Miss Alice Blorton, of New Pine Creek, was a visitor in town for several days last week.

The barn in the rear of the Arzoo blacksmith shop has been removed to the Drenkel addition.

Mrs. E. M. Brattain has been suffering from a severe attack of neuralgia during the week.

A meeting of the Catholic Ladies' Altar Society was held this afternoon at the Parish House.

F. A. Fitzpatrick came down from Paisley last week on business before the local land office.

Some skee operators were in evidence in the north end of town on Sunday morning last.

Jerry Barry and Ralph Barnes went rabbit hunting on Saturday last, and had the usual fine luck.

Andrew Carnegie gives $20,000 to Medford with which to build a free public library building.

Henry Marer and Francisco Errea came in from the Oregon Valley dam on Saturday for supplies.

Reese Hawkins has returned from Portland and Seattle, after a several week's absence on business.

Ex-President Roosevelt will visit the Pacific Coast next Spring and will be in Oregon early in April.

Chas. Harvey, who has been driving the Chewaucan Mercantile Co.'s big team, has returned home.

Despite the low temperature, many people went rabbit hunting on Sunday last and all report fine luck.

Chas. Pollard, who has been driving team for L. B. Moss, ths morning left for his home in Portland.

Mrs. Janes Watts, of Bly, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Corey, returned home this morning.

Mrs. A. W. Orton is employed temporarily at the local land office, awaiting the arrival of a permanent clerk.

A Bargain if taken at once: Three lots in Watson's first addition. Don't let this opportunity pass. See H. W. Drenkel.

T. J. Godfrey has closed his moving picture show at Alturas and will shortly join his family in the lower country.

During the snow blockade of the N. C. O. all mail for southern and eastern points was sent out via Klamath Falls.

The deposits in the Klamath Falls postal savings bank at the end of the first week amounted to a little in excess of $100.

A poster telling of the many advantages to young men who join the Navy, is now pasted up outside the Post Office.

County Clerk Payne is now at work extending the tax roll and will probably complete the work by the middle of February.

Clinton Combs came in from the Foster Ranger Station last week, and is now detailed on duty at the local Forestry office.

The Court House clock is again in running order after being out of commission for several days during the snow storms.

Supervisor Brown, of the Fremont National Forest, has returned from a several days' trip to Paisley and the surrounding country.

Mrs. Leyva was ill for a few days last week, and was consequently unable to attend to her duties in the County Clerk's office.

Cecil Taylor, of New Pine Creek, was a visitor in town last week and while here took the examinations for admittance to High School.

Miss Nellie Kuentz, of Camas, was a visitor in town for several days last week, and while here attended the dance at the Opera House.

Harry Drenkel has returned from Stanford University, where he has been attending school since the opening of the term. He will probably not return for a time.

The Indians from Alturas made a successful rabbit drive last week down on the peninsula in the South Fork country. They killed in the neighborhood of 900 rabbits.

Guy M. Ingram came in from Flush yesterday. During his absence he has been out on the desert and states that the sheep were never in better condition at this time of year.

Word has been received from the Oregon Valley dam to the effect that the temperature there registered 11 degrees below zero on Saturday morning last. That's going some, eh?

During the past few weeks many loaves have been "smoked" down Ballard's Canyon, it being found much easier to get them into town that way, owing to the large quantity of snow.

Some very nice little memorandum books, containing maps, items of general information the world over, and other valuable information are now being sent out by Thorston, the Druggist.

Dan Godsil, janitor at the Court House, left Tuesday morning for San Francisco, where he intends to enjoy a few days vacation. Wm. Stimpf is acting for the Court House during Dan's absence.

Mrs. Mary Pierce, of Paisley, came into town last week and while here made proof on her desert claim before the local Government land office. Her witnesses were Frank DeCombes and John B. Auten.

Norman Jacobsen and John Venator went rabbit hunting on Sunday last. Both are expert hunters and fine shots, which accounts for the number of rabbits they brought back to town with them(?)

The practicability of using the wireless telegraph in connection with aeroplanes may be further tested in a flight which Aviator McCurdy was to have attempted from Key West, Florida, to Guantanamo, Cuba, Tuesday.

Jason Elder received a telephone message from Paisley on Friday last to the effect that his wife was very sick there. He immediately left, being accompanied by Supervisor Brown, of the local Forestry office.

The southern telegraph line was tied up for several days last week, and no messages whatever were sent over it. The trouble was all caused by a break in the line a short ways out from Bidwell, which was repaired on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Creed McKendree have returned after an extended trip to Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and other California cities. They came back via Klamath Falls, and thereby escaped the snow blockade on the N. C. O.

Jack Connors is in for a few days from the "desert." He reports that there is plenty of snow there, but states that the stock are not suffering any and that there has been no more than the ordinary loss of sheep during the winter season.

Mrs. M. M. Craddock came over from Klamath Falls last week to visit her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Auten. Recently little Dena Pearl daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Auten, has been quite seriously sick, and Mrs. Craddock will assist in caring for her.

Dr. J. S. Lyons, returned here on Sunday evening after a several months vacation spent with relatives in Michigan. On the way back they were tied up in the snow blockades at Sacramento and Likely, and were mighty glad to reach Lakeview again.

D. P. Malloy, a few days since, returned from Bly where he and the McAuliffe Bros. are wintering their sheep. He reports stock of all kinds doing well in that section, there being plenty of hay and the weather conditions being exceptionally good for feeding.

Some very fine coasting has been enjoyed by the young people on the hill north of the Bradley house on Water street. Large crowds could be seen there almost any night during the earlier part of the week, and the usual big bonfire furnished warmth for them all.

