Business Methods for Government Business is Aim of Senator Bourne

The Examiner believes in fair-play, and in Theodore Roosevelt's idea of a square deal. Because a man may have ideas that to us seem erroneous is no sign that we should call him a "fool" or a "ninny" or a "compop," as is the practice of an overgrown backwoods country newspaper issued daily up in Portland.

For instance that "alleged" newspaper never neglects an opportunity to abuse and misrepresent the senatorial delegation from this state. Good, bad or indifferent may be their acts, its treatment of them is the same.

A case in point is the effort of Senator Bourne to reduce expenses of the general government by placing its affairs upon a businesslike basis. For that special purpose the Senator has introduced a bill in the Senate establishing a "Government Business Methods Commission" to investigate governmental business affairs, and to provide better and more economical means of handling the same. To support this very meritorious measure we have failed to observe any mention, either deprecatory or meritorious of the backwoods exponent of Journalism.

In support of his bill, and as a subcommittee in its favorable presentation to the senate, associated with Senator Bourne are Senators Aldrich, Carter and Root. In republican councils, at least, these men are of the very elect. But it is Mr. Bourne's bill, originated and formulated by him, and to him alone should be the credit given, and the great backwoods editor gets off his favorite "fool", "ninny" or "compop," or else maintains an awful silence that must make Jonathan

Jr. quake with fear and trembling! The senator, however, in presentation of his bill gives utterance to following words which to the Examiner at least sound as though having come from a statesman, rather than from the mind of a mere machine politician, which common report indicates has in the past represented Oregon in national affairs:

"The Government's money is the people's money and the Government's business is the people's business. The people are entitled to know that their money is being expended according to best-known business methods. The business of the Government is now conducted by methods in many respects antiquated. Construction rather than destruction, recognition rather than suspicion, merit rather than demerit, should be the aim of every public servant and results rather than verbal shuffle the measure of his achievement."

In this matter Senator Aldrich made the damaging statement to republican men and measures in the senate that it cost $300,000,000 a year more to run the government than would be the case were modern business methods employed.

If, as Senator Bourne and Aldrich declare, that extravagance and mismanagement of our national affairs are the rule, and it is true that the business of the country is conducted at such a loss, it will stand the republican party well in hand to correct this evil without delay, under penalty of being replaced by more capable hands!

And if Senator Bourne brings about such a reformation for the benefit of the people of this nation, Oregon at least should not deny him the meed of praise.

Lincoln Fought for the Principles of Eternal Right.

The New York World has done the nation a service in reviving the following from one of Lincoln's speeches in his joint debate with Douglas on the slavery question:

"Right or wrong—that is the real issue. That is the issue that will continue in this country when these poor tongues of Judge Douglas and myself shall be silent. They are two principles that have stood face to face from the beginning of time and will ever continue to struggle. The one is the common right of humanity and the other is the divine right of kings. It is the same principle in whatever shape it develops itself. It is the same spirit that says: 'You work and toil and earn bread and I will eat it.' I ask you if it is not a false philosophy? Is it not false statesmanship that undertakes to build a system of policy upon the basis of caring nothing about the very thing that everybody does care most about?"

The principle of the common right of humanity is just as applicable to the great issue of the day as it was to the questions before the war. The issue now is whether there shall be government by and for the people or by and for money and privilege.

It is the principle of the square deal; of equal opportunities to all and special privileges to none.

Insurgency is Becoming General All Through the West

The attempt to continue the rule of Joe Cannon as speaker is now clear cut on the part of the truis and the result will not be to the liking of the interests, nor their subservient adherents.

It will result in eight republican insurgents going to congress from California, and other western states likewise will send such men to congress. Oregon should not fall to the rear in this matter. Insurgency is in the interests of the people; it is their right; they now understand the situation, and they will stand by any man who is in earnest in bringing about a change in existing political conditions.

Machiavellism and Cannonism have got to go, and so have the men who have made such class privilege conditions possible in this country.

The cartoons of the Horrow-go again on the conservation question are like its editorials, on the same topic, fearfully and wonderfully made! The management of that paper simply make themselves ridiculous when they contend that because restrictions are to be placed on water powers, so that they will not become "vested rights," that the people are being robbed. Uncle Sam rightly stands guard over water-powers, to keep them out of the hands of private interests for exploitation of all the people, for selfish aggrandizement. Because such robbery has been considered legitimate in the past is no sign that the people will stand for that sort of thing forever.

Ed. Howe, editor of the Tribune Globe has been to Porto Rico, and is loud in his praise of that island. He says among other things:

"Twenty acres in grapefruit trees six years old will support a family and enable it to sport an automobile, and have butter on its bread.

Well, ten acres in apples in Lake county, Oregon, will do the same thing, and then some more, and you will not have to get sea sick either to get here.

