Some very good pictures of the rabbit drive were taken on Thursday last, and are being sold about town in photo form and postal card size.

The ladies of the Catholic Altar Society held a meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lora Barry. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

A regular London fog settled in this vicinity last Friday morning, and for a time one could scarcely see a distance of more than a few yards.

A special load of express was received from Alturas on Saturday, the first from the south for several weeks, and it was certainly welcomed here.

S. H. Riley came in from his homestead on the West side last week, and like all the others from that vicinity reports an extra large number of rabbits this year.

Several people came up from Pine Creek on Saturday to attend the rabbit drive, and while here took the opportunity to attend one of our Saturday night dances.

John Wells, of Bly, has been at Grants Pass for the past several weeks receiving treatment for eye trouble, while Mrs. Wells is visiting her daughters at Seaside.

Timbers are now being sawed and work started towards the erection of a large barn in the rear of the Arzner Blacksmith shop. The work will be in charge of John Aizner.

Mrs. George Chandler returned on Friday after a visit of several weeks at Santa Barbara. She was met at Alturas by her husband, who made the trip from there with her.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shirk, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Orton, Mrs. A. E. Florence and the Misses Flynn were among those participating in the rabbit drives during the past week.

T. E. Bernard is expected soon to return from San Diego. Mrs. Bernard will not return until later, although her health has greatly improved since going to the Southern city.

Many people about town are now putting in their time sawing and splitting wood for their year's fuel supply. This is sure a healthy form of exercise, as well as a business proposition.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Dunbar have returned from their honeymoon trip, which included a several weeks' visit to Portland and vicinity. They are now residing in the Deltrich cottage on West street.

Capt. M. F. Eggleston of Ashland and member of the Legislature from Jackson County, died at Portland Friday night. The cause of his death was cerebral hemorrhage following a stroke of paralysis.

Frank Rogers has sold his sheep and some other stock to Phil Lynch and F. P. Lane, of Warner. However, Mr. Rogers expects to continue in the stock business and has no intention to quit the country.

A meeting of the Spanish-American War Veterans was held on Monday evening, and was well attended. Routine business was transacted, after which the "Vets" enjoyed a social talk until a late hour.

J. F. Hansen came up from Reno on Saturday and Sunday went out to his Point ranch. He found that Manager John Ward had everything in ship shape, and that the addition to the residence was completed.

At the council meeting Tuesday evening out little business was transacted. The dog tax is to be collected at once, and owners of canines are to be held responsible for any damage that may be done by their dogs.

Klamath Chronicle: Ross Finley came to yesterday from the Bly country and leaves for Portland this morning, where he goes to meet Mrs. Finley who has been visiting relatives and friends there for some time.

R. L. McCormick, the millionaire lumber man of Tacoma and quite well known all over the coast through his connections with the Weyerhaeuser interests, was reported Saturday as lying at the point of death at Sacramento.

During the month of January 29 timber and stone applications were made at the local U. S. land office. It would thus appear there are yet some vacant timber lands in this district if one knew just where to look for them.

Gus Schlegel, who has been taking a layoff for some time past, is now visiting the scenes of his childhood at Yreka. From there he will go to Portland and then by steamer to San Francisco, returning home about March 1.

Word has been received from Plush to the effect that Tom Sullivan, proprietor of the Plush hotel, was just recovering after a very bad attack of rheumatism. Tom has many friends here, all of whom wish him a very speedy recovery.

Frank Pratt had the misfortune to injure his right hand quite badly during the rabbit drive last Thursday, so that it was necessary to open one of the fingers. The hand is now much better, however, and no serious results are feared.

A very pleasant dance was held at the Opera house Saturday night, about forty couples being in attendance. Mr. Dunbar, the trombone player, was again on deck after several weeks absence, and the music was unusually good.

William Keppel Barry and Teddy Drislane, who have been visiting in San Francisco for some time past, returned to town on Friday. They report that business in the big city is rather quiet just now, with very little doing among the trades.

Miss Bartling, a daughter of Chas. F. Bartling, will shortly arrive from Chicago to accept a position with the local telephone company. Miss Bartling has been an operator in the "Windy City" for a number of years and is an expert in her profession.

Jim Moyulian, John Haley, Tom Lane and John Moyulian have returned from Davis Creek, where they have been employed by the N.-O. O. line. The railroad work there has been discontinued for the winter owing to the deep snow and weather conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Koozer are now occupying the Harvey cottage immediately east of the Land Office. They performed the moving stunt yesterday, and while the weather was not so warm as it usually is along in July and August, yet the day was very pleasant.

Some fine pictures of Sunday's rabbit drive are now on exhibition and are being sold at the Post office.

Despite the stormy weather during the day, Photographer Gettemy managed to get some good negatives, and the cards printed are fine souvenirs of the day's work.

A few very nice calendars were received by the local forest office last week for distribution among the service employees. The picture shown represents a logging scene, where timber has been cut and is being hauled away without destroying any of the young growth of trees.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the Methodist church, held a food sale at Wallace's store on Saturday afternoon last, and report excellent returns. Everything good in the line of cake, pastry, salads, etc., was on sale, and the ladies may well be proud of their ability in the cooking line.

Word has been received from Miss Annie Tonnigsen to the effect that she is now studying to become a trained nurse in a hospital at Boise, Idaho. Miss Tonnigsen states that she likes the work very much, and we have not the slightest doubt but what she will make good in her new profession.

Last Thursday, February 2nd, was Groundhog Day, and there is no doubt whatever but what that animal saw his shadow if he happened to saunter forth during the day. According to the old way of thinking this would naturally mean six weeks more of winter, for which we are all prepared.

Much southern and eastern mail, which had been held up by the snow blockade, was received at the Post-office during the past week, and from the joyful looks of the people as they gazed at their well-filled boxes, we have no doubt but what the news received at this late date was all the more appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Currier, of Paisley, were in Lakeview Monday night, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dick J. Wilcox. They were on their way to Corvallis to visit Mr. Currier's father, whom he had not seen for 21 years. Mr. Currier, senior, will celebrate his 54th birthday next Sunday, and is still hale and hearty.
