LAKE COUNTY ABSTRACT CO.

Incorporated.

A Complete Record

We have made an entire transcript of all records in Lake County which in any way affect Real Property in the county. We have a complete Record of every Mortgage and transfer ever made in Lake County, and ever Deed given.

Errors Found in Titles

In transcribing the records we have found numerous mortgages recorded in the Deed record and indexed; and many deeds are recorded in the Mortgage record and other books. Hundreds of mortgages and deeds are not indexed at all, and most difficult to trace up from the records.

We have notations of all these Errors.

Others cannot find them. We have put hundreds of dollars hunting up these errors, and we can fully guarantee our work.

IF I HAVE FALTERED.

IF I have faltered more or less In my great task of happiness,
If I have moved among my race
And shown no glorious morning face, If beams from happy human eyes
Have moved me not, if morning skies, Books and my food and summer rain Knocked on my sullen heart in vain, Lord, thy most pointed pleasure take
And stab my spirit broad awake,
Or, Lord, if too obdurate I, Choose thou before that spirit die
A piercing pain, a killing sin, And to my dead heart run them in.
—Robert Louis Stevenson.

CONSOLATION.

OH, deem not they are blest alone Whose lives a peaceful tenor keep!
The power who pities man has shown A blessing for the eyes that weep.

THE light of smiles shall fill again
The lids that overflow with tears,
And weary hours of woe and pain
Are promises of happier years.

THERE is a day of sunny rest
For every dark and troubled night,
And grief may bide an evening guest,
But joy shall come with early light.

AND thou, who'er thy friend's lowlier Dost shed the bitter drops like rain,
Hope that a brighter, happier sphere
Will give him to thy arms again.

NOR let the good man's trust depart, Though life its common gifts deny,
Though with a pierced and bleeding heart,
And spurned of men he goes to die.

FOR God hath marked each sorrowing day
And numbered every secret tear,
And heaven's long age of bliss shall pay For all his children suffer here.
—William Cullen Bryant.

WINTER.

WINTER, ruler of the inverted year, Thy scattered hair with sleet like —sashes fling,
Thy breath condensed upon thy lips, thy cheeks

Fringed with a beard made white with other snows

Than those of age, thy forehead wrapped in clouds

A leafless branch thy scepter, and thy throne

A sliding car, indebted to no wheels,
But urged by storms along its slippery way.

I love thee, all unlovely as thou seem'st And dreaded as thou art! Thou hold'st the sun

A prisoner in the yet undawning east, Shortening his journey between morn and noon

And hurrying him, impatient of his stay, Down to the rosy west, but kindly still Compensating his loss with added hours Of social converse and instructive ease And gathering at short notice in one group

The family dispersed by daylight and its cares.

I crown thee king of intimate delights,
Fire-side enjoyments, home born happiness
And all the comforts that the lowly roof
Of undisturbed retirement and the hours Of long uninterrupted evening know.
—William Cowper.

TYROLESE SONG OF LIBERTY.

MERRILY every bosom boundeth,
Merrily, oh! Merrily, oh!

Where the song of freedom soundeth,
Merrily, oh! Merrily, oh!

There the warrior's arms
Shed more splendor,
There the maiden's charms Shine more tender.

Every joy the land surroundeth,
Merrily, oh! Merrily, oh!

WEARILY every bosom pineth, Wearily, oh! Wearily, oh!

Where the bond of slavery twineth,
Wearily, oh! Wearily, oh!

There the warrior's dart Hath no feistness,
There the maiden's heart
Hath no sweetness.

Every flower of life declineth,
Wearily, oh! Wearily, oh!

CHEERILY then from hill and valley,
Cheerily, oh! Cheerily, oh!

Like your native fountains sally,
Cheerily, oh! Cheerily, oh!

If a glorious death,
Won by bravery,
Sweeter be than breath Sighed in slavery.

Round the flag of freedom rally Cheerily, oh! Cheerily, oh!
—Thomas Moore.

A BUILDER'S LESSON.

"HOW shall I a habit break?"
As you did that habit make.

As you gathered you must lose,

As you yielded now refuse,
Thread by thread the strands we twist Till they bind our neck and wrist.

Thread by thread the patient hand Must untwine ere free we stand.

As we builded, stone by stone,
We must toil unhelped alone,
Till the wall is overthrowed.

But, remember, as we try, Lighter every task goes by.

Wading in, the stream grows deep Toward the center's downward sweep;
Backward turn, each step ashore Shallower is than that before.

Ah, the precious years we waste Leveling what we raised in haste, Doing what must be undone Ere content or love be won.

First across the gulf we cast Kite borne threads till lines are passed,
And habit builds the bridge at last!
—John Doyle O'Reilly.

FROM "THE FANCY BALL."

OH, a fancy ball's a strange affair,
Made up of silks and leathers, Light heads, light heels, false —hearts, false hair.

Pins, paint and ostrich feathers!
The dullest duke in all the town Today may shine a droll one,
And rakes who have not half a crown Look royal in a whole one.

Begone, dull care! This life of ours Is very dark and chilly.

We'll sleep through all its serious hours
And laugh through all its silly.

Be mine such motley scene as this,
Where by established usage
Miss Gravity is quite amiss And Madam Sense a nuisance.

Thus run the giddy hours away Till morning's light is beaming,
And we must go to dream by day

All we tonight are dreaming
To smile and sigh, to love and change, Oh, in our brain's recesses

We dress in fancies quite as strange As these our fancy dresses!
—Winthrop Mackworth Praed.

