Money Order is Changed

Careless and forgetful people who patronize the money order department of the post offices will be compelled to reform their habits after September 1. On that date a new form of money order and a changed system of recording them will be established. Receipts will continue to issue, but if the customer loses the stub and forgets the number or the date upon which it was issued there will be no way by which the order may be traced. The books of the record will show only the number of money order, its date and the amount for which it was issued. Paying offices will have a record of the order if it has been paid, otherwise they will know nothing of it.

The point is to keep the receipts until all danger of the loss or miscarriage of the money order has passed.

The new form does away with the duplicate system, which was operated by the use of the carbon sheet. It will consist of a long sheet of paper on which there are apparently two money orders exactly alike, and a receipt stub. The purchaser is expected to detach the stub and fill in such data on the back as may be of value. The remaining two forms are placed in the letter of transmission. The person receiving them carries both forms to the post office upon which it is drawn, and paying the postmaster detaches one form to send to Washington with his reports and files the other in his office for future reference.

Death of Little John Banister

At Paisley Aug 19th John Elmer only son of Albert and Ada Banister, born May 19th 1909 aged 15 months.

The little one was taken suddenly sick of Bronchial Pneumonia and only lived five days. Although it had the best of medical care, and the loving care of parents and a host of friends but of no avail. The little one passed away in the early morning of life "Little Jack", as he was called, was a beautiful boy, idolized by his parents, two little sisters, grandparents and a large family of uncles and aunts are left to mourn his loss. He was a particularly bright baby and all looked forward to a bright future for him, but the angel of death called and no one can stay his hand but in our sorrow we say "Thy Will Be Done". The funeral was conducted by Mr. Lamb. The singing was most appropriate and the little white casket committed to earth there to await the morn of resurrection. The little mound was heaped with flowers as the sorrowing friends turned to leave the loved one to rest and return to the desolate home.
A Friend.

The sheep itself is timid and easily frightened, so its product—wool—having gotten into that uncertain game of politics, shares the timidity of its originator. Last fall President Taft at Wilson's sounded the key note by declaring the duty on wool was too high, thereby introducing into the wool situation preventing manufacturers from buying in large quantities and depressing the price of wool. Sheepmen justly think that it is unjust to keep the price of everything else up, and take it off from wool as they are of the opinion, based upon experience, that they earn all that they get.

Copper to Inspect Projects

Percy A. Copper, assistant to the state engineer, left Monday morning for Eastern Oregon, where a large number of Carey act projects will be examined. State Engineer Lewis is unable to leave just at this time, owing to the pressure of business in the office and from the fact that he almost daily expects to be called upon to take the projected trip down the Columbia River for the purpose of settling the Oregon-Washington boundary line matter. He has also been subpoenaed to appear at a water right case in The Dalles.

As the trip through the state half of which has been completed is being carried out under the instruction from the Water Board, the State Engineer decided not to postpone it further and sends his assistant.

The information collected by Copper will be used by State Engineer Lewis in making reports to the Desert Land Board and the Secretary of the Interior, as required by law, before further steps may be taken in furthering the Carey act projects.

Mr. Copper will be at Ioraside August 21 to inspect the surveys of Willow Creek, made in connection with the water right adjudications before the Board of Control. He will be present at a hearing at Ioraside August 25 and also at hearings at Brogan, August 24, and at Vale August 29. F. M. Saxton, superintendent of Water Division No 2, will take the testimony in the water matters.

On August 31 testimony will be taken at Vale on the adjudication of rights on Cotton Wood Creek, in Malheur County. Copper will then examine the engineering features of Harper Basin, a 10,000 acre project, southeast of Westfall. This will be inspected principally to ascertain the sufficiency of the water supply and the feasibility of the reclamation plan.

From these points Copper will go to Jordan Valley, on the Idaho line, for similar inspection of the 50,000 acre Carey act project. Water for this scheme will be stored in Idaho by a 150-foot dam on Jordan Creek a few miles over the line. This appears to be one of the most promising projects initiated under the water laws of 1903, in the opinion of the State Engineer.

Copper then proposes to inspect the Pine Valley project in Baker County. This includes 10,000 acres and the lands are within a few miles of the Snake River. Transportation facilities for this scheme have already been provided through the construction of a railroad down the Snake River from Huntington to the Oxbow power project.

The Eagle Valley project will also be on line for inspection. Here are 30,000 acres under the Carey act and are located a few miles south of Pine Valley. The water here is derived partly by the regular flow of Eagle Creek. Copper will proceed by stage from this point to the lower Powder Valley, where there is a project of 50,000 acres.

Mr. Copper hopes to gather sufficient information here to complete the report on the water supply and this will probably complete the circuit of the state projects which has been undertaken by State Engineer Lewis this summer. He previously inspected all of the projects through the Deschutes country and in Southern Oregon.

His reports on progress on his return from that trip was exceedingly flattering to the general development from Oregon and he believes that his assistant will return from Eastern Oregon with reports that are equally as pleasing.

New Cars Brought In

T. E. Bernard and Ralph Southstone brought in three new cars from Klamath Falls Tuesday evening, one an "E. M. F. Thirty" and two Flanders 20s. Mr. Bernard is agent for these cars and Southstone Bros. handle the cars at their Garage. The E. M. F. is practically the same as the other E. M. F. cars here and from the reputation gained by them it is needless to state its qualities.

The Flanders 20 presents a very neat appearance and are adaptable to this country as they have good clearance and are light. One of the cars is equipped with a roadster body with an oval gasoline tank and slanting tool box back of the seat. It looks especially speedy. The other machine has a suburban body with detachable back seat. This will appeal to many for the seat can be removed leaving a roomy box in which can be put a good sized camp outfit. The price of these cars is $1500 for the E. M. F. and $1000 for the Flanders, equipped with gas lamps, oil lamps, horns and tools.

A large shipment of these cars will arrive in the spring and if you fail to secure one at this time Southstones will talk to you next spring.

Word has been received from Reno that a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match took place on Sunday afternoon, August 21, between Nels Jepsen and Kelly Burns, of Portland. Mr. Jepsen will be remembered as a former resident of this place.
