ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE COLUMN
This column is conducted by the Anti-Saloon League of Lake County, and the space is sold for at regular advertising rates under contract with Rev. G. J. Wentzell.
The City Prosecutor recently said: "It is true that three fourths of the crime of Chicago is due to the saloon."
President Roosevelt: "The liquor traffic tends to produce criminality in the population at large and law breaking among the saloon men."
State Senator Mattingly, the high license champion of Indiana, says: "Fully 90 per cent of all crime may justly be traced to the use of intoxicating liquor."
Governor Burke, of North Dakota: "We have had prohibition so long in some counties there are no jails. There is not much crime in the State."
Hon. W. H. Taft: "Leave drink alone absolutely. He who drinks is deliberately disqualifying himself for advance. Personally I refuse to take such a risk I do not drink."
Governor W. H. Folk of Missouri: "The decreased sale and consumption of intoxicants has had a tendency to reduce crime and criminal expense, so as to affect a saving for the State. The Sunday closing of the saloons has reduced crime 60 per cent."
Governor Hoke Smith, Georgia: "It is absolutely impossible to have permanent decent government where the saloon dominates municipal affairs. The elimination of the saloon will help municipal politics every where."
William McKinley: "By legalizing this traffic we agree to share with the saloon keepers the responsibility and evils of his business. Every man who votes for the license becomes of necessity a party to the liquor traffic and all its consequences."
Governor R. B. Glenn, North Carolina: "As for me, I am heart and soul against the saloons. After thirty years experience as a prosecuting officer in the courts I am firmly of the opinion that 60 per cent of crime is directly the result of strong drink and 92 per cent is indirectly caused by it."
Gov. T. M. Campbell, Texas: "About 50 of the totally dry counties, and many precincts in others, have become so since 1903, one hundred and forty-seven counties absolutely dry. The effect has been to greatly decrease the consumption of intoxicants, and has greatly decreased the amount of crime."
William Jennings Bryan: "I assure you that this loving cup will never have anything in it that will intoxicate, and if you will visit me in my home will fill it with a beverage that will not give you a headache in the morning and which I like to drink as well as any of you can enjoy drinking liquor—good fresh buttermilk."
Hon. Charles H. Grosvenor, Ohio: "A man engaged in selling strong drink is a worse citizen than a thief because he robs a man not only of his money, but reputation, health, morals, character and friends, and, like a thief, for the reason that he gives nothing of value in return for what he gets. Infinitely worse than a murderous thug, because he not only destroys the body, but damn the soul, and scars and blights the progeny of his victims for unborn generations."
Governor E. W. Hoch, Kansas: "Not a single good thing can be said of the saloon. It is every where and always an enemy to good society and good government. It is the devil's best recruiting camp. It imposes more burden of taxation upon the people than any other agency in existence. No human interest is sacred to it. It is everywhere and always an anarchist. The devil never invented a bigger lie than that revenue from illegitimate sources is necessary to the financial success of any town or city. A poorhouse is a joke in Kansas."
A. F. Knotta, a former Mayor of Hammond, Indiana: "The police records of our city show that more than 90 per cent of all the offenses committed are the results of intemperance, and that the police force maintained at an expense of $15,000 a year, is almost wholly and exclusively employed in watching and caring for men, women and children affected by drink."
U. S. Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Indiana: "I never touched a drop in all my life, for any reason, and never shall. Early in life I concluded that I could not afford to touch a drop of the product of either distiller or brewer. I never have regretted that step, I can tell you. Later I began to comprehend more fully the economic and political phases of the traffic, and the result is that I now view it as the most important issue before the American people to-day."
Governor Hailey, of Indiana: "For three years I have witnessed an unending procession of a million of their daughters and wives and sisters with broken hearts and bears in the executive chambers to plead for clemency for loved ones who have transgressed the law and whose liberty the state has taken away. I have read hundreds of criminal records in my hotel, in my home in the executive office and the railway trains and in 85 per cent of the cases the cause can be traced to the excessive use of intoxicating liquor."
Hon. Champ Clark, Missouri: "It's only two years since I tasted a drop of liquor. Why did I stop? Because I knew that if I did not soon I could not. The saloon is no place for a young man who is ambitious to live a clean, successful life. If he wishes to excel in crime, rob the mental and physical powers, consort with thugs, blacklegs, prostitutes and thieves, he is disgraced to his family and a stench to his own nostrils. Why, I'd advise him to frequent saloons. In fact, he can learn and be all that in any liquor saloon. In fact, he can take his own graduation course without leaving the premises."
