Some one asked the other day why the one was such a big boom in the real estate business at this particular season of the year. We immediately referred him to the large number of marriages, as reported in this week's issue, and he went off satisfied.

A few nights since the eastern heavens were lit up by the reflection of a huge fire over in Warner. For a time it was feared that considerable hay would be destroyed, but fortunately no damage resulted and the light was caused by burning piles.

The stone foundation under John Duckworth's store house has now been completed by Contractor Graves, and will be used as a storage room for vegetables and fruits. It is certainly very much suited for that purpose, being up-to-date in every respect.

An application for permit to construct a reservoir site in Willow Valley, along the east branch of the Lost River in Klamath County, was filed in the local land office on Friday last by Robert F. Tuttle and William Dunoon, both of Lorelia. The reservoir will cover practically 262 acres, and will be used to irrigate much of the surrounding lands.

A great many of our readers have been to large cities throughout the country, and while there have undoubtedly noticed the large number of signs on the different houses, reading "To Rent," "For Sale," etc. Will a trip through our streets show anything of this kind? Certainly not. Think this over and figure out what the logical conclusion is.

Grant Lincoln, a well known newspaper man of Klamath, has been in Lakeview several days during the past week looking over the field with a view of locating here. He has not decided as yet just what he will do, but is very much pleased with the town. Should he decide to locate here it would be of much benefit to the county, for he is a rastler and would get out a good paper.

Word has been received from the party including Mr. and Mrs. Creed McKendree and Jack Flynn, who left here several weeks ago, to the effect that they were in San Francisco, but were intending to make a trip into southern Mexico, where Mr. Flynn has a sister residing.

Owing to the fact that the work towards painting and papering the interior of the Methodist church was not completed, the Sunday morning services were held in the Opera House. The regular church service was held at 10 a. m., while the Sunday School class convened at 11.

Some one of the great poets, we disremember now who it was, once remarked in a burst of enthusiasm, "What is so rare as a day in June?" If he could only see the fine weather this section has been enjoying—in January—we feel certain that he would change the month.

The work towards papering and painting the interior of the Methodist church is progressing nicely under the direction of Tom Watson and his assistant, Jim Hager. When completed the church will present a very attractive appearance—such as the pastor and members may well feel proud of.

On account of business being rather quiet just now, in connection with the expense in keeping up electric lights, etc., several of the business men about town have entered into an agreement to close their stores at 6 p. m. on Saturdays until further notice. This agreement went into effect last Saturday evening.

Miss Laura Snelling entertained the members of the Catholic Church choir at her home on Saturday afternoon last. [The affair was in the nature of a "candy pull" and was immensely enjoyed by all present. Among those attending were Misses Mabel Snelling, Louise Arzner, Lola Barry, Vale Loftus, Mary Barry and Bertha Loftus.

George Chandler, Byron Graves, Jack Connors and Mr. Keene came in from the lower Chandler ranch on Monday in an auto, and returned again on Tuesday. They report that all hands are now engaged in weeding colts, breaking horses, etc., which keeps them all busy. The major part of the work in breaking the horses is being done by Ralph Mulkey and Pat Toomey, both of whom are expert buckaroos.

James Judge, father of "Jimmie" of baseball and Mercantile fame, arrived here last Friday from San Francisco. Mr. Judge is a former resident of this place, and has many acquaintances here. He left Lakeview about seven years ago and since that time has been employed as a painter in Stockton and Frisco. He will remain here for some time, and may possibly locate permanently in this section.

Some unknown person whose intent was probably burglary, tried to effect an entrance to the Ogle and Nichols houses in the vicinity of the Blash during the past week. He was frightened off, however, by the occupants. An affair of this kind is a serious offense and the person who attempted the entrance had better beware or he may find himself behind the bars one of these days.

ARCHIE WILLIAMS IS BACK TO LAKEVIEW

Visits Relatives at Corvallis and Has Happy Reunion

Arthur Williams who is better known hereabouts by the name of Archie Johnson, has returned from Corvallis, where he went about two months ago to meet some newly discovered relatives. The story of his having found out the whereabouts of these relatives through the aid of the Chief of Police of Corvallis, was told in the Examiner at that time.

On leaving here Arthur immediately proceeded to the college city and on arrival there found one brother, George and an uncle and aunt. Later, two other brothers, one, Frank, residing at Colfax, Wash., and the other, Lew, at Wilcox, Wash., came on to Corvallis to meet him, and a genuine reunion was had all around.

The story told to Arthur of his estrangement is as follows: When he was three years old his mother died at Corvallis, and the father thereupon at the four boys into different families in that town. Arthur was taken by a Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Johnson, who remained for a short time at Corvallis and then stated that they were going East. Arthur was taken along with them, but instead of going back East they went to Coos Bay, Oregon, where they remained until Arthur, or Archie Johnson, as his parents by adoption had named him, was thirteen. During this time they had sent no word of any kind to Corvallis and Arthur's relatives naturally supposed that he was back East somewhere.

The Johnsons then moved to Central California, where Arthur remained with them until he was twenty, whereupon he started out for himself, finally winding up in Lakeview. His father died fifteen years ago.

Arthur was naturally very glad to meet his relatives and to find that they were all prospering and in good health. He states that this section of the State suits him much better than the Willamette Valley, and he expects to remain here for a long time yet.

Owing to the fact that snow has blocked up the ditches from which the water supply for the electric light plant is obtained, Manager Jensen wishes to announce that no electric lights will be furnished in the residential district west of Main street for a few days—or until the snow has disappeared sufficiently to allow the water to run freely.
