

LIBRARIAN HAS MINING CLAIM

INVESTS WHILE IN THE HOAG DISTRICT

MILL NOW BEING ERRECTED

Mrs. Batchelder Reports Fine Outlook for Camp in District

Mrs. May Batchelder, Librarian of the Public Reading Room, has returned from her summer vacation trip to the mountains near Pine creek and while enjoying the salubrity of the higher altitude, combined business with pleasure and is now the fortunate owner of a mining claim in the Hoag district. Mrs. Batchelder reports that there is a fine outlook for a permanent camp in the Hoag district which comprises the Big Four, Mountain View and Mountain Sheep groups and her claim lies partly between Big Four and Mountain View groups there is a prospect of it becoming quite valuable with the development of the properties. A fine ore body has been struck on the Big Four which has a shaft down in the neighborhood of something over one hundred feet and which is two feet wide at the start of the vein with an increase in width for the entire forty feet that the vein has been followed so far. The values are high on this body. For a short distance deeper there will be so much doing that will make the natives sit up and take notice.

The Big Four is under lease by Messrs Brown and Bessler and they are developing the property as rapidly as possible. A new mill is being erected on the east side of the hill within a few miles of the property and they will be able to treat ores there soon. It is hoped that the good news that comes from the district will increase as time goes on and Mrs. Batchelder as well as others that own claims there find that there hopes are realized to the utmost.

The inside of the store formerly occupied by the Colvin Furniture Company is being plastered and nicely painted. When ready, it is to be occupied by Tom Cloud, who has been conducting the "Frost Kandy Kitchen."

HAY WOULD TAKE OVER THE FORESTS

WILL ADVOCATE STATE CONSERVATION

Will Fight for Control of Reserves at Big Meeting At St. Paul

"The people of the state of Washington were exercising practical conservation before Gifford Pinchot and Theodore Roosevelt appeared on the political horizon," stated Governor E. M. Fay in discussing his plan of state conservation, which he will advocate at the Conservation Congress in St. Paul this week.

"I am sorry to have to take issue with the former President on the matter of conservation, but I am for state conservation first and last. Twenty seven and a quarter per cent of the area of the state of Washington is an area larger than the states of Rhode Island, Connecticut, Delaware, New Jersey, and the District of Columbia combined, is taken up with Federal reserves and the taxpayers of the state of Washington are taxed so small amount each year to police and fire patrol this territory.

"Five hundred thousand acres of land given to us by the Federal Government for educational purposes is within this forest area, to which the Federal Government refuses to allow us to secure title.

"I am as strong a conservationist as a man can be. I am absolutely and firmly of the opinion that the people of this state are more competent to administer the reserves of Washington than any bureau at Washington D. C.

Failed to Get on Ticket

Representative R. Seager, a State Senator, failed to get on the joint ticket for the Klamath, Lake, Crook and Grant counties, was rejected by chief clerk H. N. Corey for the reason of having an insufficient number of signatures. Mr. Seager's attempt to get on the ballot fell down in several respects, according to the interpretation of the primary law made by Mr. Corey. Seager apparently misunderstood the boundaries of the twenty-first representative district and omitted Grant county entirely. This was the cause for him not having sufficient names. The law requires 2 per cent of the voters of each district based on the vote for representative in congress at the last election. While Seager required 50 names he had but 55, which would have been sufficient according to his understanding of what counties comprised the Twenty-first district. Seager also did not file his declaration prior to his petitions. Both were filed simultaneously today, while the law makes it clear that the declaration must be filed before the petitions can be circulated. All other candidates have regular petitions and will be on the primary ballot as has been reported.

Nat T. Hooker arrived in town from the new town of Crescent in northern Klamath county. He reports that times are lively there, but as it is getting late in the season the weather is a trifle chilly in the morning.

WHAT LAW SAYS TO CANDIDATES

MUST LIMIT THEIR EXPENDITURES

Organizations, Candidates and Friends Must Keep Accounts

The corrupt practice law provides various and sundry duties of particular interest to candidates and their friends, and of general interest to the public. It provides that very little money be spent to secure a nomination or an election and it provides for the proper filing of a list of all moneys so expended. The text of the law is as follows:

No sum of money shall be paid as expenses authorized or incurred by or on behalf of any candidate to be paid by him, except such as he may pay to the state for printing, as here in provided, in his campaign for nomination for any public office or position in the state, in excess of per cent of one year's compensation or salary of the office for which he is a candidate; provided, that no candidate shall be restricted to less than one hundred dollars in this campaign for such nomination.

