Lakeview, Oregon, Thursday, December 22, 1910

The Harney County News, in referring to the defeat of Jay Bowerman for Governor, says his nomination was forced upon Eastern Oregon and was not the choice of the people of that section of the state. Continuing the News says: "Eastern Oregon will loyally support a candidate of its own, but is not likely to be very enthusiastic for one who is selected by special interests that are foreign to its sentiments and sympathies." Now, if Eastern Oregon ever had a candidate for any state or congressional office that was not forced upon it by some other section of the State, the Examiner would like to know who it was. The nominations years ago of Phil Metcahan for State Treasurer, Z. P. Moody for Governor and G. M. Irwin for School Superintendent, were forced upon Eastern Oregon by the support they received from other sections of the state, for all had strong opposition in their own section. Coming on down to more recent times, how about their Congressman? Rather than have a man from their own section, they select one from Portland, which already has two United States Senators. Regardless of factions Eastern Oregon has as a whole steadfastly refused to support for nomination any of her citizens for any office, and when it was considered that she was entitled to recognition it was only through support of other sections of the state that a candidate would be successful. A candidate from one county can scarcely hope for support from any other county, regardless of faction.

It is announced that nothing will be done by the State board in the way of appointments until after the Legislature meets, and then there will be no appointments made for political purposes. Changes at the state institutions will be made from time to time after the Legislature adjourns, as the board believes such appointments will be for the betterment of the service.

Alturas is certainly a good place to keep away from, if the Plaindealer is to be believed. Listen to it: "Our streets are in a worse condition by far than when the town was incorporated. Mud and slush is over all; while vile, foul smelling pools of water are everywhere in evidence." Continuing it lets out a bowl about taxes, and while concealing the necessity of water works is of the opinion that the town can hardly stand a $35,000 bond issue therefor. If the Plaindealer desires to see the town prosper, as it says it does, why not tell the public of some of the advantages offered instead of making the picture as black as possible?

Very few interior towns have so many advantages as Lakeview, and while perhaps some are not the equal of the larger and older cities of the coast, yet as a whole they compare very favorably with any community of its size. The streets are in much better shape than the average country town can boast, while our school facilities, with the new $40,000 high school building, are rapidly reaching a point of excellence. Our court house and grounds are something we are all proud of, while the city water is of a quality that cannot be excelled. The electric light and power plant is to be improved and made a 24 hour service, and in fact everything appears to be in readiness for railroad connection with the outside world. In fact Lakeview and her surroundings are about the proper dope, as the Examiner sees it, and there is no doubt that she will be a cracker-jack after the railroad gets here. Will you be here then? Are you going to share in the money making of 1911? Think it over and then get busy—and boost!

Oregon may one day have the most beautiful scenic highway in the world for the new road now under construction to Crater Lake from Medford is said by experts to be superior to any on this continent or through the Alps in the grandeur of its scenery. Road experts of the government in charge of the work say the new highway will have no superior anywhere and characterize the work as "Forty-five miles of macadamizing through the greatest scenic section of the world."

Austin Sherlock reports much success in the sale of the shavels which he has been making here, to date having sold more than fifteen at $5.00 each. These shavels are well worth the price as they make very acceptable Xmas gifts.

New school districts have been established in the vicinity of Arrow and Alkali in the north end of the county. The many new settlers going in there have made this action necessary, for heretofore they were included in the Silver Lake and Paisley districts respectively.

Surprise Record: An Indian, presumably, appropriated George Wheel-munster's horse while it was tied to a hitching place above Lake City one evening last week and rode the animal to Cedarville during the night, and tied it in John Boyce's stable. George came down Thursday and recovered his horse and saddle.

Nathan Smith, for more than eight years in the employ of the Heryford Land & Cattle Co., is now in the employ of the Consolidated Stage Co. This fact brings forcibly to mind the new era now dawning in Lake County, for Nate was one of the standbys of the company, and with the disposal of their large holdings they have no employment to offer the many faithful employees who were with them in former years.

Peter Walls, a native of Scotland, died at the residence of Mrs. Russell yesterday. He came here from San Francisco several months since to work on the High school building. He had suffered several hemorrhages of the lungs but had nearly recovered from the same when he was attacked with heart failure and passed away quite unexpectedly.

He was aged about 35 years, and leaves a father and son in Scotland, who have been notified of his death. The funeral will probably be held tomorrow.
