre down, and the balance in one, two, three or four years at only 6 per cent interest.

A large part of the land immediately adjoining this tract of land is under cultivation, and more will be broken up in the spring, by the settlers to whom we have sold adjoining sections.

One crop of winter wheat will pay for this land and give you a big surplus in the bank besides.

The yield is from 30 to 60 bushels, and and at 80 cents, the usual price secured, you can figure the return, less $12 per acre, a big estimate for production.

See us or write us soon, before this opportunity is lost, as these valuable lands are being rapidly taken by enterprising Americans.

Call, or write for circulars or further information.

CATARRH

Positively cured and not one drop of medicine taken internally. Immediate relief and cure for sufferers of head colds, chronic sore throat, congested bronchial tubes, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Catarrhal deafness, Asthma and Hay fever.

Not a medicine to upset your system, but simply a tablet which when dissolved in water makes a wonderful cleansing, soothing, and healing antiseptic, which is especially adapted to the delicate membrane linings of the Nose and Throat and when used with the glass nebulizer which we supply, or as a gargle, will immediately remove the mucus by thorough cleansing the breathing passages of the nose and throat, consequently ridding the discharge and giving nature an opportunity to get the respiratory organs into a healthy condition. This can never be accomplished while the breathing passages are filled with poisonous discharge of the mucus membrane, and unless the breathing passages are cleaned and treated with the proper healing antiseptic a slight cold will invariably result in Catarrh, La Grippe, sore throat, Croup in head or chest and frequently results seriously.

Ormsby's Nasal Douche treatments will positively relieve immediately and will cure diseases of the nose and throat and will give wonderful relief to sufferers of Bronchial trouble and tuberculosis of the throat and lungs.

To convince you that this advertisement states FACTS, sign the coupon below, mail it to us with 50c, and we will immediately mail you a Free box of Ormsby's Nasal Douche treatments containing 25 treatments with glass nebulizer and 40 treatments without one.

The 25 treatments with douche will be mailed unless otherwise ordered. FREE—We gladly mail you a valuable book with chart in five colors showing the Ormsby method which diseases of the respiratory organs are treated.

One of the thousands of unsolicited testimonials we receive:

Gentlemen: Several months ago I was very much worried about a cold I had contracted which had settled in my head, from which position it was apparently impossible to dislodge it; after suffering greatly for ten days or two weeks a friend prevailed upon me to try Ormsby's Nasal Douche Tablets, with almost instantaneous results; in fact the results were extremely gratifying that I decided to continue the use of the Treatments in an endeavor to cure myself of catarrh, with which I had suffered for years, and after taking the medicine according to directions for about six weeks I was entirely cured and have not been able to detect the slightest trace of the disease since that time.

I also recommend the use of the Treatments to a friend who has suffered for years from Asthma, and he has just left the office after informing me that the Tablets had actually cured him; that he had not felt a trace of the old trouble for more than two months, and that it had been the longest respite he had for about twenty years.

Now, gentlemen, this is the first time in my life that I have ever recommended in any way a so called "patent medicine" and I hope that you will take it as the evidence of one who appreciates the high merit of the article that you are placing on the market as a curative agent.

Very sincerely yours,
