"SULPUHR SHOWER" LARGE AS AN EMPIRE

Greenish Substance Covers the Ground

Does It Presage An Earthquake, or Was It the Work of Halley's Comet?

This section was visited by a "sulphur shower" Monday evening, which caused more or less discussion as to just what the green stuff consisted of. During the afternoon a thunder storm prevailed to the west and north of us and towards evening quite a shower of rain fell here in Lakeview. After the shower the "sulphur" appeared in low places where the water had accumulated and in many places where water had run off the roofs there was quite an accumulation of the green stuff. Numerous opinions were expressed as to the cause of the shower some saying that it presaged an earthquake, a visit from the Devil himself, or some other dire result, while others attributed it Halley's comet.

Such happenings are not unusual in many sections of the State, and it is no uncommon sight to see a similar greenish substance in pools of water after a thunderstorm in a timbered country. While the writer has frequently seen such happenings, yet at the time it caused no comment or wonderment simply because it was supposed to be the pollen from trees which was carried by the wind and deposited on the ground during the rain which occurs during the thunderstorm. In thickly wooded countries whenever a wind occurs about this time of year a green haze can be seen, similar to a dust storm, if one is where he can see the pollen blowing from the trees and carried along by the wind. Such sights are of frequent occurrence in Wood River Valley, some 40 miles north of Klamath Falls, conditions there being perfect to observe such phenomena, if such it may be termed. Therefore, in the opinion of the writer, the "sulphur shower" was nothing more than the pollen from the heavily timbered area surrounding this valley which was taken up by the wind and carried along until the rain commenced falling and was then deposited upon the ground.

Hill's Trip North

Relative to the trip of the Hill party from Lakeview to Silver Lake, the Leader says:
Monday morning at 5 o'clock the Hill party in two autos left Lakeview going down Crooked creek thence around the little Chawaucan marsh on the west side and around the narrows, thence up the valley to Paisley, at which place they took breakfast. After making a short stay at Paisley and getting acquainted with the people, the party started on their journey going through Summer Lake, the Gem of Lake county, stopping at most of the farm houses, interviewing both heads of the families upon the productiveness of both fruits and cereals, taking photographs of their orchards and farms. Soon Summer Lake was left behind and the divide was crossed and Silver Lake and its valley stretched out in view of the party. About two miles out from the town of Silver Lake, Mr. Hill and his party was met by several residents in autos who made them welcome to their little town. Upon reaching the town they benched flags, bunting and banners waving and many people awaiting to welcome them. At two o'clock a splendid lunch was served the party, after which Mr. Hill gave a short talk to the people which was listened to with wrapt attention. As soon as Mr. Hill finished his talk the autos started on their way to Crescent, the citizens waving them a fond adieu and wishing them a successful and pleasant journey.

Mr. Hill and his entire party expressed themselves as more than pleased with their trip and from what they had seen of Lake county it was a wonderful one and within its confines was an empire within itself.

Horace Going Some

Klamath Falls Herald: Horace R. Dunlap has purchased from Mrs. Mary A. Clapton the property on which the American hotel is located. It has a frontage on Main street of 85 feet and on Klamath avenue of 130 feet. Mr. Dunlap has had an option on this property for some time and the transaction today involved the taking up of that paper. The price paid was $15,000 cash.

Hill-Climbing Test

The hill just north of C. A. Rehart's is the try-out for autoists now a days. The hill although short is very steep and its location does not permit of any advantage being taken in taking a "run and shoot" at it. Several cars have balked in the attempt to climb it, but Dr. Hall's Marmon and Dick Wilcox's Oakland have succeeded in climbing it.

Christmas Lake Valley a Monster

Transformation of That Section of Lake County Great Surprise to Everybody

"The transformation of an Empire" is the title to a drama now being enacted in Lake County with Christmas Lake Valley occupying a most prominent place before the footlights. This valley, the largest in Lake County, covering over 200,000 acres of fertile lands, is undergoing changes that promise to place it among the productive sections of the state. At an altitude of about 4300 feet, with a width varying from six to twenty miles and a length of approximately 45 miles, this portion of the county is awakening at a rate that is almost marvelous, considering how long the valley has lain dormant, producing only sage brush, rabbit brush, bunch and rye grass for the winter feed of the large bands of sheep that have roamed its vastnesses during the winter season.

About 1905 a settlement was made by a party of people from the Willamette valley and a post office started Cliff; this together with an office at Lakeview until the office at Fort Rock was established and now there are six offices in the valley supplying the postal needs to about 250 families and those daily taking up their residence in different townships.

