JOHN L.'S MARRIAGE.

Former Heavyweight Champion Weds Sweetheart of His Youth.
 The marriage recently of John L. Sullivan, former heavyweight champion of the world, to Miss Katharine Harkins has revealed a pretty romance. Years ago Miss Harkins might have been Mrs. Sullivan had not Sullivan angered her by becoming a pugilist. As the "Boston strong boy" he was tried out at the old Cribb club

ENGLAND'S NEW GAME.

Jumping Beans and a Hot Plate Provide Much Amusement.

Cyril Maude, the noted British actor, is gaining fame in a new way abroad, and had need of a press agent that gentleman would have some rather novel material with which to keep his employer in the limelight. A few months ago the actor was hurrying home from a rehearsal when a street peddler with a tray of Mexican jumping beans caught his eye, and he became intensely interested in watching the little curiosities.

A few days later it occurred to him that much pleasure might be derived with them, and he has invented a game that has spread all over England and is now being introduced in this country. The game is played with the jumping beans and a warm plate, on which circles have been drawn with a pen. The owner of the bean which first jumps beyond the outer circles takes the pool. The accompanying illustration shows a game in progress.

GIRLS AS MESSENGERS.

A CURIOUS WILL.

It Forces a Happy Family Under Peculiar Conditions.

An extraordinary will has been left by an elderly unmarried lady who died in Vienna. Her property, amounting to about $50,000, is appointed to be divided between her three nephews, now aged twenty-four, twenty-seven and twenty-nine, and her three nieces, aged nineteen, twenty-one and twenty-two, in equal parts on the following conditions:

The six nephews and nieces must all live in the house formerly inhabited by their aunt, with the executor, a lawyer, whose business it will be to see that the conditions of the will are strictly observed. None of the nephews is to marry before reaching his fortieth year or the nieces before their thirtieth, under the penalty that the share of the one so marrying will be divided among the others.

Further, the six legatees are admonished never to quarrel among themselves. If one should do so persistently the executor is empowered to turn him or her out of the house and divide the share in the case of marriage.

The executor is himself forbidden to marry or to reside elsewhere than in the house with the legatees as long as he holds his office, to which a handsome remuneration is attached.

The old maid is said to have made this peculiar will because her nephews and nieces continually worried her during her life by asking her to give them money to enable them to marry, requests she always refused.—London Express.

OLD MAN HARE.

The Actor's Meeting With Gladstone Outside the Theater.

John Hare, the eminent English actor-manager, said that the most delightful compliment he ever received was from Mr. Gladstone. It was a double ended compliment, whichever way you took it it was satisfactory.

Mr. Hare earned fame playing Gold-ben's part, his character as Mr. Old-ben in "A Pair of Spectacles" being a good example. Added to this was a horror of having his picture taken.

Mr. Gladstone had never seen a picture of the actor, but he knew him well behind the scenes as well as before the footlights. The premier's favorite play was "A Pair of Spectacles," and he always went behind the scenes to chat awhile with the actor. The really old man and the made up old man would sit there and talk in the most delightful way for an hour after the show.

One day the Earl of Rosebery had Mr. Gladstone to dinner, and he also invited his friend John Hare. The actor came in smooth shaven, looking about thirty-five. He was presented to Mr. Gladstone, and the prime minister shook his hand most cordially and said:

"My dear sir, I am very, very glad to meet you. I know your father very, very well. Splendid actor! Fine old man!"

It took the whole evening for the earl and Mr. Hare to convince him that this son was really the father.

Reason and Instinct.
 A certain north country farmer was particularly proud of a clever little dog he possessed. At times he was apt to claim a little too much for his pet, and one morning a neighbor was endeavoring to point out the difference between instinct and reason when an amusing interruption occurred. A seedy looking tramp turned the corner, and the dog, without so much as a word from his master, sprang into the road and offered battle.

"There you are," laughed the miser as the dog snuffed and snarled around the heels of the tramp. "He don't like the looks of the chap. That's instinct." Suddenly the tramp turned and kicked the dog into an adjacent field.

"There you are," ejaculated the miser's friend grimly. "The chap don't like the looks of the dog. An' that's reason."—London Tit-Bits.