With Judge Lionel R. Webster in charge, headquarters have been opened in Portland by the Oregon Good Road Association and it is planned to wage an active campaign constantly for good roads throughout the state. Funds to carry on the work have been subscribed and not only will good roads legislation be fathered but demonstrations of approved road making will be carried on and it is hoped to secure the appointment of a highway commission. Much good is expected to result from the campaign.

The Portland Telegram is evidently in the insurgent class, judging from the following:

This is what the South Dakota Republicans said after commending President Taft for his loyalty to the Roosevelt policies: "The dominating issue in the coming campaign is the wresting of control of National legislation from special interests entrenched behind Speaker Cannon of the House and Leader Aldrich of the Senate and their supporters." Before the South Dakota Republicans propose to get down to the work of wresting any control that effects Messrs. Cannon and Aldrich, they had better consult Taft personally, and not take too much for granted in a political sense.

A big step forward has been consummated when the government steps in as umpire in a dispute between labor and capital, as is the case in the threatened general railroad strike and the steel makers at Bethlehem, Penn. And the general government should exert itself to protect the public, always vested under such conditions. That is what the government is for. Otherwise, it better get out of business and let anarchy reign!

In an interview recently A. E. Drucker, a wealthy civil engineer of California, says that New Zealand is the most civilized of all countries on the globe that he has visited. He described it as "a good country and one in which there is no graft. I would place Australia second as the most prosperous part of the world. In Australia the people are extremely friendly to America and Americans."

There is no difficulty in New Zealand in securing investment of capital to develop water power, the water power is not sold but leased by the people through the government. There should be none in Oregon, and when the schemers find that they are not going to be able to buy up and monopolize the water power of the state, real capitalists will get busy.

An Illinois newspaper declares that Cannonism is a real evil. If the present methods and practices of this evil are continued at Washington, it may not be long before a motion to make the assertion of our contemporary unanimous will be in order.

The people of California in the candidacy of Johnson for governor on the republican ticket and Bell on the democratic ticket, no matter which man wins, will redeem itself from the thralldom of machine political rule!

Roosevelt says he is ready to lay down his trusty gun. But what interests the "interests," and one Joe Cannon, and a Mister Aldrich, is whether he is again going to pick up and wield that big stick!

The cleanest, newest, and fairest minded newspaper in the Pacific Northwest is the Portland Journal. It should find a welcome in every home in Oregon.

Congressman Hawley has furnished The Examiner with a copy of his bill for opening the Klamath Indian reservation.

FORTUNES MADE ALBERTA WHEAT LANDS

We will sell you a section of the famous Sunny Southern Alberta wheat land, that will produce 30 to 50 bushels per acre, for a first cash payment of $2,000 to $3,000 and Half the wheat crop on 200 acres yearly until the land is paid for.

You get all the crop on any land you cultivate above the 200 acres on which we only get Half.

You do not have to pay one cent in money after the first payment. Land at $15 to $25 per acre near railroads and elevators.

SPECIAL

Chance for Capital

We have a solid block of seven sections, consisting of 4800 acres in SUNNY ALBERTA, that we will sell for $16 per acre, which is a special buy, on the terms of $6 per acre down, and the balance in one, two, three or four years at only 6 per cent interest.

A large part of the land immediately adjoining this tract of land is under cultivation, and more will be broken up in the spring, by the settlers to whom we have sold adjoining sections.

One crop of winter wheat will pay for this land and give you a big surplus in the bank besides.

The yield is from 30 to 60 bushels, and at 80 cents, the usual price secured, you can figure the return, less $12 per acre, a big estimate for production.

See us or write us soon, before this opportunity is lost, as these valuable lands are being rapidly taken by enterprising Americans.

Traction Engines USED IN FARMING

Madeline Plains Will Be Made by Their Use a Big Fertile Farm

J. Noble Jones, of the Madeline Meadows Land & Irrigation Company, has been interviewed at Reno by a Journal reporter, who writes as follows:

Mr. Jones said that Tule lake, their principal reservoir, has in it now enough water to last all summer and furnish all necessary irrigation to the lands settled. And that water will be caught by the Tule lake reservoir from the spring floods yet to come.

Their reservoir No. 2 is also ready to "deliver the goods," in augmentation of the Tule reservoir.

Some new settlers for the Madeline Meadows company's land came in yesterday morning and will go out this morning. Mr. Jones expects more to reach Reno this morning. Nebraska people at Madeline, says Mr. Jones, have ordered a traction engine and gang plow for use there as a sort of a "club" proposition. The engine cost about $1000, and the plow about $750. This cooperative plan is expected to, and will, work great economy in the development of the land. The outfit was shipped early this month, and will be in operation this spring.

In virgin ground "with the engine they can pull about 15 plows; and once the ground is plowed, they can use 25 plows on those engines, or to other words plow 15 furrows at once. With such an outfit, says Mr. Jones, 25 acres a day can be plowed—virgin land.

He says that with one engine the company cleared 200 acres of sagebrush in six days, pulling a brush cutter of steel which cut the brush at the roots. The V-shaped cutter piles the brush in windrows on either side of the steel.