No sum of money shall be paid and no expenses authorized or incurred by or on behalf of a candidate who has received the nomination to any public office or position, towards payment for his political party's or independent statement, to be paid by him in his campaign for election, in excess of 10 per cent of one year's salary for which he is nominated; provided that no candidate shall be restricted to less than one hundred dollars.

Every candidate for nomination or election to public office shall within fifteen days after the election at which he was a candidate, file with the secretary of state, if a candidate for United States Senator, representative in congress, or any state or district composed of more than one county, but with the county clerk and auditor or recorder of the town or city, for town, city or ward offices, an itemized sworn statement setting forth in detail all moneys contributed, expended or promised by him to aid and to promote his nomination or election or both, and for the election of his party candidates and all existing, unfilled promises of a character and all liabilities remaining uncancelled. If no money or other valuable thing given, paid, expended, contributed or promised and on unfilled liabilities were incurred by a candidate, he shall file such statement within fifteen days after election. Any candidate failing to file such statement shall be fined $25 for every day which he was in default, and his name shall be stricken from the ballot unless

WILL HANG THIS WEEK

Condemned Men Send In Petitions for Clemency

ACTING GOVERNOR BOWERMAN VISIT BOTH

Rosclair to Hang Today, Departing for First Time From Rule of Making Friday Hangman's Day -- Harrell Will Hang Tomorrow

Unless executive clemency is exercised two men will hang at the Oregon Penitentiary this week. Departing for the first time from the rule of Friday hangman's day one of the condemned men will die on Thursday. The day following the other will be hanged. This arrangement was provided so that the executions would not fall on the same day. The first condemned man is John D. Rosclair, convicted in Washington County of the brutal murder of his wife in a lonely cabin in the mountains. The murder resulted in a quarrel at the breakfast table, during which the wife threw a pan of milk at her husband, which angered him to such an extent that he killed her and afterward mutilated the body with a long kitchen knife.

Isaac Harrell condemned to kill two men in Lake county. He will hang for his crime Friday. Harrell pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the first degree and the supreme court departed from its usual custom and denied the condemned man a writ of probable cause, etc.

Acting Governor Bowerman visited both condemned men in their cells at the penitentiary last Friday. Each sent the r petitions for clemency to the governor and the executive fixed Tuesday morning as the time when he will hear and consider petitioners and in behalf of both condemned men.

Harrell bears up strongly under his sentence of death, but Rosclair is weak. He is a religious fanatic. Harrell is the typical western hard man with long back muscles curled up at the end. He chides Rosclair for his weakness and for killing only a woman, while he himself killed two men.

Warner Snyder the Republican Candidate for Sheriff returned Sunday from a trip to the Northern Valleys of the county where he has been shaking hands with the new settlers. He is very favorably impressed with the new citizens who have taken up their homes there and says that he did not expect to see so many decorated people in the valleys as he found in meeting the residents after a canvass of those sections. The development of the newly settled Christmas Lake Valley was also a surprise to him as to the people every where are very optimistic over their portion of the country.

Pinchot receives warm scoring. Roundly berates policy of "Giff". Shows up great amount of money used by forestry service.

United States Senator Carter replying to a recent interview with Gifford Pinchot said that Pinchot is trying to shift the responsibility for the disastrous fires that have devastated so much of the West. He declares that Heyburn, Mondell and Carter did not oppose the appropriation of so much money for forest protection but they opposed the misapplications of funds appropriated for forest protection.

He declared that since 1896 congress had appropriated $20,000,000 for the forest service and in addition the forest service had collected for forest timber and the use of forests without direct appropriation a sum which he believes will aggregate about $55,000,000. He charges that that only $1,975,000 was used for the improvement of national forests while the extraordinary sum of $19,920,000 was used for general expenses.

