The new house being constructed for Bud Harvey on Main street is rapidly nearing completion, and will be ready for occupancy shortly. Tomorrow night the big mask ball at New Pine creek takes place. Several couples from Lakeview will probably be among the merry-makers. Klamath county taxpayers are requesting a petition to the legislature, requesting the passage of a law creating the office of tax collector. The school children are now having the annual Xmas vacation of one week and as usual no complaint is heard on their part regarding same. Judge Robert G. Morrow, of Portland, was wedded to Mrs. Zoe E. Roby Parine last week. The Judge is quite well known throughout the state. Fountain pens always make appropriate presents. Something that will be used and appreciated. Best assortment in Lake County at Thornton's Drug Store. An auction was held at Bieber's corner on Saturday last and everything put on the block was readily sold. The usual large crowd was in attendance. A building boom seems to have struck the Slash and three house side by side are now under construction there and almost completed. Let the good work go on. Mrs. Rosa McDaniel's came into town on Wednesday of last week with a large load of Xmas trees, which she found a ready sale for at fifteen cents each. Mr. and Mrs. John Briles, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. W. P. Horyford, during the past several weeks, have returned to their Davis Creek home. Geo. Hankins started for Alturas Tuesday afternoon with a load of passengers in his Winton Six. He expected to go only as far as Davis Creek the first day. Bernard Sitz was in town the forepart of the week from Willow Ranch. He has moved all his office and household furniture to the latter place and will locate there. C. W. Reynolds, the forepart of the week, left for Seattle expecting to be absent a couple of months. He will visit Olympia during his stay and witness the workings of the Washington legislature. While skating at the rink one afternoon last week, Miss Winnie Harvey had the misfortune to sprain one of her ankles. She is now much improved and is able to be about. Elmer C. Ahlstrom has added some fine show cases to the Postoffice store equipment. They are of the glass top and front counter pattern, and show up the stock in fine shape. A mounted cougar's hide is on exhibition at Cloud's Sundry Kitchen and is attracting quite a little attention. The work was done by Utley & Simmons, the taxidermists of Valley Falls and it is certainly well done. Jim and Bryon Graves have returned from the Hanson ranch on the West Side. They report that many men were at work there clearing the land and removing rocks, etc., and that the place is being improved in fine style. The mask ball next Monday night promises to be the most successful event of the kind ever taking place in Lakeview. Many customers have already been secured, and there promises to be a strong rivalry for the prizes. The storekeepers are all wearing large smiles just now and express themselves as well pleased with the amount of business done before the holidays. In this connection, the Examiner wishes to thank the many people who sent in $2.00 for a year's subscription, directing that the paper be sent to friends as a Xmas gift. John Ward is in charge of the business affairs of the Hall Construction Co. during the absence of his chief, J. F. Hanson. His Lakeview office has been removed to the O. V. "Jim" didn't think he could get around to see them all personally, but he knew that he could reach them through these columns—as everybody reads the Examiner.

Dr. J. O. Stiner, Veterinary Surgeon, will be in Lakeview for a few days. Can be found at Mammoth Stables Dec 29. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hanson and children Tuesday afternoon left for their Los Angeles home, going to Alturas by auto. Mr. Hanson expects to return the latter part of January, but Mrs. Hanson and the children will remain until spring. J. B. Anten a few days since purchased the pelt of a fox which was caught up on Black Cap. It is a very handsome fur, being apparently a cross between a red and black fox and resembling somewhat the Silver fox, which is exceedingly valuable. George Small of Silver Lake, was in town the forepart of the week on his way to Southern California, where he will join his wife and daughter. The latter have been traveling in Old Mexico, but will probably meet Mr. Small at Los Angeles. Con Taylor and Con Fitz came in on Sunday from the Coyote Hills and Nine Springs Country, north of Plush, where they have been wintering their sheep. Like all the rest, they report conditions on the range as very favorable to the stock so far. Klamath Herald: O. T. McKendree, the popular sheepman, came up from Merrill Friday, where he had been feeding sheep, and left for his home in Oakland this morning, where he will spend the holidays with his family. Mr. and Mrs. Kate Stephens arrived from California a few days since and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Sherman Easter. They are former residents of Lakeview and received a hearty welcome from their many old time friends. A. G. Duhme, the Pandango saw mill man, came in last evening. He states that the reported contract with the N. C. O. for 2,500,000 feet of ties and bridge timbers has not been closed as yet, but negotiations are still under way. The Silver Moon Cafe was opened by George Kim in the Odd Fellows Building on Friday last and to date business has been very good. Short orders are served in addition to the regular meals, and the place is kept open eight and a half days. A great deal of gravel and crushed rock is being drawn from Bullard's Canyon these days. Part of it is being used towards grading the streets in Walter's Addition, while some is being used to fill in the low places in Watson's town property. The Examiner thanks its many friends who so kindly remembered it with the season's compliments. Quite a number of Christmas cards were received as well as a number of more substantial remembrances, all of which were quite welcome. A mounted cougar's hide is on exhibition at Cloud's Sundry Kitchen and is attracting quite a little attention. The work was done by Utley & Simmons, the taxidermists of Valley Falls and it is certainly well done. Jim and Bryon Graves have returned from the Hanson ranch on the West Side. Valley Falls News Postmaster Meyer, H. E. Curtis, H. C. Goff, F. N. Curtis and Mr. Canterbury were Lakeview visitors this week. For the benefit of one or two chronic knockers who are starting stories to the effect that this Post Office was to be discontinued or moved to some other point, we are pleased to inform them that this office will not be discontinued. After establishing this office, fixtures, etc., and carrying the mail under special service for 11 months, the idea of changing the locality just to benefit other parties and a detriment to this point is too absurd to receive serious consideration. With money orders issued running over two thousand five hundred dollars the first year and a rapidly increasing business with each mail we are only counting days for the establishment of the daily service. We do not wish to be understood as not appreciating the services of a good knocker, as knocking requires talk, talk is advertising and we found that advertising pays. We thrive on it. During three days of last week, while the sun was shining bright and the weather cold in Lakeview we had a heavy fog and warm weather. We understand Paisley intends incorporating. R. B. Jackson says it is to include Valley Falls and Tucker hill. If they don't try to annex Lakeview there will probably be no complaint made. The Jennings-Meyer Realty Co. was organized the past week. Their specialty is Chewaucum Valley land and irrigating projects. Boydston-Lake Miss Lillie Lake, who has been residing here for several months past, and Henry Boydston, a rancher from the West Side, were married by ex-officio Justice of the Peace Warner B. Snider last week. Both are well known young people, and the Examiner takes pleasure in extending to both its best wishes for their future happiness. A peculiar coincidence in connection with this wedding is the fact that a sister to the bride and a brother to the groom were married to each other only a few months ago. Great Dance A very enjoyable all night dance was held at the Opera house on Monday night last, and it was well attended. Altogether there were ninety-three paid admissions, which means that the number present was close onto two hundred people. The musical selections, under the leadership of Prof. Rice, were well rendered and enjoyed by all. Many outsiders were present. The last of the crowd remained until about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning. TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY POSITION WANTED—Young man and wife would like position together on ranch. Mr. C. F. Volk, Lakeview, ven. Tel. D285 12.