The soil generally is decomposed lava rock that has either come down from the hills or is produced by erosion and is spread evenly throughout the valley as a rule and is mixed with some vegetable matter. This soil often assumes the porportion of a sandy loam or sandy clay loam and responds very easily to tillage. There are two ridges in the vicinity of Christmas Lake, a small body of water, that are quite sandy, though from the appearance of the sandy country and the sage brush and grasses on the same the soil is very fertile.

Except in a portion of two townships the water supply is very good and generally obtained at depths that vary from ten to fifty feet, the usual methods being to dig wells of about five feet in diameter, the firmness of the soil doing away with the necessity of curbing below the first few feet. The U. S. Geological Survey examined the country a few years ago and stated in one of their bulletins that there was every indication of an artesian flow being found at from 1000 to 2000 feet below the surface, and at present a well is being driven a few miles west of Christmas Lake that is down something over 400 feet. The Fremont Forest Reserve surrounds a portion of the valley and settlers may secure wood and fuel permits from the forester, to cut $40 worth of timber annually. The largest trading point convenient at present is Silver Lake, though there are stores wherever there is a post office.

Fire Association

A meeting of the timber land owners of Klamath and Lake Counties was held at Klamath Falls Monday, at which was perfected the Klamath-Lake Counties Fire association. The following officers were selected:

W. H. Shirk, Lakeview, president; J. G. Pierce, Klamath Falls, vice president; J. F. Kimball, secretary and treasurer. Those, with the following constitute the board of directors: W. B. Sellers, Bend, and C. F. Stone, Klamath Falls. W. W. Baldwin was chosen as central report man to whom all reports of fires are to be sent.

The annual meeting of the association is to be held on the second Saturday in May. Meetings of the board of directors will be held on the second Saturdays in August and November.

The Herald says it is the intention of the association to thoroughly patrol Klamath and Lake counties. Several miles of telephone lines will be strung in order to aid in bringing to the scene of any fire the rangers and other assistants that may be employed.

MRS. NEILON

Woman's Outfitter

At the Opera House

When August Snider headed the Coon King Musical Comedy Company, he secured the laughing bit of the season. Where ever this class aggregation of singers, dancers, and high class comedians have appeared they have been the talk of the town. The chorus is a feature with this New York Musical Comedy Success, and it is certainly a treat to see this bunch of beauties sing and dance. They have some beautiful numbers which they execute with grace and skill. The opening number, "Splash Me," is a sure winner and shows the grace and skill of these young fairies. Besides this number there are seven other numbers, each showing a complete change of wardrobe, for each number. There are also some dazzling dances, and the singing is certainly a treat, as this chorus is noted for their ability to sing and dance. Gene Ormsby, as the Coon King, is a scream; as a laugh producer he has few equals. From the rise to the fall of the curtain he creates one laugh. Janette Ormsby, as the rich widow Mrs. Astorbilt, is an actress of note, having in the past few years played with some of the largest Eastern productions. She has a beautiful high soprano voice. Loyd Adams, as Bill Bunko, the Society Sharpener, is a past master in the art of acting, and as a singer he is known from coast to coast. Isabella Webster, the singing and dancing Soubrette, as Rose, has been praised by the press all over the country, and has a voice that is seldom heard in a road show. Eddie Lancaster, as Percy Sharpston, the Duke, is one of the youngest and best comedians on the stage, and sings some of the latest song hits of the day. Sybill Degrey, the dashing young Soubrette, is a clever singer and dancing Soubrette, and as Tiny, is bound to repeat the success she has been making all over the country. Harry Demar that quaint comedian, as Hans Wagner, in his droll way is nothing but fun, and is worthy of all the praise he has received. Winnie Oliver, as Miss Nevertalk, is a side splitting fun maker, and as the Old Maid never fails to keep her audience in a round of laughter. The above are the principals, in the funniest of all funny Musical Comedies, all in all this promises to be the greatest treat we have ever had in the theatrical line, and no one should miss this great aggregation. One night only, this is Saturday June 4th. On Monday night there will be an entire change of program.

Back from California

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Snider, accompanied by Misses Jones and Nannie McCallen, arrived from Berkeley, Cal., yesterday. Mrs. Snider, who has been in California for sometime past for the benefit of her health returns greatly improved. Miss McCallen was formerly a resident of Lakeview, and, was warmly received by her numerous friends.

Baseball Sunday

The Alturas team will be here Sunday and cross bats with the Lakeview boys. It promises to be a hot game from start to finish, and it will be worth the small price of admission. Let all attend and lend their encouragement towards making the big tournament a success.
