BUNCH OF NEWS OF SILVER LAKE

Many Interesting Items Relative to Doings in North End
 (Silver Lake Leader)
 Haying has begun in this valley. In some meadow the crop is good, while in others barely a half crop will be fully realized.
 Nearly all the lumber for the new Odd Fellows hall is now sawed and a small amount delivered on the grounds.
 The fruit crop at Summer Lake is a bumper one, and every one feels assured that they can get all they need and more.
 John Foster, wife and son, arrived home from the Willamette Valley on last Friday where they had been for some time on a visit. They were all more than pleased with their trip.
 We are informed that the machinery for the new grist mill of Chet Withers on Summer Lake is now at Alturas and will be freighted in at once and set up so as to be ready to grind this fall.
 E. K. Henderson has rented his ranch to T. J. LaBrie. Mr. Henderson intends to leave in a couple of weeks for Eugene and will probably this fall go home from there to California where he will spend the winter, taking a well deserved vacation from business cares.
 The rabbit pest is showing itself many fields of grain at Paisley being entirely destroyed by their ravages. We hope the plague that appeared among these animals a few years ago and practically wiped them out for a time will again make its appearance, and that at once.
 The new contractors of the stage line all took charge of their different routes July 1st. Truman Robinson, who has the contract between this place and Paisley, has on the line wood rigs and teams, and Mr. S. Buchanan, who has the contract between here and Cliff, has also a good equipment.
 Jack Embody returned home the latter part of last week from Portland where he had been for the past month. Mr. Embody brought home with him a new 40 horse power Knox auto, and she is a dandy to and can go some. His new boiler which he purchased for his saw mill is now on its way out, and he expects to get it installed within two weeks, and the wheels of the mill again made to hum. The new boiler is a 60 horse power.
 It was our pleasure to spend the fourth at Fort Rock through the kindness of E. K. Henderson of this valley who provided a means of conveying us there. The celebration was held in the crater of the rock whose majestic sides rise some 300 feet perpendicular above the bottom of the crater. A large bower was built and covered with evergreens under which the exercises of the day was held, which consisted of the song, America. Prayer by Mr. Rice. Reading Declaration of independence by Mrs. Slater. Raising of the flag on the highest point of the rocks and salute of gun. Song. Dedication of the flag by the President of the day, O. F. Cady. Song. Reading by Eva Slater, Old Glory. Song. Recitation, the naming of old Glory, by Miss McCauley. Reading, Old Glory, by Mr. Wilson. Song. Address of the day by A. W. Branson. Dinner. In the afternoon the crowd, which numbered somewhere near three hundred left the rock and went to town some two miles distant and spent the afternoon witnessing a game of base ball, horse races, foot races by both sexes and etc. In the evening a big ball was held in the new hall where all enjoyed themselves until daylight.
 State Engineer Lewis left Salem on the first of the month according to the the Oregonian to look over the different Cory act projects in Central Oregon, among which is the one at Paisley. Our Paisley friends should spare no pains in showing Mr. Lewis the nothingness that the Portland Irrigation Co., have accomplished on that project when he visits that section. That company should be compelled to get their corporate carcasses off the lid they have so long held down. If they are allowed to sit much longer we will become compelled to believe it is because they are pets of the powers that is and be.