FIGHTING THE SCALE.

How to Destroy the Fatal Enemy of Shrubs and Trees.

Nearly all our fruit trees and lots of our flowering shrubs, notably such as the flowering quince, flowering plum, etc., are infested with the San Jose scale. It means sure death to the plant if it cannot be removed entirely.
March is the best of months to attack it.

You may be certain that it is there if you see any part of a woody plant covered with a minute silver grayish incrustation that looks almost like part of the bark. Scrape it with the finger nail, and it will come away and expose the real smooth brown bark underneath.

If there is only a little of it on a plant, shrub or tree it can be removed with the back of a knife. Whether you remove much or little, take care to put a sheet underneath, so that no scale will fall to the ground. It will simply climb back on the plant again or, worse still, spread to others. Shake the sheet into the fire. It is the only sure death to this fatal insect.

Even if the plant is infested in only a small portion, so far as you can see, it will not be enough to scrape it. It will need scrubbing or spraying just as if the whole plant were infested.

To cleanse a growth that is thoroughly affected spread a sheet on the ground under it. Make a thick, stinging lather with whale oil or even common kitchen soap and hot water and scrub the whole plant, beginning at the top, with the stiffest kind of a scrubbing brush or a wire brush if you can get one.

Scrub till every part of the bark shines out smooth and brown. Do not fear to let the lather run down the tree and into the earth. It will kill other grubs there as well as any scale that have begun to gather around the base.

After the scrubbing mix a kerosene emulsion by dissolving about a quarter of a pound of soap in half a gallon of boiling water. When thoroughly dissolved, stir in one gallon of kerosene and mix until the stuff looks like buttermilk. Put about a cupful of this into about five pints of cold water and apply it with a spray pump or paint it on with a brush till the tree is completely coated.

If this process does not destroy the scale, give it one or two more treatments with the emulsion during March. If the scale covers the plant again and it gets pretty sick during the summer, rip it out to the last root and burn it. It will be better to lose the one plant than to have the whole garden infested. Be sure to burn every vestige of the sick plant. Don't throw it somewhere and trust to luck.

If the scale is really bad and has attacked most of your woody shrubs, it will be necessary to apply lime and sulphur wash, which is best bought ready mixed from dealers.

How to Clean Velvet Hats.

Velvet hats can be cleaned and restored under the following treatment: Gently rub light blue velvet with a flannel previously dipped in kerosene, or if the material be soiled in spots only rub with a little butter. The wrong side requires drawing over a hot iron in order to raise the pile.
Some people have also succeeded very well by just brushing with cornmeal until the soil was removed. Your black and colored velvets, if not dirty, but only creased, can be freshened by holding wrong side down close to, but not on, a hot flatiron on which has first been placed a damp cloth, the steam radiating the creases and raising the pile. When it has been steamed all over remove the wet cloth and draw the velvet on the wrong side over the iron to dry it. Milliners do it just that way.

How to Keep Windows From Rattling.

There is many a family that has been annoyed by the loose windows when the wind rattles them. Wooden pegs inserted into the side of the sash will keep the windows from rattling.
These convenient little pegs can be made by splitting a clothespin in half.
A cord can be fastened to the side of the window and the head of the clothespin tied to this. It will always be in place, ready for immediate use.
If each loose window is provided with one of these handy little things, there need be no more annoyance from the noise.

How to Restore Color to Ivory.

The woman who is worried by having her small ivory ornaments yellow prematurely should dip them in benzine, let them stay for about ten minutes and then rub into the crevices with a small toothbrush. Benzine is also good to clean the keys of a piano, but denatured alcohol is quite as satisfactory and much cheaper, besides not having a disagreeable odor. Make the rag just damp enough to remove the soil. When too wet it runs into the cracks and injures the wires.

How to Clean Soiled Photographs.

The owner of fine photographs that are unframed is often distressed to see them the worse for wear from greasy fingers. The next time you are so annoyed try covering the spots with fine talcum powder. Apply the powder with a soft white rag, rub lightly, then blow off. The picture will be clean, and no harm can possibly be done to the paper.

How to Avoid Sore Throat.

If the girl whose throat is delicate and who catches cold easily will bathe her throat and chest each morning with cold water she will find it a wonderful help. This simple treatment is a sort of hardening process and will make one less liable to feel the harmful effects of bad weather and bleak —days.

A YIELD OF 67 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE

at the Nebraska Station at North Platte, Nebraska, is causing everybody that hears of it to TURN AROUND and ask HOW? A 50-bushel yield is not unusual, and there is no reason in the world why you cannot learn HOW. Practically all these bumper crops have been produced with only a few inches of rain during the growing season, so you will never "fear a drought" when you know HOW.

U. S. Government, Department of Commerce and Labor Bulletin, Dec 11, 1909, says: "Campbell's epoch making efforts in behalf of dry farming in connection with the introduction of Durum wheat, promises to turn the semi arid regions, covering millions of square miles, into one of the most prosperous sections in the world."

Mr. Campbell operates a line of Demonstration Farms from Texas to Canada and publishes his methods and results in the Scientific Farmer. Watch 1910!

No matter where you farm—in Virginia, Minnesota, Texas, Washington or Alberta, with irrigation or without, you cannot afford to live without knowing HOW. The vital principles are clearly explained and followed in CAMPBELL'S SCIENTIFIC FARMER (the only publication on tillage). A monthly, $1.00 a year. Clubbed with our paper at the single price of our paper, even on renewals.

You will meet business men at Swenson's Restaurant.