"It will be perceived that about ninety per cent of the money appropriated was used for general expenses, including the payment for lectures, payments for editorial writers and reporters and the maintenance of the bureau of publicity and general exploitations of Pinchot and his campaign for the presidency of the United States."

Doing Good Work. The West Side Threshing Company have been so busy lately that they do not stop for rest Sundays. Last Sunday the crew of men worked on three different ranches. They made four settings and threshed 2237 bushels of barley. The last setting was made on the ranch belonging to V. L. Snelling and in two hours threshed out 743 bushels. The machine and traction engine was made by the J. I. Case Co., and has proved to be a good outfit as the grain was clean and the engine is large enough to furnish all the power needed.

The contractors that have been engaged on the P. M. Cory residence on South main street have completed their contract and the place is nearly ready for the family to move in. This is one of the residences that Lakeview can well be proud of as it is finished nicely and is laid out with a cozy design that insures comfort to the fortunate possessor. The house is lighted with electricity and has a comfortable fire place that will make the winter evenings joyful.

OLD FORT WILL BE ABANDONED

SOLDIERS WILL LEAVE WALLA WALLA

ARMY NO LONGER NEEDED

Troops Go to Other Posts -- Whitman College to Get Buildings

Historic Fort Walls Walla is to be abandoned by the Army within the next 30 days. Orders transferring the garrison to other stations and directing the dismantling of the post have been issued by the War Department. The War Department has long contemplated to abandon this post, a relic of frontier days believed to be no longer essential to the military defence of the Northwest, but on every previous occasion when the move was made to close the post. Senator Ankeny, whose home is in Walla Walla was successful in overriding the will of the department.

Now that Ankeny is no longer in Congress, and no member of the present Washington delegation is interested in the maintenance of the post, there is likely to be a protest against the order of the department unless it be from residents of Walla Walla who have been furnishing supplies to the post.

Abandonment of Fort Walls Walla at this time will pave the way for the enactment of the Jones bill, now pending in Congress authorizing the sale of Walla Walla military reservation and buildings to Whitman College.

It may be necessary to change the form of the bill to provide for the sale at public auction, in order to secure its enactment but anticipating this, the department has instructed General Man to repair the building at Fort Walls Walla. When the garrison leaves the post it will be entrusted to caretakers designated by quartermaster.

The department headquarters and the band of First Cavalry now at Fort Walls Walla have been ordered to Boise Barracks. The head quarters of the Second Squadron, Troops E, G, and H and machine gun platoon First Cavalry and the remainder of the garrison were ordered to Fort Yellowstone, Wyo.

MIDLAND OBJECTS TO A CHEAP SHED

BUSINESS DEMANDS A GOOD BUILDING

Southern Pacific Proposes to Only Expend $410 for Depot

People of Midland, on the Southern Pacific five miles south of Klamath Falls object to the railroad's plan to erect a platform and shed at that point for depot purposes, stating they desire facilities at least as good as those located at Doris, Cal., just over the line.

The Southern Pacific agreed to construct, at a cost of $410 a shed and platform but Midland people state nothing respectable may be constructed for that amount of money. They say that from December 18, 1909 to August 25, 1910, 140 cars of livestock and 11 cars of grain were shipped from that point and during the coming winter say that 200 cars more will be sent out. Further they say that the people of Merrill are desirous of seeing a depot and freight house at Midland, as they claim it is five miles nearer to haul from Merrill to Midland than to Klamath Falls and that the roads are much better.

Oregon's game birds are wanted in the south. Louisiana has arranged to stock her lands with 500 Chinese pheasants, purchasing the birds and eggs from a Cornwallia grower. The birds are to be shipped to the south, where they may be shot by hunters under certain regulations.

NEVADA LANDS OPENED TO THE PUBLIC

Lands reaching the grand total of 1,757,000 acres in California and Nevada will be opened to settlement on November 2 and to entry on January 1. The area was restored to entry by Acting Secretary of the Interior. The lands were originally drawn for the Truckee-Carson irrigation project, but have been restored because they are not easy irrigated. Embraced in the tract are 205,000 acres in the Sacramento and Independence land districts in California and 1,552,000 acres in the Carson City land district in Nevada.
