The State Assembly convenes at Portland a week from today, and it promises to be largely attended. However, little interest is being taken in politics in the "new counties" either of the "Assembly" or "Statement No. 1" varieties, every one being busy giving the almighty dollar a chase. However, after harvest is over and the primary election is near, possibly more interest may be manifest.

To Cross Atlantic Walter Wellman and Melvin Van Inman will attempt to cross the Atlantic ocean in the dirigible balloon America, which was built for the Wellman polar expedition and has been twice tested in voyages over the Arctic ocean north of Spitzbergen.

The attempt will be made on the responsibility of the aeronauts, but the The New York Times, the Chicago Record Herald and the London Daily Telegraph have arranged to buy the news of the expedition which will be transmitted by wireless from the airship.

The America will carry a crew of six men, including the wireless operator, and 1000 gallons of gasoline in a steel tank. Equipment for a day's run she could carry 75 passengers in addition to her full crew. In size she ranks second only to the latest Zeppelin airship.
