Gilbert Brown, Supervisor of the Fremont National Forest, returned from Portland on Friday night, after a month or more absence, which he spent at headquarters.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, all work on the new High School has now been closed for the season, and most of the stonecutters have left for Portland.

Arthur Williams has hauled the lumber for a house to his homestead at this end of the lake, and is to commence the construction of the same within a few days now.

Owing to a snow blockade on the N.C.O., no southern mail was received here Sunday night. The stage came in, but brought no mail from stations south of Alturas.

Some fine coasting is now being enjoyed by the children on the hill north of the Rehart house. A big bonfire may be seen from that direction almost any night now.

Many new subscriptions are being received, as well as renewals, and the Examiner feels highly honored by the many kind words of encouragement expressed by a number of them.

The Postal Savings Bank at Klammath Falls is not proving the success anticipated. There were but nine depositors during the first two days. Most of the deposits were of $1.

Rile Stripplin has accepted a position with City Surveyor Sam Musken, who is at present employed in planning the re-dedication of some of our main streets. "Sam" says it's no snap, either.

J. T. Flouk was in from Rock Creek several days during the past week. He left home before the heavy storm, but up to that time range conditions were almost ideal in his section.

Miss Emily Clark who has been employed for some time at the Sheriff's office at the Court House, so that all books open to public inspection may be more conveniently reached. The work is in charge of Mr. Spencer.

John Venator and Loren Bailey went rabbit hunting on Saturday, and report much luck. We didn't see their specimens, however, so will not undertake to render an opinion with regard to same.

A fine ice harvest has been gathered in this year, and the owners of the various ice houses about town have practically filled up their storage room. The ice is unusually thick and very clear.

The choir of the Catholic Church has been reorganized, and rehearsals are now being conducted in connection with the services to be held at Easter. An elaborate program is planned for that day.

A beet weighing fifteen and one-half pounds is now on exhibition in the window of the Goose Lake Valley Meat Market. It was raised by Frank Hutchins in his garden on West Street, and is sure a dandy.

All electric lights in the residential district west of Main Street have been out of commission during the past week, and the "Oil Trust" is again in power. Let us hope that this condition will not continue long.

Hon. John E. Raker, of Alturas, Congressman-elect, last week left for Washington, D. C., to attend a Democratic caucus called for today. Mr. Raker will take his seat March 4.

Mrs. Alice Petrie, wife of Bert Petrie, came in on the Western stage last night and is registered at the Hotel Lakeview.

A meeting of the ladies of the Catholic Altar Society was held at the parish house this afternoon, and a pleasant time was had by all present.

Man Whorton took off his official star yesterday afternoon and went rabbit hunting. Man had pretty good luck, too, and no doubt enjoyed a fine rabbit dinner this noon.

A number of horse shoes, representing many different styles and varieties, may be seen in the window of the Keene & Barnes store. The shoes were all made by A. Leonard, of the firm of Woodcock & Leonard.

Silver Lake Leader: Miss Nevada Bonham, who has been in poor health for several months, started Saturday for a Portland hospital. She was accompanied by her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Emery.

Did anyone stop to think that last Friday was also the thirteenth of the month? This is a peculiar coincidence, as well as being reputed an unlucky one, but with us everything went along in the usual prosperous way.

Dan F. Brennan has been transferred from the U. S. Land office to the Forest Service, assuming the duties of his new position yesterday. The transfer takes with it an increase of salary, which is quite acceptable to Dan.

George B. Graves, Jim Higgins and Barber McCurdy went rabbit hunting one day last week, and returned with some fine specimens. Having had the good fortune to partake thereof, we can testify that the quality and flavor were excellent.

Manager O'Neill, of the Davis Creek Orchards Company, returned last week after a several days' inspection of his holdings. He was greatly pleased with the management and condition of affairs down there, and reports a very bright outlook.

More sleighs have been seen on our streets during the past few days than the writer remembers of for quite a while past—all of which is evidence that we have had some very fine sleighing and the opportunities for a ride have not been overlooked.

Quite a change in temperature occurred Tuesday night, and yesterday the weather was warm and balmy. A warm wind came up from the south which caused the snow to melt and before night sleighing on the streets was nearly a thing of the past.

Geo. B. Whorton, who spent the holidays with his family at Stockton, returned home a few days ago. Mrs. W. will not return until Spring, as her physician is of the opinion that her health would again be endangered should she return during the winter.

The ladies of the Altar Society met Saturday afternoon last at the parish house, and among other things talked up the entertainment to be given here sometime during the coming Spring or Summer. The full arrangements have not as yet been completed.

Several rabbit drives in and about Texas Flat and Lake City bottoms during the past two weeks have resulted in the killing of about 1000 of the pests. For several years the rabbits were very scarce in the valley, but they are now becoming numerous again.

Former Judge John D. Works, of Los Angeles, was elected United States senator by the California Legislature to succeed senator Frank P.

Flint for a six-year term, beginning March 1. Judge Works received 92 votes, A. G. Spalding 21 votes and John E. Raker 3, Edwin Messerve 1, and William Kent 1. Works is a reform republican, having been active in the good government movement of Los Angeles since his election to the city council of that city two years ago. All of the eleven democrats in the assembly voted for Judge Works. In the senate four voted for Works, three for Raker, and one for Kent.

Probably the largest number of sleighs seen on our streets for several years were out on Sunday afternoon last. There must have been at least ten or fifteen, and the occupants seemed to thoroughly enjoy the fine sleighing and the correspondingly fine weather.

Harry Groendyke, who is connected with the Union Pacific Railway company, with headquarters at Salt Lake City, was a visitor in town for a few days during the past week. Incidentally, he submitted third yearly proof on his desert claim before the local land office, his witnesses being Harry Utley and E. J. Stone.

Word has been received from Joe Konitzko, who left here several weeks ago, to the effect that he was now in San Francisco. On arrival there he was met by Nels Japson, a former wrestler of this place, who undertook to show him the town. Joe stated that he attended the aviation meet and was greatly surprised to see some of the maneuvers of the air men.

Some uneasiness was felt by sheep men the first of the week on account of a rumor to the effect that there had been a heavy fall of snow on the desert. It was reported that the snow was 18 inches in depth to many sections, but such did not prove to be the case. While there was some snow out there, yet it was not deep enough to endanger the sheep.

John Copburn has favored the Examiner with some literature describing the famous Wenatchee district. "The Land of Perfect Apples." Conditions there are apparently similar to those along the eastern slope of Goose Lake Valley, while the climate especially during the Fall season, when the apples are ripening and taking on their golden hue, seem to be almost identical.
