Among the out of town people who registered at Hotel Lakeview this week were J. H. Tannehill and E. D. Peck, of San Francisco, and J. Dubuis, of Portland.

They evidently had a fierce storm over to Klamath Tuesday night, as the stage from the west did not reach Blv until noon yesterday—nearly 18 hours late in a 60 mile drive.

The streets were crowded last Friday afternoon by the many men, women and children who had turned out to enjoy one of the best days we have had so far this winter.

Every Saturday afternoon witnesses the usual large number of nearby ranchers in town for supplies. They represent quite a little money, which of course delights the business men.

A very pleasant dance was held on Friday evening last at the George Barrington ranch, south of town. Several local people went down for the occasion and report an excellent time.

H. W. Drenkel has put up a large amount of congealed aqueous fluid at his pond in the south end of town and there should be no deficiency in the local supply during the coming summer.

On Sunday afternoon many of the local sportsmen took advantage of the few remaining days left in the duck season and went to the lake in quest of game. All report extremely good luck.

Evening services were held at the Catholic Church on Sunday and Wednesday evenings of this week, and will continue regularly on those evenings until the close of the Lenten season.

C. O. Misenner, the land man, this morning came in on the delayed Western stage. He says the storm was one of the worst he ever experienced, and they spent seven hours in one snowbank.

Clinton Combs, of the Forest Service, on Wednesday left for the Forest Station at Paisley, where he will be located during the coming summer season. He was accompanied by his wife.

Some very fine bull-head fishing is reported at the Hot Springs in the vicinity of the Heryford place north of town. One of the local fisherman is reported to have caught eighteen there on Tuesday.

Mrs. Dick J. Wilcox has been very successful in nursing a brood of young chickens during the past week. They were hatched during the extremely cold weather, but are strong and thrifty nevertheless.

Gus Schlagel is authority for the statement that Frank Struck and family are now on their way to Lakeview. Mr. Struck was formerly in the employ of J. F. Mayfield of the Goose Lake Valley market.

On Monday evening a meeting of the Spanish-American War Veterans was held, with a fair sized attendance present. Routine business was transacted after which a social time was enjoyed until a late hour.

Roy Hansker, a business man of Klamath Falls, was in Lakeview this week sizing up the situation here. He was well pleased with the outlook, and quite favorably impressed with Lakeview as a business center.

John Dubuis, of the U. S. Geological Survey, has been stationed at Adel to take measurements of the water flow in Warner Valley. Mr. Dubuis passed through Lakeview this week en route to his new station.

Ed Stephenson, the well known stockman on Sunday, came in from the Alkali Lake country where his sheep are wintering. He reports his flock as doing well and the losses so far not greater than the usual winter season.

The watch, found last week by Miss Murrie Johnson, of the Forest office, and which was advertised in the post office for several days, proved to be one that had been lost by Byron Dodson. It was returned to the owner.

W. M. Robtson was arrested Monday on a charge of burglary, having broken into a room in the Post & King lodgings and removed some of his belongings which were being held for room rent. His examination will be held tomorrow.

Many of the dogs about town are now appearing with muzzles, these being found necessary owing to the recent poisoning epidemic hereabouts. It is reported that in the neighborhood of fifteen dogs met death in this manner.

Chas. T. Powne and family, Tuesday evening returned from a visit to Warner. Mr. Powne states that Tuesday night's storm did not extend over there and that the roads in many places on the east side of the valley are dry and dusty.

Hon. H. A. Brattain came down from Paisley yesterday on a brief business visit. He states that weather conditions in his section have greatly improved recently, although reports from the desert are not altogether encouraging.

As the result of another snow blockade on the N. C. O. no southern mail was received here on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings last; the first to arrive coming in on Tuesday. The usual large crowd turned out to await its being sorted.

J. D. Venator has had his Hudson 30 thoroughly overhauled, and Sunday was out giving it a trial run. Bert Harbor was at the throttle, and the little machine surely did herself proud, for she operated better than when first put in commission.

A regular meeting of the Civic Improvement Club was held in their hall Tuesday afternoon, March 7. Arrangements were definitely made to order some athletic goods for use in the gymnasium which will be open to the young people of the town soon.

J. L. Morrow, who is well known throughout this section as "Uncle Joe", on Sunday passed through here en route from Portland and Salem to his home at Adel. He reports having an excellent time while absent, and is enjoying the best of health.

Manager Bernsey informs the Examiner that the big Drews-creek dam has now reached an elevation above the top of the tunnel outlet. The work is still progressing most satisfactorily, and Mr. Bernsey's natural, quite well pleased with the results.

A large band of horses and mules belonging to Wm. Harrey, of Lakeview, passed through town last Sunday, says the Surprise Valley Record. There were some fine animals in the bunch and they will be driven to Gerlach and shipped on the Northern Pacific.

With the advent of the railroad every town in north central Oregon is receiving great benefit along with the tillers of the soil. New stage lines are being established, new roads are being laid out, and the whole country is preparing for early development.

One of the present topics of interest locally is whether or not the water, which is soon expected to come down Bullard's Canyon, will overflow this year same as it did last spring. Several bets have been made on the subject, and we are now all waiting to see the result.

Klamath Herald: Dr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Merryman left Wednesday morning for New York City, where the doctor will take a post graduate course, when they will sail for Europe, where they will travel for several months, returning home some time in mid-summer.

The open season for ducks came to an end yesterday, but it will be lawful to kill geese until the first of April. During the past few days numerous local slmrods have been making forays upon the waterfowls which have become quite plentiful since the winter weather broke.

John Tannehill, a former well known West Sider, returned last week after an absence of a year, most of the time having been spent in a San Francisco hospital. When Mr. Tannehill left here his condition was quite serious but he has regained his health and is now strong and hearty.

John McCulley, the well known West Side rancher, was taken quite ill at his home last week and it was found necessary to bring him into town so as to be near medical attendance. He is now at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arzner, and is getting along very nicely, considering his condition.

On the 5th inst. Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, more familiarly known as "Auntie" Brown, died at her home in Lake City at an advanced age and after an illness of long duration. Mrs. Brown came to Surprise Valley years ago with her husband Wm. Brown, and settled at Lake City, where she remained until her death.

Representative Thompson Sunday evening returned after a 40-days feast of oratory and wit, interpersed with more or less wisdom, at Salem. Mr. Thompson spent several days at Klamath Falls on his return and while there made an address before the Antlers Club which received much praise. Mrs. Thompson remained at Eugene for a few weeks longer.

Several deals and near deals in real estate have been reported during the past week, and the outlook is quite favorable for numerous transactions in the realty market as soon as spring opens. F. M. Miller purchased the Guy M. Ingram residence property, paying therefor $3400. It is a bargain at the price, as it is conveniently located and the building is a modern bungalow and presents a neat appearance.

Bought New Ranch

Alturas Plaindealer: Mr. J. C. Oliver, of Lakeview, was a welcome visitor at our office this week. As will be remembered, Mr. Oliver was one of the originators of the Plaindealer, but withdrew soon after the initial number was issued to devote his time and energies to his own paper, The Lakeview Herald. Mr. Oliver informs us that he and his brother have purchased a ranch on Goose Lake in this county and will soon establish his residence here. As he is one of God's noblemen, we extend a hearty welcome, both to him and his brother.
