The subject is, tudeed, like the undeveloped and ultimate resurces of that region practically unexhaustible. Few if any people of Portland or of that county itself have an adequate conseption of the results that will flow from this extensive railroad building. People by tens of thousands, even within a decade, by huudreds of thousands, will flock into That reigon, for all sorts of purposes, but most of them will be producers. What a writer in Everybody's mutazine describes as happening in the southwest will occure in this partiou of the northwest. A portion of his dascription tollows:

"The second great continental emigration has begun to the open places of the west and southwest. The spirit of the pioneer is once more struggling. The old trails to the west are crowding. But now the trail is a line of steel; the prairie schooner is a tourist car. The new land lust exmacts no toil of hunger or thirst. Every day the horde swells ; the migration grows mightier. Klamath Chronicle:-County Com misioner William Albert Walker dist in a hospital in Portland Wednesday evening about S:30, heart failure be ing the cause of death.

Mr. Walker has been suffering from heart trouble for some months, but only at intervals. He was apparently robust and healthy but at tiuss for a few days, or possibly only hours he would suffer intensely and have sinking spells. He had been in town for several days and during this time had several spells with his heart which alarmod his realtives and friends Dr. R. R. tiamilton was attending Mr. Walker and the physician decided that he would have to be taken to a lower altitude than this if he hoped to regain his bealth. Although Mr. Walker was very low Dr. Hamilton and Mrs. Walker left with the sick man Tuesday for Portland.

Luke Walker received a telegram from his fither stating that he reachen Portland and was feeling much better. Mr Walker's friends feared Beopleing. Four years ago I came to Lake County, Oregon; here I hand not only opportunities, but certainties. My such in the wonderful resources of this section of the state has been justified to other people in a position to know what industry and sottlement will do toward developing a district as large as the contribut states of Conmetlent, Bhode Island and Deleware. Here are tertile vallers as white ing the plow; lands that can be taken under the various government hand across. Six postoffices are in one valley I take you to You can sell your products or feed them to the live stock for which Lake County is noted and at the highest prices. Wood for their is within easy reach. Lumber for building reasonably close and much lower in price than in the Central States, Our climate is much better than any central state. We have no cyclones, no blizzards and there never has been a total crop failure from drought. This is not a citrus full belt but its a good place to live among good people where you can make a good living. Get a few choice friends to come with you and investigate what I have to show you. I am willing to take you to the following valleys personally and at the lowest possible location fee consistent with honorable dealing.
