Steve Downs came in from the ranch last week and while here took the opportunity to attend the Saturday night dance at the Opera House.

The Woodmen of the World will give an all-night dance at the Opera House tomorrow evening, and a very large attendance is expected to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ewing, of Silver Lake, on Tuesday arrived here enroute to Portland, where Mr. Ewing has been called in connection with some business for the Forest Service.

Baseball playing has again made its appearance here, and almost any good day now the usual crowd of enthusiasts may be seen trying their ability in the vicinity of the Lakeview Hotel.

The Catholic Ladies Altar Society met on Thursday afternoon last with the Misses Flynn. The necessary business was transacted, after which a social time was enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Mae Batchelder, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis in a Modesto, Cal., hospital, is getting along nicely, and is expected to be able to leave the hospital this week.

Manager Welch, of the local telegraph office, reports that his line was sadly demoralized last week by aleet in the vicinity of Susanville. The wire was broken in no less than 500 places.

John McColley, who was brought in from his West Side ranch several days ago suffering with a very severe cold, is now feeling much improved. He is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arzner.

The office of Batchelder & Combs, the local attorneys, is now being fixed up in fine shape. When the improvements are finally completed it will be thoroughly up-to-date in every respect.

The Ladies Presbyterian Aid Society met on Thursday afternoon last at the home of Mrs. Leslie Seager. Business matters were attended to, after which refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed.

Mrs. Harriet P. Campbell, who a few months ago left Lakeview on a visit to Dallas, Texas, will extend her visit to her old home in England before returning. She expects to sail from New York about April 15.

Charles Rehart, the well known local business man, returned this week from a several months' vacation spent in the sunny south. His health is greatly improved, and he reports having had a most enjoyable vacation.

Senator Jonathan Bourne has sent the Examiner for free distribution a large number of flower and vegetable seeds. Any one desiring a package or two can obtain the same by either writing or applying in person to the Examiner office.

The new Arzner barn is now practically completed with the exception of a little shingling yet to be finished. This will be done in a few days now, and it is expected that Mr. Murphy will then take charge and conduct the stable.

Frank Maruska, who recently fled on a desert claim near Paulina marsh, was in Lakeview Saturday on his way to Lewiston, Idaho, his former home. As soon as the weather permits he with his family will start overland for his new home.

The Odd Fellows are considering the tearing down of at least a portion of their building, as it has caused more or less uneasiness for sometime past. It is possible the entire structure will be razed and a modern building erected in its place.

J. F. Mayfield has commenced the construction of a modern dwelling in the Drenkel addition. The location is a most desirable one, being directly opposite the south end of Dewey street and affording a most excellent view of that thoroughfare.

A St. Patrick's Eve party is to be given this afternoon by Mrs. C. H. McKeandree and the Misses Flynn at the McKeandree residence. It is expected that a big time will be enjoyed, as the hostesses all have the reputation of being swell entertainers.

Marie Reid, who was held as a witness against Belle Marshall, charged with violating the white slave act, died Sunday morning in a Portland hospital. When arrested here three weeks ago the Reid woman was sick, but she insisted on making the trip.

Among the out-of-town people who registered at the Hotel Lakeview during the past week were E. C.

Magna, Ed Pelletier and O. G. Morris, of Seattle; C. D. Bartrum, of Eugene; Jas. J. Paul, of Hazelton, Pa., and G. K. Harrington, of Salem.

James J. Paul a few days since arrived from Hazelton, Pa., and expects to locate in Lake county. Mr. Paul is a friend of T. J. Powell, formerly of Lakeview and reports that he is now employed in the legal department of the Bethlehem steel works.

Wm. Wallace last Saturday received word that his son Charles was compelled to enter a hospital at Sacramento to undergo an operation. For several years past he has been afflicted with a pain in his side, and it was that trouble that necessitated the operation.

The ladies of the Catholic Church are still out collecting for the coming fair and report much success all along the line. All express the greatest satisfaction over the treatment received and plans are being made at this early date to make the fair one of the best ever seen here.

The bridge across Sprague River on the Klamath-Natron line has been completed, and the end of the track is now a mile or so north of the river. The work through Williams river canyon a few miles beyond will probably delay a further extension of the line for several months.

It is reported that the various roads hereabouts are in mighty poor condition and accounts of vehicles tipping over are heard from time to time. This condition of affairs will not last long, however, as the snow is fast disappearing and when entirely gone will leave the roads hard and dry.

The arrival of the delayed mails has again swamped the subscription department of the Examiner, and "kicks" and subscriptions are now coming in together. Many new subscriptions are being received from the Middle Western States, which indicates renewed interest in this section.

Pearl Ingram, of the Forest Service, Monday came in from his station at Salt Creek on business before the local office. The snow out that way is rather deep just now, and as it was impossible to get a horse through, Pearl was obliged to make the trip to the main road on snow shoes.

Wednesday evening of last week a cougar's cry was heard from the hills east of town and Thursday a party of three local young men, all well loaded with ammunition, started out on snowshoes in quest of the beast. Nothing was seen of it, however, but the boys all vow that they will get him yet.

Next Sunday afternoon at Snider's opera house Geo. E. Keim will undertake to throw Dave Fouts twice in an hour. Fouts has the advantage in weight, but Keim counts on his swiftness to win out. A preliminary boxing contest between Jim Judge and Ralph Southstone promises to be interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. James Watson Friday last reached here from Fireball, California, and are spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hahn. It will be remembered that Mrs. Watson was formerly Miss Myrtle Hahn, of this place, and her many local friends are delighted to see her back here again.

W. M. Robison last week pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor, the charge of burglary for entering a room in the Post & King lodging house having been withdrawn. A fine of $50 was assessed, which he paid. Robison broke into the room and removed his belongings which were being held for delinquent room rent.

J. L. Alexander and J. F. Kimball, of the Weyerhaeuser Timber Co., are in Lakeview for the purpose of leasing lands to stockmen. They will remain several weeks and have their headquarters at Hotel Lakeview. Mr. Kimball is accompanied by his wife, who is a daughter of C. H. Watson, the family having resided in Lakeview a number of years ago.

The approved map of the definite location of the Oregon Trunk railway through a part of the Klamath Indian Reservation was received at the U. S. Land office Tuesday. After reaching the reservation line near the line between townships 28 and 29 in range 8, the survey runs in a straight line to a point near the southwest corner of township 31, range 8. This point is near the head of Williamson river canyon, some 15 miles distant from Klamath Agency. Presumably it parallels the Southern Pacific survey, although the latter's survey through the Reservation has not as yet been filed in the land office.
