A One-Piece Roof

The same space covered with a single roll of Ruberoid roofing would require at least 600 shingles.

600 separate pieces of wood, each inclined to warp a different way.

1,800 exposed edges—1,800 chances for leaks.

Yet a roof of Ruberoid, whether it requires one roll or 100, is practically a one-piece roof.

For with each roll comes an exclusive product, Ruberine cement, with which the seams and edges are cemented together—sealed against warping—sealed against the weather.

A Ruberoid roof is heat proof, cold proof, rain proof. It resists acids, gases, and fumes.

Ruberoid Is Fire-Resisting

And it is so nearly fireproof that you can throw burning coals on it without danger of setting fire either to the Ruberoid or to the timbers underneath.

Ruberoid roofing is so simple to apply that you can lay it yourself; or you can have it laid without using skilled labor.

For the service it gives it is the cheapest of all roofings—whether used on home, barn, outbuilding, factory, warehouse, store.

The first large Ruberoid roof ever laid—a foundry roof put on in 1892—is still weather tight, still flexible, after seventeen solid years of service.

But do not confuse Ruberoid with other ready roofings. Ruberoid was the first ready roofing by several years.

Beware These Substitutes

Today there are 300 substitutes. They have names which sound like Ruberoid. Before they are laid, most of these substitutes look like Ruberoid.

But there the resemblance ends. For in Ruberoid, and Ruberoid alone, is used the exclusive processed Ruberoid gum. This wonderful flexible gum is the vital element which no other maker can copy.

Another Ruberoid feature is that it comes in colors—attractive Red, Brown, Green—suitable for the finest home. These colors do not wear off or fade—they are a part of the roofing itself.

Before you decide on any roofing, for any purpose, learn about all kinds of roofings.

Simply ask for the free book which tells the results of twenty years of tests with shingles, iron, tin, tar, and ready roofings.

It is a gold mine of roofing knowledge, and will be sent free to all who address us.

THE MAN AND THE METHOD.

Among many interesting and instructive features of the late national horticultural congress at Council Bluffs, Ia., perhaps none has received greater commendation and publicity than the apple exhibit of a Mr. Mincer of Hamburg, Ia., a little town located in Fremont, the southwest county of the state. It seems that Mr. Mincer has for several years past had charge of a twenty acre orchard, which for some time previous had been badly neglected. On taking charge he began spraying and gave the orchard in other respects the best care he could. Last year he attended the horticultural show at Council Bluffs and exhibited a few apples, but they were not up to the standard of the western fruit. However, he kept his eyes open, took notes and pumped the western ranchmen as to just how they produced their fine fruit. He found that it was by giving intensive, painstaking care to a few acres which made improved methods possible. He acted on this suggestion and devoted most of his attention last season to seven acres. When he appeared at the fruit show last November he had an exhibit which was considered by both visitors and judges to be one of the very finest in the hall. He had gained size and color, while in the packing of his exhibit he had been assisted by a young lady who had had experience in Idaho packing houses. The net result of his efforts was that he was awarded a number of the most valuable prizes and trophies which were put up. On the business side he not only received a high price for the choice apples left after his show stock was selected, but was offered $3 a box straight for his exhibit fruit. This instance not only points to the immense educational value of these national fruit exhibits in providing a stimulus for better efforts, but shows what is even more important—that after all is said and done it is more the man and his method than it is climate and soil that are the chief determining factors in the attainment of success in the fruit business. This man's achievement should be a source of encouragement to fruit growers in all sections.

POOR CLAY TILE.

Not long ago there appeared an article in this department warning prospective users of drainage against cement tile improperly made. A friend who is engaged in the manufacture of cement tile in a letter received a short time ago admits the truth and fairness of the article, but thinks it gives the impression that no poor clay tile are made. We are glad to state that this is far from the truth. If the clay body from which the tile is made contains an excess of lime and magnesium or other ingredients aside from the silicon and aluminum compounds, which should largely compose it, they are quite likely to lack uniformity of texture, will be too brittle and are apt to go to pieces when exposed to ordinary soil or air conditions. And it goes without saying that a collapsed clay tile is just as worthy of condemnation and strict avoidance as a shoddy cement tile. As in the case of the cement tile, much will depend upon the integrity and reputation of the firm manufacturing. The only point in favor of the clay tile is that there is not the incentive present to scrimp expense in the cost of manufacture, as is the case with the manufacturer of cement tile in the use of poor sand and in the reduction of the per cent of cement below the proper amount. A tile drain system is no better than the poorest section in it; hence he who has in view such a system of drainage should exercise the greatest caution that the tile used should be above defect or reproach, and this holds true equally of both the burned-clay and the cement product.

FAMILY AND MARKET ORCHARDS

For the apple orchard which is to produce fruit for family use only it does very well to set several varieties, which will answer the several purposes for which the fruit is used and will cover as long a season of consumption as possible. But if the apples are to be grown for the market it is by all means best to restrict the varieties set to one or two kinds which are known to be prolific and hardy and will fetch a good price at the season when one must market them. A buyer would always prefer to handle a carload of fruit of uniform quality and one variety than a conglomerate, mixed up assortment, even if the several varieties ripened at the same time, which is rarely the case. We are well aware of the fact that if left to himself many a nurseryman will load his patrons up with just as many varieties—good, bad and indifferent—as he will take, but he ignores the conditions which make the largest success possible when he does so.

Ode to a Wife.

My roommate is a worthless shirk
 Who never does a stroke of work.
 He never seems to have a cent,
 And when he has it's quickly spent.
 And yet, because he's kind and dear,
 I do his lessons, buy his beer
 And let him lead a social life.
 You see, he makes a model wife.