Two Strange Coincidences.
 A structure known as Stoddley Pike, which stands ninety yards high and is situated near Heiden bridge, England, has a remarkable history. It was built in 1814 to commemorate the peace of Ghent. Singular to relate, however, it fell on the very day that the Russian ambassador left England prior to the Crimean war. Rebuilt by public subscription, it withstood storm and rain for half a century, but on the same day that the British government issued its ultimatum to the Boers it was struck by lightning and badly damaged. These unique coincidences have strangely perplexed local people.

 —Strand Magazine.

Pandemonium.
 "They are going to lock Jones up for the good of the community."
 "What's he done?"
 "He's talking of setting Browning's poems to Richard Strauss' music."
 —Cleveland Leader.

Rather Outspoken.
 Young Sportsman—Is it worth my time to fish in this neighborhood? Native—Well, the fishin' ain't worth nuthin' to speak of; but, then, I don't know what your time might be worth.
 —Comic Cuts.

Pessimistic.
 "What a pessimist Brown is!"
 "What's the matter now?"
 "He even bewails the fact that he can't live to collect his life insurance."
 —Detroit Free Press.

Some men can't even find fault with out acting as though they had discovered something to be proud of.

Wanted It to Take.
 Mrs. B. believed in infant baptism, but for some reason that rite was not performed for Tommy till he was some four or five years old. While the ceremony was in progress the mother was very much gratified with Tommy's behavior. He seemed duly impressed with the solemnity of the occasion and remained with bowed head for some time after the sprinkling had been done.

"The angel!" exclaimed the mother.
 "The little dear!" said a good sister as she went up to give him a "God bless you" and a pat on the head. But just as her hand was descending with that benediction a very wrathful and unmanageable countenance was turned upon her, a pugilistic little fist delivered a paralyzing blow on her biceps and the indignant Tommy exclaimed, "You git away from here!"

Of course he was led out in disgrace and questioned by his horrified mother.
 "Why, don't you know she would 'a' rubbed all the baptizing water off before it would 'a' had time to soak in?" explained Tommy, who from his point of view was fully justified.—Los Angeles Times.

Their Advantages.
 Blobs—This musicale is a charity affair for the benefit of the poor. Blobs—I don't see just where the poor come in. Blobs—Well, they don't have to be present.—Philadelphia Record.

A Reliable Medicine—Not a Narcotic.
 Mrs. F. Marti, St. Joe, Mich., says Foley's Honey and Tar saved her little boy's life. She writes: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and the doctor's medicine did not cure him. I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house."

You Pay for the Sand on Roofings

When you are offered a ready roofing which is coated with sand, mica, or pebbles, you can make up your mind that you are paying roofing prices for the coating.

For such coating does not help the roof. It is merely a "talking point" to make the roof seem different from what it really is.

Such coating, in fact, is a detriment. For it washes off after a few rains, leaving a roughened surface on the roofing, and choking up gutters and drain pipes.

The reason why coated roofings are offered you is because there are 300 substitutes for the genuine Ruberoid, all looking much the same.

By adding sand to the roofing, it is made to appear different—that is all. And you pay for a mere selling feature, when you ought to be getting roofing value.

It is this Ruberoid gum which makes Ruberoid so good a fire resistant. You can throw burning coals on a roof of Ruberoid without danger of setting fire either to the roofing or to the timbers underneath.

It is this exclusive Ruberoid gum which makes Ruberoid flexible enough to stand the strains of twisting and bending which every roof must bear.

Seventeen Years of Service
 The first Ruberoid roofs ever laid—seventeen years ago—are still flexible, still weatherproof, due to the life of this wonderful gum, which is used in no roofing but Ruberoid.

Ruberoid roofing is suitable for any building—from a woodshed to a large factory or public building.

It also comes in attractive colors—Red, Green, Brown—for use on fine homes.

But before deciding on any roofing, for any purpose, send for the free book, "All About Roofings."

This book tells what has been learned in twenty years of roofing tests. It gives the advantages and the disadvantages of shingles, tin, tar, iron, and ready roofings.

This gum is an exclusive product. No other maker can use it. It is this gum which makes Ruberoid heat proof, cold proof, snow proof, rain proof. Resistant to acids, gases, and fumes.

RUBEROID
 (REGISTERED U. S. PATENT OFFICE)
 Be sure to look for this registered trademark which is stamped every four feet on the under side of all genuine Ruberoid. This is your protection against substitutes which many dealers brazenly sell as Ruberoid. Ruberoid is sold exclusively by us. We will tell you more about Ruberoid when you send for the free book.
