LAKE COUNTY ABSTRACT CO.

Incorporated.

A Complete Record

We have made an entire transcript of all records in Lake County which in any way affect Real Property in the county. We have a complete Record of every Mortgage and transfer ever made in Lake County, and ever Deed given.

Errors Found in Titles

In transcribing the records we have found numerous mortgages recorded in the Deed record and indexed; and many deeds are recorded in the Mortgage record and other books. Hundreds of mortgages and deeds are not indexed at all, and most difficult to trace up from the records.

We have notations of all these Errors.

Others cannot find them. We have put hundreds of dollars hunting up these errors, and we can fully guarantee our work.

DOINGS IN THE NORTH END

(Silver Lake Leader)

As road tax time rolls around we would like to suggest that a mud hole in nearly impassible condition in Section 8-36 21, needs attending to. Roads in this valley have been worked in three years or more.

One Senoder came in from his lambing camp last Friday and informs us that the crop of lambs will be a bumper one. Reports from other sheepmen tell the same story about big lamb crops.

G. W. Ruffro & Son intends this summer to pull down the building they are now using as a livery barn and erect a large and commodious building in its stead, and when finished stock it up with horses and rigs and have one of the best barns in Central Oregon.

Querer thing is sometimes disclosed in taking the census. In this county we have one woman who has been married nine times and another seven times. A woman was found who had been married five times and four of her husbands are living in the same vicinity she now resides in.

Oscar Thiel foreman of the S. A. Lester ranch was up this week and reports grain growing fine. He says he has lots of young turkeys and chickens hatched out and still more hatching. He now has seventeen wild geese and six ducks hatching and wants to have J. B. Fox of Fremont to keep away from them this fall when he goes out hunting.

The boiler in the Embody saw mill gave away one day last week. Mr. Embody immediately started for Portland for a new boiler and hopes to have it installed and the mill in operation within a month. Mr. Embody informed us that this temporary stoppage of the mill would in no way interfere with any of his patrons who wish lumber as he has an ample supply of all kinds on hand.

W. Johnson, of Arm-tead, Mont., is stopping at the Valley Falls House. Mr. Johnson is well pleased with the valley and will probably locate.

Actor Woes.

Reed and Ingalls.

"Why don't you grow?" said Tom Reed to Senator Ingalls some years ago, when both men were in the service of the people at Washington.

"Ah," said Ingalls, who was of very slight stature, "I'm too much interested in my fellows' life and property to assume to your magnificent height and proportion."

"And is not that my concern, too?" asked Reed deliberately.

"Impossible!" said Ingalls. "Walk on the edge of a board walk and you lift up the other end; stand in the middle and you break through. The people's safety lies in your being a middle of the road man."

Some days after Reed found Ingalls in a state of mental distraction. "Just swallowed the gold fillings of this front tooth," explained Senator Ingalls, pointing to the exposed cavity.

Reed laughed immoderately. He drew himself up to his full height. As a victor he stood; his time of revenge had come.

"Ingalls, I congratulate you. You are now worth your weight in gold."

Ought to Have Known Him.

"About the limit of nerve that ever came under my observation," said an ex-prosecutor, "happened a few days ago when a man walked into my office and solicited a small loan. That he was drunk and had been for several days was evident at a glance. Dirty, bleary eyed, unshaved and with hands that shook like those of a professional roman candle shooter, he saluted me with easy familiarity, calling me by my first name. His face was vaguely familiar to me, but I could not recall where I had seen him. He asked for a quarter. I compromised with a dime. He took it with profuse thanks.

"Let's see," I called to him as he turned to go. "I can't quite place you. Who are you?"

"He wheeled and looked at me with an expression of pained surprise. "What? Don't know me? Why, good Lord, John! You put me in jail three times for wife beating!"—Kansas City Star.

Some Measures.

Herbert Spencer scorned the metric system because it rests solely on the fact that man has but ten fingers. However, a mile is but a "mille passum," or a thousand paces. The length of the foot was used for distances long before it was fixed at twelve inches. A "furlong" is only a furrowing. The breadth of the hand became the standard because the easiest way of measuring the height of the horse. The length of the arm gave the length of the "ell," and from the elbow to the tip of the middle finger was the "cubit." By stretching out both arms as if on a cross man invented the measure of the "fathom." Cloth measure still decrees that two and one-half inches make a "nail," and this is the width of four fingers held together and measured across the nails. The apothecary's "dram" originally signified "only as much raw spirit as can be held in the mouth."

Editorial Pleasantries.

Two editors quarreled, and one referred to the other's early career in his paper.

"As for our contemporary," he wrote, "what can we expect from a man who was five years ago hawking from door to door with a donkey, and an ill conditioned beast at that?"

His rival did not deny it, but in his next issue appeared the following:

"Our contemporary says that five years ago we were hawking from door to door with a donkey, and an ill conditioned beast at that." He is quite right. We were so occupied. But we are surprised to find the donkey has such a good memory."

Won by a Nose.

"Bernard Shaw," said a dramatic critic, "always does the original thing I went to see 'Caesar and Cleopatra' with him once, and as we stood in the aisle—the house was crowded—a stranger behind us persisted in poking his head right over Shaw's shoulder.

"Shaw then did the original thing: Taking out his handkerchief, he wiped the man's nose, patting and twisting it pretty vigorously.

"The man, with an ugly oath, jerked back his head.

"Oh, I beg your pardon," said Shaw. "I thought it was mine, you know."—Washington Star.

Ready to Bargain.

Suitor (to her father)—Sir, I love the very ground your daughter treads on. Father (grinily)—Well, young man, you ain't the first party that's had an attachment for it. Howsoever, if you love it well enough to come and help pay up the mortgage on it you can marry Sarah.—Exchange.

Hopeless.

Lawyer—You don't like the jury? Defendant—I do not. No. 1 is my tailor, No. 3 is my grocer, No. 5 is my milk and egg dealer and No. 7 is my wife's first husband. What chance have I got?—St. Paul Dispatch.

Expressed Differently.

"Madam, you ought to go to a warmer climate."
 "For once, doctor, you and my husband are agreed, but he expresses the idea in more emphatic language."—New York Press.

He Contributed.

Missionary—Do you ever contribute money for the heathen in foreign lands, sir? Millionaire—Oh, yes. Both my daughters married foreign gentlemen.

Those who are greedy of praise prove that they are poor in merit.—Plutarch.

A YIELD OF 67 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE

at the Nebraska Station at North Platte, Nebraska, is causing everybody that hears of it to TURN AROUND and ask HOW? A 50-bushel yield is not unusual, and there is no reason in the world why you cannot learn HOW. Practically all these bumper crops have been produced with only a few inches of rain during the growing season, so you will never "fear a drouth" when you know HOW.

U. S. Government, Department of Commerce and Labor Bulletin, Dec. 11, 1909, says: "Campbell's epoch making efforts in behalf of dry farming in connection with the introduction of Durum wheat, promises to turn the semi arid regions, covering millions of square miles, into one of the most prosperous sections in the world."

Mr. Campbell operates a line of Demonstration Farms from Texas to Canada and publishes his methods and results in the Scientific Farmer, March 1910!

No matter where you farm—in Virginia, Minnesota, Texas, Washington or Alberta, with irrigation or without, you cannot afford to live without knowing HOW. The vital principles are clearly explained and followed in CAMPBELL'S SCIENTIFIC FARMER (the only publication on tillage). A monthly, $1.00 a year. (Clipped with our paper at the single price of our paper, even on renewals.)
