VOTE DOWN COUNTY DIVISION SCHEMES

Details Involved in Formation of New Counties Unknown to Voters.

Voters cannot inform themselves on the many local details involved and accordingly it will be their general decision to vote "No" on the entire list. This is the opinion of the Morning Oregonian in its issue of June 2, as follows:

"Nine county division schemes are bidding for enactment under the initiative, in imitation of Hood River county's success two years ago, and the end is not yet. Here is direct legislation gone to seed and disseminating trouble through the fair expense of Oregon.

"Latest is Deschutes county, presenting a petition to the secretary of state and asking to be carved out of the northwest part of Crook county. Umpqua, Williams and NeSmith, with overlapping boundaries, seek independence from Lane and Douglas counties. Umatilla county is wrestling with the ambitious schemes of Orchard and Hudson. Clark desires separation from Grant, Otis from Malheur and Harney. A strip of Clackamas seeks annexation to Multnomah.

"Politicians, office-seekers and ambitious little towns are putting up these county partition schemes. More counties will provide additional official places and other patronage. They will also make higher taxes and more trouble for property owners.

"It is reaching a point in Oregon where the electorate will feel obliged to vote uniformly against all these new counties. The voters cannot inform themselves on the many local details involved. In order to legislate, therefore they are likely to take the view that their safest action will be that of voting "No" on the "whole bunch."

Oregonian Comment.

The Oregonian comments gain on the scene in its issue of June 28:

"A tenth scheme for county division appeared for initiative enactment next November—annexation of a piece of Washington county to Multnomah. These county questions are proper subjects for legislative attention where they can be studied on their merits and be amended and adjusted to suit local needs. The great trouble with the initiative measures is that each and all of them emanate from a special interest. No element should ever be allowed to frame laws regardless of other elements of the population. Yet that is what they undertake to do when they refuse to take their bills before the legislature and insist on enacting them by the 'direct' method. Lawmaking is one of the oldest of the affairs of men and ages of experience have proved the superiority of legislation by delegates instead of by the mass. Delegated, representative government is the most triumphant lesson of history."

LET THE COUNTIES DECIDE.

Division Should be Settled by People Directly Affected.

The Eugene Register declares that county division is a matter that should be settled by the people directly concerned. In reference to the issue, that paper says:

"With over thirty initiative petitions to be voted on at the general election this fall, the Oregon voter is in a good deal the same position as an old Missouri negro who recently took the civil service examination for a position as janitor in one of the capitol buildings. He went up looking pretty cheery. He thought that what he did not know about janitoring was of very little importance anyway. When he came away from taking the examination he was looking so downfallen, that someone asked him what had happened. 'Happened!' said he, 'why, boss, dey asked me things dat happened 'to I's 'no'n.'"

"One of the arguments advanced by the county division promoters is 'More counties and a greater Oregon.' They claim that division of the large counties into smaller ones is of the same value to the state that division of the large farms into smaller tracts is to the community. Possibly. But the question is has the community at large any right to say whether John Jones, who owns a tract of a thousand acres, shall willy-nilly cut it up into small holdings, or does that right lie with John Jones alone. County division is a thing to be settled by the people concerned, and not by the state at large."

"It will be '23' for all but about nine of those 32 initiative measures to be voted on at the November election."

"Back To the Farm!"

Governor PATTERSON
 JAMES J. HILL
 Governor HADLEY
 BENJ. T. YOAKUMI

By JAMES J. HILL, Railroad Builder.
BACK TO THE SOIL!

This is the solution of the problem of the high cost of living.

The problem is not local; neither is it national. It is INTERNATIONAL. All Christendom is wrestling with it. Obviously the WORLD HAS REACHED AN ECONOMIC CRISIS. We are not producing foodstuffs enough.

WE MUST ENLARGE THE FARMING AREA OF THE EARTH; WE MUST APPLY SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLES TO FARMING.

We must adapt ourselves to conditions as best we can while we are going through the slow, tedious process of making the soil yield more abundantly.

By Governor MALCOLM R. PATTERSON of Tennessee.
THE LARGE CITIES ARE NOT FOR THE POOR MAN.

The thousands who cannot enjoy the luxuries and pleasures of the cities should not stay there to see them pass them. The poor man's problem is solved in the SOIL OF THE SOUTH—the south more than in the soil of the west. No land yields more plentifully when properly cultivated than the farm country of the south. Nowhere is there more surely a LIVELIHOOD AWAITING the man who is willing to do the work of a man.

Increased agricultural production will not decrease the net profits of the farmers. Instead it will ADD TO THEM by multiplying the volume, as well as by increasing their markets nearer home, while at the same time it will decrease the cost to the consuming classes in the manufacturing regions and the crowded centers of population.

Nothing would make more for good citizenship and industrial stability than RELIEVING THE CONGESTION IN OUR CROWDED CENTERS.

Wild Animal Life Bound to Become Extinct If Not Protected.

By Professor WILLIAM T. HORNADAY, Director of the New York Zoological Park.
IN spite of all the efforts now being made in reds and patches throughout the United States for the preservation of wild life those efforts, as a whole, are only partially successful, and the SUM TOTAL OF WILD LIFE IS DECREASING WITH MADDENING CELERITY.

FROM PATAGONIA TO THE ARCTIC BARREN GROUNDS A MIGHTY ARMY OF RUTHLESS DESTROYERS IS HOT ON THE TRAIL OF EVERY LIVING CREATURE YIELDING A PRODUCT WORTH 10 CENTS THAT CAN BE KILLED LAWFULLY OR UNLAWFULLY WITHOUT DETECTION.

The time has come when it is the bounden duty of every governor of a state and every president of the nation to make it his business to help inaugurate new methods and provide new means for WILD LIFE PROTECTION that will be ten times more effective than all such measures are today. The EDUCATION OF THE PUBLIC to the wisdom of such work and the necessity for it is not even half begun.

IT IS THE DUTY OF THE NATION AND THE STATES TO HOLD AND ACT NOW ERE THE GENERAL SLAUGHTER OF THE WILD CREATURES SWEEPS THEM ALL AWAY BEFORE THE EYES OF SEVENTY MILLION OF DOLLAR WORSHIPING, PLEASURE SEEKING PEOPLE.

The Way I Get and Use My Money

By JAMES A. PATTEN of Chicago, Broker.

I PLAY all my stock games just LIKE A GAME OF CHESS. After I lay the board before me I ponder over each figure before I make a move. Exercising judgment at every play, I have found that success has invariably attended my efforts. When I was a small lad at school I always took a deep interest in the rule of three. Every problem I have ever solved in after life was founded on that rule.

THIS MUCH I ADVISE FROM MY OWN CASE: I NEVER BUY ANYTHING I CANNOT SELL TO ANY MAN. YOU MUST LEARN TO SAY NO IF YOU WILL SUCCEED.

Another thing—I never invest in flats. Neither do I deal in mortgages. I couldn't evict people, and I don't want to be a Shylock anyway. My advice to the young men would be: NEVER BUY AND OWN YOUR HOME—that is, unless you have a fortune. It's a luxury that ties up many bright and energetic young men.

To be happy with money you must OWN YOUR MONEY, not let your money own you. I own my money. It is harder to save your money than to make it.

THAT THE WORLD IS GROWING BETTER IS MY IDEA OF THINGS. THE RICH MAN IS BEGINNING TO REALIZE HIS DUTY TO THE WEAK MAN.