Good sleighing was with us again this week, and the usual large number of joy-riders turned out to welcome it. Everything from a dry goods box on runners to an up-to-date sleigh showed up for the occasion, and one seemed to be as much appreciated as the other.

Sol Chandler returned on Sunday night from Santa Barbara, Cal., where he went with his folks several weeks ago. Mr. Chandler was one of those held up last week in the snow bound train the other side of Likely, and does not wish for another experience of that kind.

Monday evening of last week an Italian named Chan made a murderous assault with a pick on Deputy Sheriff Tom Fraley in Alturas and came within an ace of killing him. Bystanders grappled with the enraged Italian and prevented him from beating Fraley to a pulp.

C. R. Seager is now at Los Angeles and writes the Examiner that he is meeting with great success in housing and plugging for Goose Lake Valley. He further states that he was greatly surprised to find so many people in Southern California who are interested in this section.

The Klamath papers chronicle the death at San Diego last week of Wm. H. Davis, stating that he formerly lived at Willow Creek, near Laird's Landing on Lower Klamath Lake. It is W. R. Davis who formerly lived at that place, and it is possible the two names are confused, as no particulars were received concerning the death of Mr. Davis. W. R. Davis is well known in Lake county, and his many friends here hope that his reported death is erroneous.

Mrs. C. D. Arthur, formerly Eva Howard, last week underwent an operation for appendicitis at San Francisco which came near proving fatal. For a time her life was despaired of, and her mother, Mrs. Joe Howard, of Drew's Valley, was called to her bedside. At last reports her condition was improving and hopes are entertained of her recovery. The many Lakeview friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur sincerely hope that her condition is not as serious as reported and that she will soon regain her usual good health.

Ewing-Foster Nuptials
Ewing, of the Forest Service, and Miss Ruby Foster were married a few days ago at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Foster, of Summer Lake. Both parties are well known throughout the county and are very popular among the younger set. The bride spent the summer in Lakeview, being employed in the Assessor's office. In common with their many friends the Examiner extends hearty congratulations.

Flour, $1.75 sack or $3.50 per 100 at Bieber's Cash Store

Enjoying Themselves
A. Bieber, who has been enjoying a well earned vacation at Alturas, returned home Tuesday. He left the Lake county colony now there with many regrets, as they are having the time of their lives. All sorts of innocent amusements are engaged in daily, and the days are all too short. Sam Cressler is said to be the kingpin when it comes to planning novelties for evening entertainments, and he has tiddle winks, crokinole and the like beaten a city block with some new inventions. Guessing contests are also quite popular, one of the conundrums remaining unsolved being as to when they would reach Reno.

GEO. WINGFIELD'S GOLD PROPERTY

Report on Valuable Holdings of Former Lakeview Boy

George Wingfield, formerly of Lakeview, is now president of the World's greatest gold property, and his report to the stockholders will prove interesting to his many Lakeview friends:

To Stockholders of the Goldfield Consolidated Mines Company:

The facilities for mining and milling with which the company has equipped itself, to which reference has been made in previous annual reports, have been justified by the record of the fiscal year ending October 31st 1910.

The property produced within the year 295,867 tons of ore of an average value of $40.72 per ton, or $10,866,732.45 gross. Metallurgical losses of 2.22 per ton, or $92,818.82, left the value realized from the year's production $10,273,934.17, or $38.50 per ton.

The gross expenses of the company, including mining, milling, transportation, general expense, restoration of mill following a disastrous fire, installation of a complete system of fire protection, taxation, and, in fact, all expense of every kind appertaining to the operations of the company during the year, were $2,962,242.36, leaving a net operating profit of $7,347,691.81, an increase of more than two and a quarter millions of dollars over the previous year.

Four dividends at 50 cents per share each, or $2 per share, were disbursed within the year, aggregating $7,118,271.00.

The company commenced the fiscal year with cash balances of $1,365,324.42 and closed the year with cash balances of $1,549,134.34 and bullion in transit and by product settlements outstanding of $194,044.50.

The company has no debts. Early in the year the capacity of the mill was increased from 650 to 850 tons per day by the installation of six Chilean mills at a cost of $75,000.

In April, 1910, a fire destroyed the refinery at the mill and other adjacent buildings including the conveyor and two stamp batteries. Within seven days of the occurrence of the fire 70 per cent of the mill resumed operations.

By July 1st the necessary reconstruction was completed and the mill resumed full operation.

The accident diminished the ore milled for the year by 25,000 tons but this was offset by high grade ore shipped to smelters.

While no predictions can be made as to how long extra dividends will be maintained, the company will continue its policy of disbursing to stockholders in dividends the net earnings of the company as they accumulate; always, however, retaining a reserve of not less than $1,000,000.00.

Change in Modoc Forest

The President has signed a proclamation eliminating 70,967 acres from the Modoc National Forest, California, and added 182,050 acres. The eliminations comprise a number of areas adjacent to the exterior boundaries of the Forest which were found upon examination either to be heavily alienated or to be not suitable for National Forest purposes on account of having no stand of timber. The largest and most important addition comprises the Hayden Hill region southeast from Big Valley and south from Adin. Another addition is made northwest from Pittsview and one south from Canby. A narrow strip of exceedingly rough country, is added to the southeastern portion of the Warner Mountains Division southwest from Middle Lake. The unappropriated portions of the lands eliminated by this proclamation will be restored to settlement and entry after they shall have been advertised by the Secretary of the Interior.
